SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1900.

WEATHER during June was of a more broken character than is usual in that month, in the early part of which hot-weather conditions as a rule still prevail, and in the latter half the south-west monsoon has become established. There was no want of rain over a great part of Bengal Proper, and even in the western districts the fall for the month is in many places above the average But the rainfall was caused by depressions which, following an exceptional course, were followed by exceptional conditions, the more noticeable of which were high temperature and an absence of rain in the western and central districts and continued heavy rainfall in the east.

Three periods of disturbed weather occurred during the month, the first of which was of the kind usual in the hot-weather months, and caused a considerable amount of rainfall over the Province, and very low temperature for several days at the beginning of the month. The depression to which this unsettled weather was due appeared to begin in Assam and moved slowly westward, the advance being shown more by the fall and recovery of temperature than by the pressure changes, which were more rapid and simultaneous.

The second disturbance was a cyclonic storm of moderate severity, which began in the south or south-east of the Bay about the beginning of the second week, and moved north-westward crossed the Orissa coast on the 12th. The centre passed the coast near False Point, and continued to move in a north-westerly direction during the day. But when in the east of the Central Provinces it recurved, and on the 14th was in Chota Nagpur, moving in an east-north-east direction Two very marked results of this change of motion appeared. The first was in the strong winds with an exceptionally rough sea, which, owing to the continued steep pressure gradient, developed over the north of the Bay; the second was the general heavy rainfall, which began over Bengal simultaneously with the change of motion, and which was most noticeable in the northern districts. As the depression moved into Assam and broke up about the 16th, westerly winds became general over the west of the Province with high temperature, but not with the usual cloudless skies and with a large excess of humidity. At the same time the monsoon current which followed the disturbance was confined to the eastern districts owing to the continued low pressure in that area.

By the end of the third week the pressure distribution had become very nearly normal over the Province: and as there was a considerable defect over the south of the Bay, conditions were less favourable for the continuance of rainfall. On the 21st the variation from the normal ranged from excess of ·1 inch in North Bengal to defect of ·05 inch in the south-east of the Bay. The low pressure over the Bay concentrated into a slight depression, which was in the north-west angle on the 23rd, and which caused the third disturbance of the month. The depression attained to no great depth, but moving north-north-eastward it remained over Bengal Proper for some days, causing unsettled weather in the eastern districts with heavy continuous rainfall, and dry hot weather in the west with westerly winds and high temperature towards the end of the month.

The rainfall being largely due to these depressions has been more irregular than in ordinary years when the usual monsoon conditions have become established during the second or third week. In the districts over which the central area of the cyclonic storm of the middle of the month passed, excess rainfall was general. These form a curved tract of country extending westwards across Orissa, northwards over Chota Nagpur, and then eastward towards the Assam hills. The second depression from the Bay in its early stage probably caused the heavy rainfall in the west of Bihar on the 23rd and 24th; and more certainly was the cause of the heavy rainfall in the eastern districts during the last week by checking the westward movement of the monsoon winds usual at that time of the year.

The parts of the Province where rainfall was most noticeably in defect are the greater part of Orissa and South-West Bengal, the northern part of North Bengal with the exception of the Darjeeling hills, and the extreme west of Bihar.

At the beginning of the month a general fall of pressure occurred, the change being rapid in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and the extreme north-east A shallow depression was shown over the central districts with faint cyclonic winds, and rain was falling in considerable quantity in Assam and the adjacent part of North Bengal. Temperature was low in the rainfall area, the greatest defect being 7° in Assam. These changes were followed by a rapid recovery of pressure on the 2nd, but rainfall extended westward, followed by the wave of low temperature, which was most marked on the 3rd, when mean defect was more than 12° at some of the central stations. The distribution of pressure was very unusual on that day owing to the continued rapid rise over the Province. The highest readings were in the west of Bihar and the lowest in Madras, excess varying from a third of an inch at Buxar and Dehri to ·02 inch in the south-west of the Bay. This abnormal distribution was of short duration in Bengal, but it was probably the cause of the formation of the low pressure area in the south-east of the Bay, which in the course of a few days developed into the cyclonic storm.

Fine settled weather prevailed over the Province and the Bay for some days after the changes referred to above. Pressure and temperature became more normal, and it was not till the 8th that the first signs of disturbed weather began in the south-east of the Bay.

On the 9th the wind was east at Diamond Island, and a diffused depression was shown to exist over the south of the Bay by the increasing indraught across the Madras and the Burma coasts. On the 10th a well-marked depression lay over the north of the Bay with a steep gradient to the south and east, but the increase of wind force was small at the Burma stations, and the strongest winds were probably to the south and south-west of the disturbed area. The depression, which was moving rapidly, was in the north-west of the Bay on the 11th, and at 8 A.M. of the 12th the centre, moving in a more westerly direction, was between False Point and Puri, and defect in the central area was ·37 inch.

Up to this time none of the coast stations reported strong winds. The average velocity at Diamond Island on the 12th was only 13 miles an hour, and at False Point and Puri it was 20 and 19 respectively.

The centre of the depression on the morning of the 13th was moving northwards towards Chota Nagpur, and continuing to move slowly it was near Purulia on the 14th. This slow movement and the continued steep gradient in the north-west of the Bay resulted in strong south-easterly winds on the Orissa coast and at Saugor Island on those days. On the 13th the average velocity was 40 miles at Puri and Gopalpur, and on the 14th it was 37 miles at Saugor Island, a high velocity, which continued unabated during the 15th, while the depression was moving eastward across Bengal.

Meanwhile the change of movement was causing important changes inland. Probably owing to the changes in the upper atmospheric currents, which accompanied or were the cause of the recurving of the depression, heavy rain was falling over the whole of the north of the Province, many stations reporting at 8 A.M. of the 14th 3 to 4 inches, and Darjeeling more than 7 inches. This heavy rainfall continued on the 15th, but ceased quickly on the depression reaching Assam. There was little or no change in the depth of the depression or the severity of the disturbance. Up till the 14th, and even on the 15th, defect in the central area was very little under a third of an inch, but on the 16th a uniform distribution of pressure was shown over Bengal, and the only remains of the depression appeared in a diffused low pressure area over Burma.

This low-pressure area continued for some days. While it was filling up, westerly winds with rapidly-increasing temperature prevailed in the western districts, and the moist current from the Bay was confined to the Burma coast, Assam, and the extreme eastern districts of Bengal.

During the interval between the disappearance of the cyclonic storm and the formation of the shallow depression in the north-west of the Bay on the 22nd or 23rd, little or no rain fell in the western districts, and only scattered showers in the centre of the Province, but in the extreme east rainfall was of daily occurrence in moderate quantity.

On the 23rd the depression was diffused over the north-west angle of the Bay with a centre near Saugor Island, but with the lowest pressure off the Ganjam coast, where winds were north-westerly. At the same time a very marked change had begun in the west of Bihar, where thunderstorms with rainfall and a large fall of temperature were becoming general and extending southward. Saran, Champaran, and Muzaffarpur districts all received general and in places heavy rainfall on that date, the heaviest being about 5 inches. On the 24th the depression was in East Bengal, with a regular system of cyclonic winds. Rainfall had become more scattered in the western districts, but in East Bengal and over the greater part of Bengal Proper very little change occurred for some days. Pressure remained low in the east, and such oscillations as occurred caused slight displacements of the area of lowest pressure with corresponding changes in the winds and further rainfall. On the 29th the depression began to fill up, but it was still fairly well defined on the 30th with defect of ·12 inch in North Bengal and an indraught of winds towards that area.

Pressure.—As the two depressions of the month had more effect on the pressure distribution in the east than in the west of the Province, the averages for the whole month are below the normal in the east, but not in Bihar and Chota Nagpur. There is also a moderate deficiency in the north of the Bay and in Orissa, but it is nowhere more than ·03 inch and at many stations below ·02 inch. The feature of the meteorology for June has been the tendency for the depressions to move towards the north-east instead of to the north-west, as in other years, from the north-west of the Bay, and the low pressure which continued in the eastern districts for some days after the depressions approached that area.

Temperature.—In the early part of the month, after the disturbed weather, which began in Assam and extended south-westward over the Province, unusually low temperature prevailed for some days. There was a second period of low temperature, while the cyclonic storm was influencing weather in Bengal during the second week. These periods of low temperature were as usual followed by corresponding periods of high temperature, most noticeable in the western districts, where rainfall was much more partial than in the east.

Maximum temperature on an average for the whole month is 1° or 2° above the normal in Orissa and the extreme east, and 2° below in the central districts. Minimum temperature is almost uniformly above the normal by small amounts, rarely more than 1°.

On an average for the large Divisions only Bihar and South-West Bengal show a small defect: the others a small excess.

Rainfall has been almost general and continuous in the east of the Province, but in the central and western districts, where it has been due to the passage of disturbances and not, as in ordinary years, to the establishment of the south-west monsoon conditions, it has been more interrupted, and in Bihar, during the latter half of the month, was much less frequent than usual. As, however, the cyclonic storm of the middle of the month caused heavy general rainfall for several days, and especially in the north of the Province, during the last two or three days of its existence, the total fall for the month on an average for the various Divisions was nowhere much below the normal. In South-West Bengal and Orissa there was defect of 16 per cent., in Chota Nagpur of 8 per cent., while in the other Divisions there was excess varying from 5 per cent. in North Bengal to 30 per cent. in Bihar.

The distribution as compared with the normal has been less regular than usual, the heavier rainfall being due to the cyclonic storm. In Bihar falls were considerably above the normal except in the extreme west. In parts of Dinajpur and Bhagalpur excess was as much as 15 inches. In the southern districts of North Bengal there was excess of 6 to 10 inches, while in the north there was defect of about 6 inches. So in East Bengal some districts received rain in excess and some in defect. South-West Bengal was the only Division in which rainfall was almost uniformly in defect, but not to any great extent. In Orissa excess falls were chiefly in the Balasore and Puri districts.

The following table gives a condensed view of the rainfall of the various Divisions of Bengal in June, and in each of the previous months of the present year, as compared with the normal values for the same periods. The figures given represent the actual falls expressed as percentages of the normal falls :—

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of June in all districts in the Province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal district rainfall as determined from the rainfall records of the past 25 years; the second column the district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in the district; the third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal as a percentage, while the fourth gives the percentage variation or the difference of column 3 from 100 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder.

CALCUTTA;
The 24th July 1900.

A. PEDLER,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

ORDERS BY THE SYNDICATE OF THE CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY.

I.—THE following Regulations for the Degrees of B. Sc. and D. Sc., having been adopted by the Senate and approved by His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, are published for general information:—

REGULATIONS.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE.

1. An examination for the degree of Bachelor of Science shall be held annually in Calcutta, and shall commence at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

2. Any undergraduate of the University may be admitted to the Examination, provided he has prosecuted, in an Institution affiliated up to the B. Sc. Standard, a regular course of study for not less than two academical years after passing the First Examination in Arts. No candidate shall be considered to have prosecuted a regular course of study unless he has attended at least 66 per cent.* of the lectures delivered in the Institution to which he belongs in each of the subjects in which he is to be examined. This percentage shall be calculated on the total number of lectures in each subject delivered in the Institution from the commencement of the academical year after the summer vacation. If a student is transferred from one Institution to another in the course of a year, the percentage of attendances in the second Institution shall be calculated on the total number of lectures in each subject delivered in that Institution after the date of the transfer certificate. If a student fails to enter an affiliated Institution before the 1st August in any year, his attendance for that year shall not, except with the special sanction of the Syndicate, be counted.

3. Every candidate shall send his application, with a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A, to the Registrar at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the Examination. If he desires to be examined for Honours, he shall state in his application the subject or subjects in which he desires to be so examined.

4. A fee of thirty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted to the examination unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar.

A candidate who fails to pass, or to present himself for examination, shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate who fails to pass may be admitted to one or more subsequent examinations for the degree of Bachelor of Science on payment of a like fee of thirty rupees on each occasion, provided he produces a certificate from the head of an Institution affiliated up to the B. Sc. Standard, showing that his name has been on the rolls of such Institution for six calendar months since the date of the last examination to which he was admitted, and that he has attended 66 per cent.* of the lectures delivered in the Institution during those six months in each of the subjects in which he is to be examined. A candidate who fails to present himself may be admitted to any one B. Sc. Examination on payment of half the fee.

5. The examination for the degree of Bachelor of Science shall be conducted by means of printed papers, and there shall be a simple practical examination in all subjects other than English and Mathematics.

6. At the examination for the degree of Bachelor of Science, every candidate shall be examined in the following subjects, for Pass or Honours, as selected:—

COMPULSORY SUBJECTS.

	PASS SUBJECTS As defined below:—	HONOUR SUBJECTS As defined below:—
I.	English	There is no Honour Course in English.
II.	Mathematics—	Mathematics—
	Statics and Dynamics ...	Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, Astronomy, Plane Analytical Geometry, Differential and Integral Calculus.
III.	Physics	Physics—a fuller course.
IV.	Chemistry	Chemistry—a fuller course.

OPTIONAL SUBJECTS.

Any two of the following:—

V.	Physiology	Physiology—a fuller course.
VI.	Botany	Botany - a fuller course.
VII.	Zoology	Zoology—a fuller course.
VIII.	Geology	Geology—a fuller course.
IX.	Mineralogy	Mineralogy—a fuller course.
X.	Mathematics—	Mathematics—
	Hydrostatics and Astronomy...	Statics, Dynamics, Hydrostatics, Astronomy, Plane Analytical Geometry, Differential and Integral Calculus.

* The Syndicate have power to make exception to this rule.

7. Honours may be taken in any two or more of the subjects selected, but candidates who wish to take Honours in Mathematics shall be required to take up the entire Honours Course in that subject, which will be considered equivalent to two ordinary subjects. A candidate may obtain the degree of B. Sc. after examination in English, Physics, Chemistry, and any two of the other subjects, provided he obtains Honours in at least three subjects (English excepted), Mathematics counting as a double subject.

8. DEFINITION OF SUBJECTS.

I.—ENGLISH.

The examination in English shall be conducted mainly as a test in composition. One paper shall be set, requiring short essays to be written on some portion of a subject in (a) Physical Science or Chemistry and (b) in one other of the optional subjects taken up by the candidate.

II & X.—MATHEMATICS.

The Pass Course shall include—

(a) Statics—

Parallelogram and triangle of forces.
Resultant of parallel forces Couples.
Moments.
Equilibrium, conditions of equilibrium of any forces acting on a particle or rigid body.
Centre of parallel forces.
Centre of gravity or centroid Friction.

Simple cases of tension of strings—
Levers; pulley; wheel and axle; inclined plane; screw.
Virtual velocities.

(b) Dynamics—

Definition and measurement of mass, force, velocity, acceleration, momentum, work and energy.
Laws of motion.
Uniform motion.

Uniformly accelerated motion—
(1) in a straight line.
(2) in a parabola.
(3) in a circle.
Simple cases of impact.
Simple harmonic motion.

(c) Hydrostatics—

The transmission and intensity of fluid pressure.
Determination of component and resultant fluid pressure in simple cases.
Centre of pressure.
Conditions of equilibrium of floating bodies.
Metacentre.
Properties of elastic fluid and determination of pressure.
Specific gravity and the methods of determining it.
Measurement of heights by the barometer.
Mixture of gases.
Description of the barometer, air-pump, common and force pumps, the diving-bell, the balloon, siphon and Bramah's press, as applications of hydrostatical principles.

The Honour Course shall include in addition to a fuller knowledge of the subjects of the Pass course—

(a) Analytical Plane Geometry—

Cartesian and polar co-ordinates.
Transformation of co-ordinates.
The straight line.
The circle.
The parabola.
The ellipse.
The hyperbola.
The general equation of the second degree.

(b) Differential Calculus—

Definition of differential co-efficients.
Differentiation of functions of a single variable.
Successive differentiation.
Taylor's and Maclaurin's theorems, and their simpler applications.
Evolution of functions which assume an indeterminate form.
Differentiation of functions and implicit functions.
Maxima and minima values of functions of one variable.
Tangents, normals, asymptotes, curvature, singular points, evolutes, involutes.
Tracing of curves.

Integral Calculus—

Integration of simple functions of a single variable.
Integration of rational fractions.
Integration by formulæ of reduction.
Determination of lengths and areas of curves

III.—PHYSICS.

The Pass Course shall include—

(a) General Ideas—

1.—Wave motion :—

Measurement of simple or harmonic wave motions.
Combination of wave motions
Resolution of complex wave motions into simple or harmonic wave motions.

2.—Potential :—

Definition of potential.
Calculation of potential in simple cases.
Determination of force from potential.
Fundamental propositions respecting lines of force, equipotential surfaces and tubes of force.

3.—Elasticity :—

Definition of elasticity.
Measurement of elasticity in the cases of solids, liquids and gases.

(b) Heat—

A more thorough acquaintance with the subject than that required for the First Examination in Arts and a greater power of working problems on heat.

(c) Light—

In this subject more difficult questions in the determination of foci, focal lengths, &c., will be required than for the First Examination in Arts

(d) Frictional Electricity—

This subject must now be taken up in connection with potential.

(e) Sound—

The laws of the production and propagation of sound determined experimentally.
Intensity, pitch and quality of sounds.
The velocity of sound in air and other media ; Doppler's principle.
Reflection and refraction of sound
Measurement of sound vibrations and wave lengths of air.
Resonance.
Interference of sound waves. Beats.
Harmonic tones ; their generation and function in sound.
Longitudinal vibration of rods and of columns of air.
Transverse vibration of strings.
Formations of Chaldni's figures.
Vibrations of tuning-forks and bells.
Nature of musical sounds.
Vocal organs of man.

(f) Dynamical Electricity—

Voltaic batteries as sources of electric currents.
Action of currents on magnetic needles. Galvanometers.
Thermo-electric currents.
Definition and measurement of electric force, conductivity, resistance and current.
Ohm's law and its simpler applications.
Laws of action of currents on currents, and their simpler applications.
Solenoids. Ampère's theory of magnetism.
Electro-magnets.
Mechanical, chemical and heating effects of currents. Electrolysis.
Induced currents ; their modes of generation and laws of action.
Ruhmkorff's coil.
Electro-magnetic currents.
Electro-magnetic machines, the more important details of the working of telegraphs.
Theories of electricity.

(g) Magnetism —

Properties of permanent and artificial magnets.
Magnetic induction.
Phenomena of terrestrial magnetism.
Determination of declination, dip and intensity of the magnetic force of the earth.
The compass needle.
Methods of magnetisation.
Determination of magnetic laws of action by the torsion balance.
Magnetic potential.

Practical Examination.—Examination in the use of Physical apparatus, with experiments in illustration of the leading principles of the subjects of examination.

The Honours Course shall include in addition to the subjects of the Pass Course—

(a) Heat—

An elementary knowledge of the principles of thermo-dynamics.

(b) Geometrical Optics—

Spherical aberration.
Dispersion.
Prismatic analysis of light.
Explanation of lines in the solar and other spectrum.
The formation of rainbows.

(c) Wave Theory of Light—

Interference of light.
Diffraction of light.
Measurement of wave lengths of light.
Colours of thin plates.
Double refraction.
Polarization of light by reflection, refraction and double refraction.
Interference of polarized light as shown by double refracting crystals.
Polariscopes.
Elliptic and circular polarization.
Rotatory polarization.

Practical Examination—

A more difficult examination of the same nature as for the Pass Course.

IV.—CHEMISTRY.

The Pass Course shall include—

(a) The following general considerations :—

Definition of Chemistry ; differences between chemical action and the action of the physical forces; simple and compound matter; different modes of chemical action; principles of chemical nomenclature ; laws of chemical combination; the atomic theory; determination of molecular and atomic weights ; symbolic notation ; a fairly complete knowledge of atomicity or quantivalence ; artiads, perissads, &c.; variations of atomicity; absolute, latent and active atomicity ; graphic notation; chemical equations ; calculation of formulæ ; compound radicals; classification of elements; relations between atomic weight and quantivalence ; physical and chemical relations of atomic weights ; specific or atomic volumes ; molecular volumes; chemical affinity; influence of pressure on chemical actions ; relations of heat to chemical affinity ; thermo-chemistry; isomerism and allotropy ; solution.

(b) A fairly complete knowledge of the modes of occurrence, methods of preparation, properties, uses and general characters of the following non-metallic elements, of their allotropic modifications and of their principal and best known compounds—

Hydrogen, fluorine, chlorine, bromine, iodine.
Oxygen (and ozone.)
Boron.
Carbon, silicon.
Nitrogen, phosphorus, arsenic.
Sulphur.

(c) A general knowledge of—

The distinction between metals and non-metals; physical properties of metals , chemical relations of metals ; alloys; acids, bases and salts; the constitution of salts; theory of normal, acid and basic salts ; general characters and general methods of preparation of compounds of metals with non-metals ; the principles of crystallography ; isomorphism , outline of the principles of qualitative analysis.

(d) A knowledge of the methods of preparation, properties and uses of the following metals and principal salts :—

Sodium, potassium, ammonium, silver.
Calcium (glass manufacture, &c.), magnesium, zinc, copper, mercury.
Gold.
Lead, tin, platinum, aluminium (porcelain, pottery, &c.).
Antimony, bismuth.
Chromium, manganese, iron.

Practial Examination—

Candidates will be tested as to their power of manipulation and in simple qualitative analysis, consisting in the detection of the more commonly occurring bases and inorganic acids in given compounds, each substance to contain not more than one Base and one Acid.

The Honour Course shall include in addition to a fuller knowledge of the subjects of the Pass Course—

Inorganic Chemistry—

(a) Study of the following elements :—

Selenium, tellurium, lithium, cæsium, rubidium, barium, strontium, the earth metals, cadmium, indium, gallium, titanium, vanadium, uranium, tungsten, molybdinum, nickel, cobalt and the platinum metals.

(b) A knowledge of the methods used in the preparation of the more important acids, salts, &c., employed in the arts and manufactures.

(c) A knowledge of metallurgical operations, such as are employed in the preparation of iron, zinc, copper, lead, tin, mercury, silver and aluminium.

Organic Chemistry—

(a) Definition of Organic Chemistry—

Constituents of organic bodies, synthesis from inorganic materials.
Sources of compounds, purification of compounds.
Determination of boiling point, melting point, and other physical properties of organic bodies.
Preparation of bodies for analysis.
Analysis of organic bodies, methods of determining empirical, molecular and structural formulæ
Detailed classification of organic bodies, homologous series.
Isomerism, including its various kinds.
Theory of organic radicals

(b) A knowledge of the methods of preparation, properties and reactions, together with the relations to one another, of a few typical bodies belonging to each of the various classes of organic compounds (excluding those belonging to the so-called aromatic series), derived from hydrocarbons containing not more than five atoms of carbon.

Practical Examination—

Candidates will have to show a fuller knowledge of manipulation. A practical knowledge of the qualitative analysis of inorganic substances will also be required. Substances will be given for analysis containing not more than two Acids and two Bases.

V.—PHYSIOLOGY.

The Pass Course shall include—

Chemical composition of Food. The quantities and kinds of Food required to balance the losses of the economy.
The several processes to which the Food is subjected in Digestion.
Absorption in general; chyliferous and lymphatic Absorption.
The Blood, its organic and chemical constitution; phenomena and mechanism of Circulation.
Respiration, its mechanical and chemical actions; effects of its supression.
Temperature of the Body; production and regulation of Animal Heat.
Secretion and Excretion; construction and operation of Secreting Apparatus. Chemical composition and amount of the Urinary, Cutaneous, and Pulmonary excretions.
Muscular and other Contractile substance; phenomena presented by acting Contractile substance.
Nutrition, Growth, and Reparation.
The mechanism of Locomotion, Voice and Speech.
Constitution and Functions of Nervous system. Distinctions of Motor and Sensory Nerves or Nerve-fibres. Phenomena presented by Nerves in action. Influence on Contractile Tissue.
Functions of Brain, Spinal Cord, and Ganglia. Sensation, Voluntary Motion, Reflex Action, Inhibitory Action, Influence of Nervous System on Heart and Blood vessels and on Secreting organs.
Organs of the Senses and their functions.
Reproductive Organs and their functions.
Changes produced in the Ovum by impregnation. Outline of the Development of the Embryo and its Envelopes Nutrition of the Fœtus. Changes which occur at Birth in the Fœtus and in the parent. Lactation.
Changes which take place with Age in the Proportions of the Body; in the Skeleton; in the Dentition and in the Reproductive apparatus.
Differences between Man and Woman other than in the Reproductive Organs.
Senile Decay.
Somatic and Molecular Death.

Practical Examination—Each candidate must be prepared (1) to examine and describe Microscopical Specimens of Animal tissues and organs; (2) to make Microscopical Preparations of Animal tissues and organs; (3) to prove his practical acquaintance with the chemistry of albumen and its allies, milk, the digestive juices and their actions, blood, urine, and glycogen. Also to show his practical acquaintance with the most important Apparatus used in studying the Physiology of muscle, nerve, the circulatory and respiratory systems and the organs of sense

The Honour Course shall include the same subject as the Pass Course, treated more fully, and the practical examination will be more thorough.

VI.—BOTANY.

The Pass Course shall include :—

(a) The morphology and histology of flowering plants; the general principles of their classification on the systems of Linnæus and De Candolle, with a detailed acquaintance with the characters of the following natural orders :—

Anonaceæ.	Malvaceæ.	Ampelideæ.
Menispermaceæ.	Sterculiaceæ	Anacardiaceæ.
Nymphæaceæ.	Tiliaceæ.	Leguminosæ.
Papaveraceæ.	Rubiaceæ	Myrtaceæ.
Cruciferæ.	Aurantiaceæ.	Combretaceæ.
Cucurbitaceæ.	Solanaceæ.	Palmeæ
Umbelliferæ.	Boragineæ.	Aroideæ.
Amarantaceæ.	Acanthaceæ	Commelynaceæ.
Compositæ.	Verbenaceæ.	Orchidaceæ.
Apocyneæ	Labiatæ.	Scitamineæ
Asclepiadaceæ.	Urticaceæ.	Cyperaceæ.
Convolvulaceæ.	Euphorbiaceæ.	Gramineæ.

(b) A general acquaintance with the morphology, histology and classification of cryptogams.
(c) Vegetable Physiology.

Practical Examination.—Each candidate must be prepared to dissect and to examine with the simple or compound Microscope, or with both, any plants or part of plants placed before him selected with reference to their typical character, as representing their respective groups, and to write descriptions of them.

The Honour Course shall include the same subjects as the Pass Course, treated more fully, and the practical examination will be more thorough.

VII.—ZOOLOGY.

The Pass Course shall include :—

(a) Embryonic development and comparative anatomy of the principal orders of animals, ordinal classification of the Animal Kingdom, and generic classification of one selected order of Vertebrata and one of Invertebrata, to be notified beforehand. The geographical distribution and habits of animals. The species of the mammals of India, omitting the micro-mammals, viz., Insectivora, Rodentia and Cheiroptera; and the Indian genera of one order of Reptilia and one of Aves, to be previously notified.
(b) Special Physiology of the Vertebrata.
(c) Special Physiology of the Invertebrata.

Practical Examination.—Candidates will be tested practically by description of the whole parts of skeletons and skulls, and by dissection of animals selected from a list to be issued by the Syndicate from time to time.

The Honour Course shall include the same subjects as the Pass Course, treated more fully, and the practical examination will be more thorough.

VIII.—GEOLOGY.

The Pass Course shall include:—

The classification, structure and formation of rocks. The evidence of past changes afforded by their present condition, and a practical acquaintance with their mineral characteristics, to be tested by specimens. The generic determination of the most characteristic fossil forms, and the indications of age and habit which they afford. A practical knowledge of fossil forms to be tested by specimens. A general knowledge of the geology of Great Britain and Western Europe, and a more detailed knowledge of the geology of India. An acquaintance with geological maps to be tested by the construction of a geological section from a given map.

Practical Examination—

Candidates will be expected to identify and describe specimens of the Principal Rocks, and of the fossils characteristic of the leading stratigraphical sub-divisions They will also be expected to draw geological maps and sections, and to explain the meaning and application of models.

The Honour Course shall include the same subjects as the Pass Course, treated more fully, and the practical Examination will be more thorough.

IX.—MINEROLOGY.

The Pass Course shall include—

(a) General characteristics of minerals.

(b) Crystallography or the structure of minerals, fundamental forms of crystals, cleavage, secondary forms, compound crystals, diamorphism, irregularities of crystals, measuring angles of crystals, massive minerals, columnar structure, lamellar and granular structure, pseudomorphous crystals.

(c) Physical properties of minerals, lustre, colour, diaphaneity, refraction and polarization, phosphorescence, electricity and magnetism, specific gravity, hardness, state of aggregation, fracture, taste, odour.

(d) Chemical properties of minerals; action of acids, &c., on minerals; blow pipe re-actions of minerals.

(e) Classification of minerals.

(f) Description and recognition of the more important minerals and rocks or mineral aggregates.

(g) Chemical composition and formulæ of minerals.

Practical Examination—

Candidates will be expected to identify specimens of well-known minerals and describe their properties.

The Honour Course shall include the same subjects as the Pass Course, treated more fully, and the practical examination will be more thorough.

9. A candidate who desires to be examined for Honours in any branch must take up, instead of the Pass subject, the corresponding honour subject. A candidate who obtains Honours in any branch will be considered to have also passed in that branch. Should a candidate not have deserved honours in any branch, the Examiners shall be authorised to declare that he has passed in that branch, if they consider that his attainments come up to the Pass Standard.

10. As soon as possible after the Examination, the Syndicate shall publish a list of the candidates who have passed, arranged in alphabetical order, together with a list of those who have obtained Honours in each branch, arranged in two divisions, both in order of merit. Each successful candidate shall receive with his degree of B. Sc. a certificate in the form entered in Appendix A.

DOCTOR IN SCIENCE.

1. An Examination for the Degree of Doctor in Science shall be held annually in Calcutta, commencing at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year.

2. Every candidate for the Degree of Doctor in Science must produce certificates to the following effect:—

(a) Of having passed the B. Sc. Examination.

(b) Of having passed the M. A. Examination in Mathematics or Natural and Physical Science, under paragraph 2 of the M. A. Regulations, at least two years previous to the date on which the D. Sc Examination is to be held

(c) Of having passed an Examination in one of the groups of subsidiary subjects defined below.

3. The subsidiary subjects referred to in paragraph 2 shall be as follows:—

(a) A short course in Mathematics.

(b) A course of applied mathematics in Heat, Electricity and Magnetism.

(c) A course of applied mathematics in Light and Sound.

(d) A short general course in Chemistry.

(e) A course of experimental physics in Heat, Electricity and Magnetism.

(f) A course of experimental physics in Light and Sound.

(g) A short general course in Zoology.

(h) A short general course in Botany.

(i) A short general course in Physiology.

4. A candidate who has passed the M. A. Examination in Natural and Physical Science as defined in paragraph 9 of the M. A. Regulations, will be allowed to take up the subsidiary subjects in the following combinations:—

(a) [Chemistry] with either (e) or (f).

(b) & (c) [Physical Science] with either (a) or (d).

(d) [Botany] with (g)

(e) [Physiology and Zoology] with (h) or (i).

(f) [Geology and Minerology] with either (d), (g) or (h).

A candidate who has passed the M. A. Examination in Mathematics will be allowed to take up either (b) or (c).

5. The limits of the subjects referred to in paragraph 3 shall be as follows: —

(a) Candidates who take up this subject will be examined in the (i) Elements of the Differential and Integral Calculus, including the easier parts of differential equations, (ii) Principles of Vector Analysis, and (iii) Principles of Dynamics. The examination will be limited to such parts of these subjects as are useful in the study of Mathematical Physics.

(b) & (c) In these subjects, candidates will not be expected to possess a higher knowledge of mathematics than what is required of candidates in the corresponding subjects for the M. A. Examination.

(d) In addition to a fuller knowledge of the subjects included under the head "Bachelor of Science," "Honours in Chemistry," the following subjects will have to be specially studied:—

A —Chemical Statics.

(i) Properties of matter in its three states of aggregation, their study from a chemical standpoint, including a knowledge of the Critical constants.

Theory of constitution of matter.

Atoms and Molecules; dimensions of Molecules; Types; atomic linking; methods of determining Atomic and Molecular weights (with special attention to recent methods).

Relations between properties of elements and their atomic weights; the Periodic Law.

Physical Mixtures; Compounds; Molecular Compounds; Capillarity; Surface-Tension of Viscosity of liquids.

Molecular refractive power and Atomic refractive equivalents.

Optically active Bodies, Saccharimetry; Stereo-chemical theories.

Connection between the Molecular structure of compounds and their Physical and Chemical properties.

B.—Chemical Kinetics.

(ii) Theories as to nature of chemical affinity and of chemical change. Specific co-efficients of affinity, and methods of their determination.

Thermo-Chemistry —A fairly complete study of Thermodynamical Laws applied to chemical actions. Influence of Mass in Chemical action.

Dissociation in gases and in solutions; recent views as to nature of solutions.

Migration and velocity of Ions. Conductivity of electrolytes.

Volume —Changes of solutions during chemical action. Diffusion. Dialysis. Electro-chemical theories.

Electrolysis detailed study including—Chemical study of Batteries and storage cells.

Magneto-optic and electro-magnetic phenomena—Chemically considered.

Influence of Light on Chemical action, Photo-Chemistry, Spectroscopy—detailed study.

(e) The course shall be the same as that for the corresponding subjects for the B. Sc. Honours Examination, with the addition of the elements of the kinetic theory of gases, but candidates shall be required to show a more extended knowledge of the methods and principles of the above branches of Physical Science.

So far as the Mathematics of the B Sc. Pass Standard are applicable, a knowledge of the mathematical treatment of the subjects will be expected, but only when such treatment is necessary for the proper elucidation of the principles involved. Candidates must, however, show expertness in the solution of numerical examples arising from the application of Physical principles to practical problems.

The practical examination shall be confined to the standard exercises, which constitute the ordinary laboratory course in the above subjects, such as, for instance, are given in Glazebrook and Shaw's text-book on Practical Physics.

(f) The course shall be the same as that for the corresponding subjects for the B. Sc. Honours Examination, but candidates shall be required to show a more extended knowledge of the Methods and Principles of the above branches of Physical Science, especially with regard to Physical Optics and the theory of wave motion.

The remarks made under heading (e) with regard to mathematical treatment apply also here.

The Practical Examination shall be confined to the standard exercises, which constitute the ordinary laboratory course in the above subjects, such as, for instance, are given in Glazebrook and Shaw's text-book on Practical Physics

(g) Two "general" papers will be set to the standard of Kirkaldy and Pollard's translation of Boas Text-book of Zoology.

One of the Papers will be on the general principles of Zoology, Phylogeny and Classification, Evolution and distribution in space and time; the other will be on animal Morphology, with a certain amount of Physiology and elementary Embryology.

The "Practical" paper will be set to the standard of Parker's Zootomy. The "practical" questions should assume that the following objects and "types" have been examined or dissected:—

Skeleton of a (large) Mammal.
Ditto ditto Bird.
Ditto ditto Crocodile.
Frog (Systematic dissection).
Fish (ditto ditto).
Prawn and Crab (Systematic dissection of Prawn). Comparison of Crab with Prawn as regards modification of appendages.
Earth-worm (dissection).
Freshwater Mussel (dissection).
Land-snail (dissection).
Fresh-water Polyp (Microscope).
Bell-Animalcule (ditto).
Amœba.

(h) A knowledge of the Morphology of the flowering plants being assumed as already acquired, this course will embrace the morphology of the flowerless plants. Special attention would be given to he Anatomy and Physiology of both the flowering and flowerless plants. Systematic botany should occupy about one-third of the time devoted to the Course. Systematic studies should embrace the history of Botany briefly: the various Systems of Classification; the distribution and evolution of types in time and space; the great alliances (or cohorts) of Natural orders; the more striking groups of Economic plants; and, lastly, a detailed study of the diagnostic characters of selection of some 20 natural orders of flowering plants.

Candidates will be expected to show a more extended study of Cryptogamic Botany; a practical knowledge of the use of the Microscope; a detailed acquaintance with the distinctive features of 50 natural orders, including the Vascular Cryptogams; and, lastly, an acquaintance with the commoner genera of five of the selected Natural orders.

Books indicating the limits of the several subjects will be recommended from time to time by the several Boards of Studies.

6. An examination in the subsidiary subjects referred to in paragraph 3 will be held annually in Calcutta at such time as the Syndicate shall determine, the date to be approximately notified in the Calendar for the year A fee of thirty rupees shall be payable by each candidate. No candidate shall be admitted to the examination unless he shall have paid this fee to the Registrar. A candidate who fails to pass or to present himself for examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee. A candidate who fails to pass may be admitted to one or more subsequent examinations on payment of a like fee of thirty rupees on each occasion. Each successful candidate shall receive a certificate setting forth the subject in which he was examined.

7. A candidate who has passed the M. A. Examination in two of the subjects included under Mathematics and Natural and Physical Science of the M. A. Regulations, shall be exempted from passing the Examination referred to in paragraph 2, clause (c).

8. Every candidate for the degree of Doctor in Science may present himself for Examination in some special branch of any one of the following subjects:—

(1) Mathematics.
(2) Chemistry.
(3) Physics.
(4) Botany.
(5) Zoology.
(6) Physiology.
(7) Geology and Mineralogy.

9. Application for permission to appear at this examination should be sent in not less than nine months before the examination, and should be accompanied by a statement of the special branch selected by the candidate. A fee of one hundred rupees shall be payable by each candidate; no application shall be received unless it is accompanied by this fee. A candidate who fails to pass or present himself for examination shall not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee.

10. As soon as possible after the last day for receiving applications, the Syndicate shall appoint a Board of Examiners for the ensuing examination.

11. The Members of the Board of Examiners thus constituted shall meet at the earliest convenient date and determine whether the special branch selected by any candidate is of sufficient width to form the entire material of his written and practical examination, and, if not, they shall select some additional branches in which they consider it advisable that the candidate should be examined, it being distinctly understood that only such branches shall be added as are intimately connected with the subject matter of the candidate's original selection.

12. Should the candidate satisfy the Examiners that his attainments are of a sufficiently high order, he shall be required to submit, after a further period of not less than six months, an original thesis dealing with part of the special branch selected by him, and if this receive the approval of the Examiners, he shall be entitled to receive the degree of Doctor in Science.

13. Any candidate under paragraph 2, who has obtained a first class in each of two Scientific subjects included under Mathematics and Natural and Physical Science of the M. A. Regulations, or who has obtained the Premchand Roychand Studentship in Scientific Subjects, shall be exempted from the Examination referred to in paragraph 11, but not from the production of the original thesis referred to in paragraph 12.

14. Every successful candidate shall receive a diploma in the form entered in Appendix A, setting forth the subject in which he was examined.

The above Regulations will come into effect at once so as to apply to all candidates sent up to the examinations for the degrees of B. Sc and D. Sc. in the year 1902 and thereafter.

II.—The following has been added to paragraph 2 of the M. A. Regulations:—

"Any candidate who has passed the B. Sc. Examination may be examined for the degree of M. A. in one or more of the following branches:—

(1) Mathematics.
(2) Natural and Physical Science."

III.—In the form of application for admission to the M. A. Examination the following additions have been made:—

(a) After the words "Bachelor of Arts" the words "(or Bachelor of Science)" have been added
(b) After the letters "B. A." have been added the words "or B. Sc."
(c) After the words "Date of graduation in Arts" the words "or Science" have been added.

IV.—The following alterations have been made in the Regulations for the first Examination in Arts:—

(a) In para. 7 of the F. A. Regulations (Calendar for 1900, p. 29) for the first nine lines, the following have been substituted:—

"At the First Examination in Arts every candidate shall be examined in the following Compulsory Subjects, and the numbers of papers in each shall be as follows:—

COMPULSORY SUBJECTS.

I.—English	Two papers.
II.—Mathematics	,,	,,
III.—A classical or other additional language besides English ...	,,	,,
IV.—Science, comprising Elementary Physics and Chemistry ...	,,	,,
V.—Either History or Logic	One paper.

Candidates may also be examined, if they so desire, in not more than one of the following Optional Subjects, and the number of papers in each shall be as follows:—

OPTIONAL SUBJECTS.

A.—Logic (for candidates who have not taken it up as a Compulsory Subject)	One paper.
B.—History (for candidates who have not taken it up as a Compulsory Subject)	,,	,,
C.—Physiology	,,	,,
D.—Sanitary Science	,,	,,

(b) In para 7 of the F. A. Regulations, line 10 for "I and II" have been substituted "I and III."

(c) In para. 7, line 22, for "III" has been substituted "II."

(d) In para. 7 of the F. A. Regulations (page 30), in the heading of subject IV, the words "of the non-metals" have been omitted, and on page 31, after sub-heading (e), the following sub-heading has been added:—

"(f) Easier parts of the Chemistry of non-metals."

(e) In para 7 of the F. A. Regulation (p. 31), for "V," have been substituted "V and B" and for "VI" have been substituted "V and A."

(f) In the form of application for F. A. candidates (pp. 82, 83, 95 and 96 of the Calendar for 1900.) in the table of particulars to be filled in by the candidate, the following have been added after the specification of the second language:—

"Name of the fifth Compulsory Subject.
Name of the Optional Subject, if any."

V.—In the Rules for the F. A. Examination (Calendar for 1900, p. 134) the following alterations have been made:—

(1) In para 1 for the last two lines, the following have been substituted:—

Saturday, Physiology, Sanitary Science and Optional Paper on Original Composition in Bengali, Hindi or Urdu. ...	Physiology from 10 A.M. to 1 P.M. Sanitary Science from 10 A.M. to 1 P.M. Optional Paper from 2 P.M. to 5 P.M.

(2) For para. 3 of the Rules, the following has been substituted:—

"3. The value of the papers shall be as follows:—English, 75 marks in each paper; Mathematics, 60 marks in each paper; Second Language, 60 marks in each paper; Physics and Chemistry, 60 marks in each paper; History, 60 marks; Logic, 60 marks; Physiology, 60 marks; Sanitary Science, 60 marks."

(3) For para. "5" the following have been substituted:—

"5. In order to pass in English, a candidate must obtain 45 marks; in Mathematics, 30 marks; in the Additional Language, 30 marks; in Physics and Chemistry, 30 marks; in History, 15 marks; in Logic, 15 marks; in Physiology, 15 marks; in Sanitary Science, 15 marks."

In order to pass the F. A. Examination, a candidate must pass in the Compulsory Subjects and must secure an aggregate of 160 marks in those subjects. Candidates obtaining 342 marks or more shall be placed in the first division, and those obtaining 257 marks or more shall be placed in the second division.

If a candidate has passed in the Compulsory Subjects and has obtained the minimum aggregate, he will be allowed to have the marks which he may obtain in the Optional Subject, provided he has passed in it, added to his aggregate marks in the Compulsory Subjects, and the total so obtained will be used in determining the division in which he will be placed and his place in such division.

In order to entitle a candidate to a special certificate in Original Composition in Bengali, Hindi or Urdu, under paragraph 8 of the F. A. Regulations, the candidate must obtain not less than 50 per cent. of the marks in the paper on Composition.

The above changes in the F. A. Regulations and in the Rules for the F. A. Examination are to come into operation at once so as to apply to all candidates sent up for the First Examination in Arts in the year 1902 and thereafter.

VI.—The following books have been prescribed as text-books for the B. Sc. Examination in 1902:—

MATHEMATICS.

(PASS COURSE.)

Subject II.—Statics and Dynamics—

Loney ... ... Elements of Statics and Dynamics.

Subject X.—Hydrostatics and Astronomy—

Greaves	...	Hydrostatics, Chapters I—VIII (omitting certain portions to be notified hereafter).
Parker	...	Elements of Astronomy (omitting Chapter XIV).

(HONOUR COURSE.)

Subjects II and X—

Loney	...	Elements of Statics and Dynamics.
Maxwell	..	Matter and Motion, Chapter III. and Articles 96 and 97 only.
Greaves	...	Hydrostatics, Chapters I—VIII (omitting certain portions to be notified hereafter).
Parker	...	Elements of Astronomy, omitting Chapter XIV.
Salmon	...	Conic Sections (6th edition), Chapters I—III, V—VIII, to the end of Article 116, and Chapters X—XIII.
Williamson ...	...	Differential Calculus (8th edition), Chapters, I—V, IX, XI—XVIII.
Edwards	...	Integral Calculus for Beginners, Chapter I—X.

VII.—The following Syllabus in Sanitary Science has been prescribed for the F. A. Examination :—

1. Introduction.—Meaning of the terms Sanitation and Hygiene. Objects in view in studying these subjects. Division into two great subjects—public health and personal health.

2. General functions of the body.—Anatomy and Physiology. Treatment of the two subjects together in a very elementary manner, so as to teach something of digestion, circulation of the blood, respiration, secretion and excretion, &c.

3. Water.—Importance of its purity. Sources—rivers, tanks, wells and their relative value. Composition. Characters and classifications of potable waters. Origin of impurities. Purification. Prevention of pollution of tanks, wells and rivers. Diseases caused by impure supply. Artificial water-supply and the different ways of effecting it. Water-works, &c.

4. Air.—Composition. Impurities. Effect of human beings, animals and plants on the air. Cubic space necessary for each person. Dangers of overcrowding. Ventilation.

5. Local conditions.—Soil, climate meteorology, sites for buildings, influence of swamps, vegetation, winds, rainfall, temperature and humidity. Diseases connected with the soil.

6. Food and diet.—Classification, uses and Physiology. Animal and vegetable food. Principles of diet. Cooking and preparation of food. Hours for meals. Effects of excess or deficiency of food. Condiments. Effects of unwholesomeness. Adulteration. Food in use in native homes. Diseases connected with food.

7. Disease.—Contagion. Epidemics. Modern ideas as to the causes of epidemic and endemic disease amongst men and animals. Bacteriology. Cholera, small-pox, plague, malaria fevers, &c. Prevention by segregation, disinfection, heat, &c.

8. Personal Hygiene—Habits, exercise, sleep, cleanliness, washing, attention to the skin and bowels. Parasites. Clothing. Effects of early marriage. Care of children. Effects of excess and intemperance; of tobacco, opium and other articles of a similar kind.

9. Waste and impurities.—Disposal of excreta, sewage and refuse. Latrines. Offensive trades. Drainage. Disposal of the dead. Diseases connected with filth.

10. Vital statistics.—Reasons why they are necessary.

11. Sanitary Inspections and Sanitary Law.—Reasons why they are necessary. Duties of the citizen as regards sanitation.

Instruction is best afforded by lectures which need not exceed 20 in number. They should be extremely practical, as well as of a popular character, and in many of the sections will necessarily be quite elementary; they should be illustrated by simple experiments and demonstrations.

VIII.—The following books are recommended to be used in studying the subject of Sanitary Science as defined by the Syllabus for the F. A. Examination:—

The Laws of Health (W. H. Corfield, M A).
Practical Domestic Hygiene (Notter and Frith).
Manual of Health Science (Wilson)

IX.—At the ensuing M. A. Examination in Botany "Sach's Text-book of Botany, translated by Bennett and Dyer," has been prescribed as an alternative text-book for "Sach's Text-book of Botany, edited by Goebel."

X.—The following book is prescribed as a text-book on model drawing for the Entrance Examination of 1901 and subsequent years:—

Owen Gibbons . ... A Guide to Model Drawing, published by John Marshall and Company, 42, Paternoster Row, London.

XI.—The following eight natural orders in Botany have been selected for the next preliminary scientific M B. and L. M. S. Examinations:—

1. Anonaceæ.
2. Rutaceæ.
3. Cucurbitaceæ.
4. Rubiaceæ
5. Solanaceæ.
6. Palmæ.
7. Scitamineæ.
8. Gramineæ.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

READ—

The Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, Nos. 146—61, dated the 20th April 1899, promulgating rules to regulate the use by other denominations of churches consecrated for the services of the Church of England.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to prescribe the following addition and amendment in the rules issued under Resolution Nos. 146—61, dated the 20th April 1899, cited in the preamble:

The following rule shall be numbered (2) (a) and inserted after the present rule (2):

"When in any military station, where there is only one church which is provided by Government and consecrated for the services of the Church of England, the Presbyterians or Wesleyans are in the majority, it shall be in the power of the Lieutenant-General of the Command, if he thinks fit, after obtaining the sanction of the Metropolitan, to declare that the principal parade service shall be conducted by the Presbyterian or Wesleyan Chaplain, as the case may be."

2. For rule (3) the following shall be substituted:

(3) The Chaplain or Minister desiring to obtain permission to use a consecrated church shall address his application to the Bishop of the Diocese whose prior consent is necessary, and at the same time inform the Chaplain of the Church of England that such application is being made

APPOINTMENTS, PROMOTIONS AND RESIGNATIONS.

No. 747.—Northern Bengal Mounted Rifles—

Second-Lieutenant Alfred Benjamin Green resigns his commission, with effect from the 1st June 1900.

Alfred Vere Smith, Gentleman, to be Second-Lieutenant, with effect from the 1st June 1900, vice Green, resigned.

P J. MAITLAND, Major-General,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

NOTIFICATION—No. 696.

The 16th July 1900.—THE following Notice of the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, received from the Government of India, in the Finance and Commerce Department, is published for general information.

F. A. SLACKE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

THE Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has appointed Mr. Henry Arthur Cooke, Mr. John C. Milligan, Mr. E. Seymour Bell, and Mr. E. H. Melville to be British Commercial Agents in Russia, Switzerland, the United States, and Central America, respectively, for an experimental period of two years.

Mr. Cooke's address is—

Malo-Znamenski per.,
House Mishin 2,
Moscow.

The head-quarters of the other Commercial Agents have been fixed at Zurich, Chicago, and Guatemala.

The business of the Agents will consist in watching and reporting on the commerce, industries, and products of special districts, and in answering inquiries on commercial subjects.

Individual firms applying for information will have to pay the prescribed fees as hereafter stated.

Communications intended for the Commercial Agents may be addressed to Her Majesty's Ambassador at St. Petersburgh or Washington, or Her Majesty's Minister at Berne or Guatemala, as the case may require, in order that the proper fee may be assessed and levied before the desired inquiry is proceeded with.

Simple inquiries can be addressed direct to the Commercial Agent, accompanied by the fee of 5s.

The following is the scale of fees to be charged by Her Majesty's Diplomatic Missions in consideration of services rendered by Commercial Agents in making inquiries for private firms :—

For ordinary inquiries	0	5	0
For inquiries involving reports as to trades or individuals	1	1	0
For extended inquiries at the discretion of the Ambassador or Minister not in any case to exceed three months	2	2	0 to	5	5	0

If journeys are undertaken the fees will be—

(1) For Agent's services per day	1	1	0
(2) „ „ for every broken day ...	0	10	6
(3) Subsistence per night	1	1	0

together with actual expenses of locomotion.

All fees above 5s. are to be prepaid.

The method employed for levying the fees will be as follows :—

In case of an inquiry addressed to the Agent which can be answered forthwith, and for which the lowest fee would be charged, he can reply at once requesting that the sum of 5s. may be sent to the Embassy or Legation. He will transmit to the Mission lists of inquiries so answered in order that the payments may be checked, and demanded if not already made.

If the fee has been sent with the inquiry, he will remit it to the Embassy or Mission.

In cases of inquiries for which fees of 1l. 1*s.* and upwards are to be charged, the Agent will forward the information to the Mission for transmission thence in exchange for the fees which may, according to circumstances, be required before the answer is given.

In cases requiring research or a journey the Agent will report to the Ambassador or Minister, who will decide whether an offer should be made to procure the information, and, if so, on what terms; or whether it should be stated that the information cannot be procured.

Revised Notice

Under Rule XX, Part I of the Revised Rules for the care and use of Government Cemeteries, as amended by Home Department Notification No. 275, dated 30th June 1899, published at page 616, Part I of the "Gazette of India" of the 1st July 1899

IT is hereby notified that the monuments over the graves No. 7 and 12 in the Dinajpur Government Cemetery, containing stone tablets with the following inscriptions, are in ruinous condition, and will be treated at the next repairs in such manner as is necessary for the maintenance of the cemetery in decent order, unless any interested person will undertake to restore them :—

"Sacred to the memory of EMELIA, wife of EDWARD MAXWELL, Esqr., Judge and Magistrate of Dinajpur, who departed this life, aged 28 years and 2 months, after a painful illness of many months, on the 26th July 1822, on board the Earl Balcarres, Indiaman, at the New Anchorage, and was buried at Kedgeree. The sanguine hopes of a husband who adored her, that the dreaded calamity would be averted by the effects of the sea air, proved vain immediately on the return of the ship, owing to the loss of her rudder and after an escape from danger.

"Also to the memory of EMELIA, aged 16 months, born 22nd September 1820; died 8th January 1822. And FRANCES, aged 1 day, born 26th November 1821; died 27th November 1821;—Daughters of EDWARD and the above EMELIA MAXWELL."

"Sacred to the memory of J. P. REYNOLDS, Esqr., late Assistant Surgeon, H. C. S., O B † 12th April 1827. Æ 31. Erected by JANE, his wife. Sempson & Co., Sets., Calcutta."

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was introduced and read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal on the 21st July, 1900, and is hereby published for information, together with a Statement of Objects and Reasons:—

A BILL

To give effect to an agreement made on the 9th December, 1899, between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

WHEREAS an agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the Schedule to this Act, was made between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, on the 9th December, 1899;

And whereas it is declared in the said agreement that the same shall be subject to sanction and authorization by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council to be thereafter passed for the purpose;

And whereas it is expedient that such sanction and authorisation should be given;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Tramways (Electric Traction) Act, 1900.

Sanction to the agreement.

2. The agreement, a copy whereof is set forth in the Schedule to this Act, is hereby sanctioned and authorized. [Cf. Ben. Act III of 1894, s. 2.]

THE SCHEDULE.

Agreement, dated 9th December, 1899, between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited.

ARTICLES of Agreement made this ninth day of December, 1899 BETWEEN THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA constituted by and under the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, of the Bengal Legislative Council, hereinafter called the Corporation, of the one part, and THE CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS COMPANY, LIMITED, a Company incorporated under the English Companies' Acts, having its registered Office at 11, Abchurch Lane, London, hereinafter called the Company, of the other part. WHEREAS, by two Concessions or Contracts the first thereof being dated the 2nd October, 1879, and made between the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta constituted by and under Act IV of 1876 of the Bengal Legislative Council of the one part and Dillwyn Parrish, Alfred Parrish and Robinson Souttar, in such Concession or Contract described and therein and hereinafter referred to as the grantees, of the other part, and the second Concession or Contract being dated the 22nd November, 1879, and made between the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of the Suburbs of Calcutta, a body created and rendered corporate by Act V of 1876 of the Bengal Legislative Council, of the one part, and the said Dillwyn Parrish, Alfred Parrish and Robinson Souttar as grantees, of the other part, which Concessions or Contracts respectively received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and were further sanctioned by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council entitled the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, the grantees, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns were authorized to construct, maintain and use, in the manner, upon the terms and subject to the conditions and provisions in the said Concessions or Contracts respectively expressed and contained, certain lines of tramway therein respectively referred to in Calcutta and the Suburbs thereof respectively, and were also entitled, subject to the conditions and provisions in the said Concessions or Contracts respectively expressed and contained, to the exclusive right of laying and constructing, maintaining and using a tramway or tramways within the limits of the Calcutta Municipality and of laying, constructing, maintaining and using a tramway or tramways within the limits of the Calcutta Suburban Municipality. AND WHEREAS the Corporation are, under and by virtue of Act II of 1888 of the Bengal Legislative Council, the successors of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta, parties of the first part to the said Concession or Contract of 2nd October, 1879, and of the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners of the Suburbs of Calcutta, party of the first part to the said Concession or Contract of the 22nd November, 1879, and the Company are the assignees of the grantees parties of the second part to the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and 22nd November, 1879, respectively. AND WHEREAS, by the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, it was agreed that in consideration of such Concession the grantees would pay rent at the several rates therein specified for the several periods in the said Concession or Contract mentioned. AND WHEREAS it was by the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, further agreed and provided that the Corporation of the town of Calcutta and their successors should have the right of purchasing the said tramways, with the plant, buildings, stores, rolling-stock and everything connected therewith, upon the expiration of twenty-one years from the commencement of the said Concession or Contract, upon declaring their intention so to do in writing not less than six months before the expiration of the said twenty-one years, and should have a renewed right of purchase at the end of every seven years after the expiration of the said twenty-one years upon similar notice being given, and the consideration for such purchase should be a cash payment of one and two-fifths of the amount of the invested capital of the said grantees or securities of the Government of India or securities the interest whereon should be guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council or debentures of the said Corporation of such amount as to produce, at the rate of interest current on such securities, 7 per cent. per annum on the amount of the said invested capital, and, if the consideration for such purchase should be given in such securities as aforesaid, the grantees should be entitled to have in addition a first mortgage of all the property, assets and profits of the tramway or tramways which should have been purchased from them. AND WHEREAS, by an agreement bearing date the 2nd day of September, 1893, and made between the Corporation of the one part and the Company of the other part, such agreement being sanctioned by Act III of 1894 of the Bengal Legislative Council, after reciting inter alia that under and by virtue of the 17th Clause of the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd day of October, 1879, the rent then payable by the said Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited, to the said Corporation of Calcutta was calculated at the rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line, it was in reference thereto agreed that the rent payable by the said Company to the Corporation from the 1st January, 1894, to the 31st December, 1900, being the end of the 21st year referred to in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, should be calculated and paid at the said rate of Rs. 3,250 per annum per mile of double line and Rs. 2,250 per annum per mile of single line anything in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, to the contrary notwithstanding, and the said agreement contained a proviso, which has since become inoperative, that a remission of Rs. 15,000 a year should be granted for 5 years with effect from 1894 subject to the condition that the dividends declared by the Company should not exceed 3½ per cent. per annum during that period. AND WHEREAS the said Company some time since proposed to the Corporation to substitute electric traction for horse-power traction heretofore employed in the working of the tramways approved of by the Corporation and constructed and maintained by the Company, and to make such alterations in the construction of the said tramways as might be necessary to render the lines suitable to the adoption of such substituted traction, to which proposal the said Corporation assented. AND WHEREAS the said Company have, with the assent of the said Corporation, already effected the necessary alteration in the construction of portions of the said tramways. AND WHEREAS the parties hereto have deemed it expedient and have mutually agreed, subject to the sanction and authorization of this agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council, that the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and of the 22nd November, 1879, and the said agreement of the 2nd September, 1893, shall be varied or modified to the extent and in the manner hereinafter appearing. NOW THESE PRESENTS WITNESS that, subject to the sanction and authorization thereof by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council to be hereafter passed for the purpose, and in consideration of the said mutual agreement and of the covenants hereinafter contained and on the part of the said Corporation and of the said Company, respectively, to be observed and performed, the Corporation do hereby covenant with the Company and its assigns, and the Company for itself and its assigns doth hereby covenant with the Corporation, in manner following, that is to say :—

1. Preparatory to the introduction of the system of electric traction hereinafter mentioned, the Company will in a good and substantial manner alter and reconstruct the several tramways in Calcutta constructed and now maintained by the Company and specified in the Schedule hereto, and all other tramways in Calcutta now maintained by the Company, other than the tramways specified in the said Schedule, by removing therefrom the rails of the pattern and weight hitherto laid and maintained by the Company in connection with and for the purposes of the system of horse-power traction at present employed in working the said tramways, and by substituting for such rails in the existing gauge rails of such pattern and weight as shall in the opinion of the Engineer to the Corporation be suitable for electric traction.

2. The Company will execute and completely finish the work of alteration and reconstruction of the said tramways, as to those specified in the Schedule hereto by the 31st December, 1899, and will execute and completely finish the work of alteration and reconstruction of the said tramways, other than those so specified in the said Schedule, with all reasonable and proper despatch.

3. The Company will, within the period of three years from the date of this agreement, introduce and provide throughout the whole of the tramways of the Company a system of electric traction by means of overhead wires and of a description approved and accepted by the Corporation, in substitution for the existing system of horse-power traction, and will within the period aforesaid furnish and fully and efficiently equip the said tramways with all plant and machinery necessary for the purpose and render the said system of electric traction so to be substituted sufficient and complete in all details as a working system, and, having so introduced and provided the said system of electric traction and so furnished and fully and efficiently equipped the said tramways, will give notice in writing of the completion of the said system to the Corporation. The said system of electric traction shall be completed to the satisfaction in all respects of the Engineer to the Corporation, and, on the Engineer to the Corporation satisfying himself that the said system of electric traction is complete, efficient and in good working order and safe for public service, and that the tramways and tramcars are in proper condition, he shall grant a certificate to that effect to the said Company, and from the date of the said certificate the said Company shall work the said system of electric traction.

4. If the Company shall not within the said period of three years from the date of this agreement complete the said system of electric traction in all details to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation, the Company shall be liable to and shall for such failure pay to the Corporation a penalty or fine of Rs. 200 for each day or part of a day until the said system of electric traction shall be completed in all details to the satisfaction of the said Engineer. The said penalty or fine shall be paid by the Company on demand therefor being made by or on behalf of the Corporation, and in the event of non-payment thereof shall be recoverable in full from the Company. If the Engineer to the Corporation shall decide that any work or thing to be done or provided under this agreement is not to his satisfaction, and the Company shall take objection to such decision as being unreasonable, the question shall be referred to and settled by arbitration in the manner provided by the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879.

5. The Corporation shall have the right of purchasing the said tramways, with the plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and everything connected therewith belonging to the Company, on the 1st January, 1931, upon declaring their intention so to purchase the same in writing not less than six calendar months before the said date, and the Corporation shall have a renewed right of purchase at the end of every seven years after the said 1st January, 1931, upon similar notice being given. The consideration for such purchase shall be a cash payment of twenty-five times the difference between the average gross annual receipts and the working expenses of the Company, which said working expenses shall inter alia include track-rent and the proper up-keep and maintenance of the said tramways, plant, machinery, buildings, and rolling-stock, and any sum payable under clause 6. The average of the gross annual receipts and the working expenses for the purposes of such purchase shall be determined by taking the average of the seven years immediately preceding the date of such purchase. Upon the expiry of the said notice the Company shall make over to the Corporation the entire tramways, plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and everything connected therewith. If the payment by the Corporation of the consideration for such purchase shall be delayed beyond the period of 30 days from the date of the expiration of the notice so to be given, the Corporation will pay to the Company interest on the amount of such consideration or such part thereof as shall be unpaid at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum from the date of the expiration of such notice until payment, but in no event shall the said consideration be allowed to remain unpaid for more than six months from the date on which the same shall become due and payable. The provisions of this clause shall be in lieu of and not in addition to any power of purchase now vested in the Corporation under the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, or either of them, or the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, or otherwise.

6. The Company will, prior to the date of the expiration of the notice to be given by the Corporation under and pursuant to the last preceding clause, well and sufficiently repair to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation such of the said tramways and of the said plant, machinery, buildings, rolling-stock and other things or such portions thereof, respectively, as shall then be in need of repair, and will place or restore the same in or to a good and serviceable order and condition, and will so make over the same to the Corporation. If default shall be made by the Company in complying with the provisions of this clause, the Corporation shall for such default, and to the extent thereof, be entitled to a deduction from the consideration for the purchase of the said tramways, plant, machinery, land, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and premises of the Company as aforesaid, the fact whether such default has occurred and the amount of such deduction to be determined by arbitration in the manner provided in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879.

7. Until such date as the Company shall have completed the said system of electric traction in all respects to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation, the Company will pay to the Corporation track-rent at the rate at which the same is now paid or may be payable by the Company under the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, and the said agreement of the 2nd September, 1893. On and from the date on which the Company shall have completed the said system of electric traction in all respects to the satisfaction of the Engineer to the Corporation, and thereafter throughout the period which shall elapse until the tramways, plant, machinery, buildings, rolling-stock, stores and premises shall be purchased by the Corporation in exercise of the liberty accorded by clause 5, the Company will pay to the Corporation the fixed track-rent of Rs. 35,000 per annum in respect of all the now-existing tramways without exception, provided that, if the working by the Company of any now-existing tramway or any portion thereof shall with the previous sanction of the Corporation be hereafter discontinued, the Company shall be entitled to a proportionate reduction of the said fixed rent in respect of the tramway or portion thereof the working whereof shall be so discontinued.

8. As from the date on which the Company shall have completed the said system of electric traction, and throughout the period which shall elapse between such date and the date of the purchase by the Corporation of the property of the Company in manner hereinbefore provided, the Company shall on all tramways the subject of this agreement provide and maintain such a full and proper daily service of tram cars running in both directions as shall in the opinion of the Chairman of the Corporation be sufficient for the requirements and convenience of the public.

9. If the Company shall in any respect fail to maintain a fit and proper daily service of tram-cars to the satisfaction of the Chairman of the Corporation, or shall in any respect fail to maintain the tramways in good and efficient order or the tram-cars in efficient condition to the satisfaction of the Engineer of the Corporation, the Chairman or the Engineer, as the case may be, shall give notice to the Company to make good any default by a date to be named in such notice, and should the Company take objection to such notice as being in any respect unreasonable the matter in question shall be referred to arbitration in the manner provided in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, and the arbitrators or their umpire shall by their or his award be empowered to direct the Company to do all works and things necessary to keep the tramways in good and efficient order or to maintain a fit and proper daily service of tram-cars or to maintain the cars in efficient condition, as the case may be, and the Company shall forthwith comply with the direction in such award within such period as shall be named therein, and, from the date of the submission to such arbitration or the date that may be fixed by the Engineer, if his decision is accepted, the Company shall, until they shall have complied with such notice or direction, be liable to pay and on demand by the Corporation shall pay the full track-rent provided for in the said Concession or Contract of the 2nd October, 1879, and shall forfeit all right to or benefit of any modification of such rent during such period.

10. And it is expressly agreed and declared that, subject to the sanction and authorization of this Agreement by an Act of the Bengal Legislative Council, the said Concessions or Contracts of the 2nd October, 1879, and the 22nd November, 1879, respectively, and the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880, Act III (B.C.) of 1894 and the Agreement of the 2nd September, 1893, shall be read and construed as extended and varied or modified by this agreement.

Shoal Sounding.

THE following Notice to Mariners issued by the Bombay Government is republished :—

Information has been received from Lieutenant Beauchamp, Commanding R. I. M. S. Lawrence, that a sounding of 8 fms. was obtained 1¼ miles S.S.W. of Nabiyu Farur, with the western extremes of the island bearing N. 7° E. and the eastern N. 43° E.

Approximate position lat. 26° 06′ N., long. 54° 26′ E.

As it does not appear from Lieutenant Beauchamp's report that any detailed examination was made of the locality where this sounding was obtained, it is possible shoaler water may exist.

All bearings are magnetic. Variation 0° 10′ E. in 1900.

AFRICA, SOUTH-EAST COAST—Delagoa Bay.

Elephant island—Alterations in Gibbon point and beacon, &c.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 350 of 1900) that information, dated 25th April 1900, has been received from Captain W. B. Fisher, H.M.S. Magicienne that the following changes have taken place in the configuration of Elephant island affecting the position of Gibbon point and beacon :—

a. Gibbon point has extended to the westward, and the small white beacon thereon is now situated about 100 yards eastward of the extremity of this extension, or S. 25° E., 2 cables from the observation spot.

Approximate position, lat. 25° 58′ 10″ S., long. 32° 54′ 20″ E.

b. A shoal, with depths of from 2¼ to 3 fathoms over it, extends to the northward from Gibbon point about three-quarters of a mile. Its northern extremity is situated with Gibbon point beacon (new position) bearing S 3° E., distant 8 cables; from discolouration of the water this shoal would now appear to form part of the Cockburn shoal.

Caution.—Considerable changes appear to have taken place in this vicinity; the Chart should therefore be used with caution, and the leading marks into port Melville given in Africa Pilot, part III, page 204, are no longer available. (Notice No. 350 of 1900.)

JAPAN—NORTHERN STRAITS.

Ice.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 323 of 1900) that information has been received through the Board of Trade that the British S.S. Ness, when on a voyage from Portland, Oregon, to Vladivostock, encountered a large quantity of field ice on 18th March 1900, off the coast of Yezo island, in approximately lat. 42° 36′ N., long. 146° 18′ E., and continued meeting ice until in lat. 42° 0′ N., long. 144° 25′ E.

It is also reported that ice in this neighbourhood was met by another steamship in February 1900 when proceeding from Vancouver to Vladivostock.

It is known that ice may be encountered during the winter months in Yezo strait, Kunashiri channel, and Yetorup strait, but this is the first time it has been reported so far from the shore. This is probably owing to the fact that few ships have hitherto made a passage from the Western ports of North America towards Tsugaru strait in the winter. It is not unlikely that ice may be quite common in this vicinity in the winter.

This Notice affects the China Sea Directory, vol. IV, 1894, pages 603, 629, 630.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE LEGAL AFFAIRS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 1805J.—D.

JUDICIAL.

Dated Darjeeling, the 9th July 1900.

READ—

The Report on the Legal Affairs of the Government of Bengal for the year 1899-1900.

Read also—

The Reports of the two previous years, and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

MR. J. PRATT officiated as Legal Remembrancer from 1st April to 8th July and again from 21st November to 26th March; Mr. F. F. Handley officiated from 17th July to 20th November. The report is submitted by Mr. B. L. Gupta, who took over charge after the close of the year.

2. The appeal preferred before the Privy Council against an appellate decree of the High Court and referred to in the Resolution of the 20th July 1899 was decided just before the close of the year, and judgment was given with costs in favour of the respondent, the Collector of Khulna. There were two other appeals in which Government was interested filed before the Privy Council during the year; one case related to a revenue assessment and the other to the possession of certain char lands.

3. The table below shows the results of Government litigation in the Civil Courts of Bengal in 1899-1900, as compared with those of the preceding year; the statements for 1897-98 were prepared on a different principle, and are therefore of no use for comparison:—

	Original suits.		Appeals— Before Lower Courts.		Before High Court.		Total.		Remarks.
	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
1. Decided in favour of Government	142	204 (a)	30	16 (c)	26	26 (e)	198	205	(a) Eight suits were governed by two judgments.
2 Decided against Government ..	75	66 (b)	16	18 (d)	5	7 (f)	96	91	(b) Seventeen suits by six judgments.
3. Compromised and withdrawn ..	48	99	5	1	5	1	58	101	(c) Six appeals by three judgments
4 Remanded			1	1	28	1	29	1	(d) Ten appeals by one judgment
5. Percentage in favour of Government	71·5	72·7	69·2	82·6	78·2	81·4	71·7	73·4	(e) Six appeals by two judgments.
									(f) Three appeals by one judgment

Excluding cases under the Land Acquisition Act, the figures are as follows:—

	Original suits.		Appeals. Before Lower Courts.		Before High Court.		Total		Remarks.
	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.	1898-99.	1899-1900.

1. Decided in favour of Government.	88	176 (a)	30	46 (c)	12	14	130	236	(a) Six suits were governed by three judgments.
2. Decided against Government	49	32 (b)	16	18 (d)	1	3	66	53	(b) Four suits by two judgments
3 Compromised and withdrawn	31	58	5	1	5		41	59	(c) Six appeals by three judgments.
4. Remanded			1	1	28		29	1	(d) Ten appeals by one judgment
5. Percentage in favour of Government.	73·3	85·2	69·2	82·6	75	88·8	72·5	81·2

The total of all cases showed a further increase, being 458 against 381 last year. The rise in the percentage of successful cases under all heads is satisfactory, especially if land acquisition cases, which are responsible for more than half of the unfavourable decisions, are excluded.

4. Of the 29 appeals before the High Court, 22 were decided in favour of Government, and 1 was compromised or withdrawn. The Legal Remembrancer gives a short account of the five cases in which Government was unsuccessful. The most important appeal affecting Government during the year was in a case in which Babu Prosunno Kumar Roy sued the Secretary of State to have certain settlement proceedings in connection with the Noabad estates in the Chittagong district set aside. This was a test case, which, if successful, would have involved the reversal of the settlement of all the Noabad estates. The decree of the District Judge in favour of Government was upheld by the High Court. In the Lower Appellate Courts the percentage of cases decided in favour of Government rose from 69·2 to 82·6. Eighteen decisions were unfavourable to Government, but 10 of these were governed by one judgment. In the Courts of the first instance, 200 cases were decided in favour of, and 75 against, Government, while 99 were compromised or withdrawn. The Legal Remembrancer points out that in the case of erroneous or irregular proceedings in the Revenue Courts, the officers concerned have no power to cancel or revise their proceedings. The law has deliberately decided that the only remedy of the aggrieved party is to be by a suit. Such are suits to alter entries in records-of-rights under the Tenancy Act; to set aside certificate proceedings, revenue sales and other similar transactions of the revenue officers; and it is creditable to their care and good judgment that the cases in which their action has been set aside are, on the whole, out of such enormous numbers, so few.

5. The result of the Court of Wards litigation during the last two years is shown below:—

	1898-99.	1899-1900.
(1) Decided in favour of the Court of Wards ...	2,439	1,904
(2) Decided against the Court of Wards ...	186	165
(3) Compromised or withdrawn	182	139
(4) Remanded	2	1
(5) Percentage decided in favour of the Court of Wards	92·91	92·02

The percentage of decisions in favour of the Court of Wards was lower than last year in the High Court and in the Courts of first instance, but in the Lower Appellate Courts it rose from 56·6 to 72. The general result was worse than in the case of Government litigation; and it has been brought to the notice of the Lieutenant-Governor that this may partly be due to the fact that in some districts great delay is allowed to occur in the filing of plaints and appeals: eventually they are often instituted at the last moment to prevent their being time-barred, and thus it is not always possible to subject them to the close scrutiny which they require. The Legal Remembrancer should insist on the papers in these cases being submitted to him in proper time, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad if he will specify in his next report any districts in which neglect of the prescribed legal precautions has resulted in the Court of Wards getting the worst of its litigation. Several districts last year did excellently, e.g.:—

Saran, winning 257 out of 276 cases.	Burdwan, winning 201 out of 226 cases.
Bankura „ 205 „ 214 „	Hazaribagh „ 72 „ 76 „

On the other hand, the results were primâ facie very far from creditable to the supervision in Khulna (18 cases lost out of 42 decided), and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to have an explanation of these figures.

6. The table below shows the amounts realised under decrees in favour of Government during the last three years:—

	1897-98.	1898-99.	1899-1900.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Brought forward from last year ...	48,057	55,284	53,423
Decreed during the year ...	33,311	18,769	14,245
Total amount due	76,368	74,053	67,668
Amount realised	21,084	20,630	15,396
Percentage of amount recovered to total amount due	27·6	27·8	22·7

Though the amount under realisation was less than last year, the percentage realised was smaller; and whereas Rs. 52,049 were spent on litigation, the total receipts realised were only Rs. 15,702. The districts of the 24-Parganas, Mymensingh, Darbhanga, Gaya and Bhagalpur show the worst results and the heaviest outstanding balances, and the Lieutenant-Governor must ask the Collectors of these districts to address themselves at once to the realisation of the sums which the Courts have decreed to the State. The general results are extremely unsatisfactory: for several years the amounts realised have been much less than those expended on litigation, and the percentage of realisations on the sums realisable has also steadily decreased. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that special attention will be given during the current year to this matter, and to the regulations on the subject in the new Civil Suit Rules.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the percentage of realisations in Court of Wards' cases also was very unsatisfactory, being 21·4 against 26·3 last year and 30·2 in 1897-98, and several District Officers have even failed to submit the returns for the estates under their charge. The Bettiah Raj, the Burdwan Raj, and the Tikari Raj Estates show the largest outstanding balances. The Lieutenant-Governor has repeatedly cautioned the Managers of Wards' Estates against embarking in litigation without first weighing the probability of recovering the claims, even if decreed. Their experiences in the realisation of decrees during the past year must bring home to them the absolute need of circumspection in this matter.

8. In November 1899, a set of revised Civil Suit Rules was approved by Government in consultation with the Legal Remembrancer, and circulated for the guidance of all subordinate officers concerned.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and to the Solicitor to Government for information.

Ordered, also, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue and to the Revenue Department of this Government for information.

Ordered, also, that a copy of the Report and of the Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE FINAL REPORT ON THE KHURDA SETTLEMENT OF 1897-98.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the July 20th 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 2547 L.R.

READ—

Letter No. 597A., dated 5th May 1900, from the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, submitting the Final Report on the Khurda Settlement of 1897-98.

THE last settlement of the Government Estate of Khurda, which had been made in 1882 by Mr. W. C. Taylor, expired in 1897, and the present re-settlement has been made by his son, Mr. J. H. Taylor. The requisite survey was begun in December 1895, settlement commenced in November 1896, and was practically complete by October 1898. The operations thus extended over rather less than three years.

2. The estate of killa Khurda was annexed by Government in 1805 as a result of the rebellion of the Raja. Its area, according to the latest survey, is 648,154 acres, of which all but 27,000 acres lie in and constitute the Khurda subdivision of the Puri district. It is held under direct management, with the following exceptions:—

(a) Two service tenures known as the khandaits of Haldia and Malipara, held on the payment of a fixed quit-rent, and the performance of certain, now nominal police duties. They each cover about 4,500 acres.

(b) One village liable to the payment of a quit-rent only, known as the tanki bahal village of Birnarsinghpur.

(c) About 68,000 acres of land, originally part of the khas mahal, but assigned in 1858 and 1863 revenue-free to the Committee of the temple of Puri in lieu of an annual payment of Rs. 23,631.

(d) Thirteen revenue-free villages covering about 5,000 acres, the origin of which has not been reported.

The survey and record of rights extended to the whole of the killa.

3. The functions of the Survey Department, which was under the direction of Mr. R. C. Ewing, consisted of the revision of the maps prepared in the previous settlement, so far as related to the area then cultivated, and the addition to it of the area since brought under cultivation. To simplify the work, subdivisions of fields were not reproduced in the present maps. The work was begun in December 1895, and proceeded so rapidly that the records were ready for attestation by the following October. The most interesting feature of the survey was the attempt to utilise the sarbarahkars as amins, an attempt which failed, as similar experiments have failed elsewhere in Bengal. In this case there was an additional reason for failure in the fact that the sarbarahkars were directly interested as a class in the suppression of information about new cultivation. It appears that the increase in cultivation since the preceding settlement was 26,579 acres in the khas mahals, whereas the sarbarahkars had only reported 11,914 acres, the worst offenders being found in Zillahs Dandimal, Kuhuri, and Banpur.

4. The main work of the settlement proper, which occupied two years, and was under the immediate direction of Mr. J. H. Taylor and the control of Mr. S. L. Maddox, was the combination of attestation with the settlement of rents. There was comparatively little case-work, but some difficulty was experienced in the proper apportionment of rent on holdings subdivided after the previous settlement, for which an analysis of the soil classification of the various fields of the original holding was necessary. The rate of rent assessed was based on that imposed at the previous settlement, an enhancement of 3 annas in the rupee being made in the rents of old cultivation, and a rate of 14 annas 10 pies per acre being imposed on new cultivation. The enhancement on the old cultivation was grounded solely on the increase in the price of crops; the assessment on the small area of new cultivation on the universally accepted rates of the country.

5. The distribution of the khas mahal lands among the various classes of tenants is shown in the accompanying table:—

* This is not the true area held khas; we must deduct 429 acres Birnarsinghpur tanki bahal, and khandaiati mahals 9,71[illegible] acres - vide paragraph 7.

† To this area should be added 5,231 acres lakhiraj bahal situated within the ambits of khas mahal villages, making a total alienated area of 77,890 acres.

The number of tenants will not agree with the number of tenancies in column 5, as a tenant may hold lands in more than one village.

The incidence of the rents now fixed for raiyati land is Re. 1-10-6 per acre. The incidence on the whole area cultivated at the time of the last settlement was Re. 1-6 per acre, and is now Re. 1-10 per acre. In addition, the raiyats pay half an anna in the rupee for road cess, an equal amount for forest privileges, and have hitherto paid 10 pies in the rupee (or $1\frac{1}{8}$ anna per acre) chaukidari tax. It would appear that these payments are light compared with those of their neighbours in the Sadar subdivision, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that the settlement has been a moderate one. It has been paid punctually and without complaint for two years. The natural advantages of the estate, consisting in a comparatively steady annual rainfall and a large area of pasturage, have, combined with a lenient assessment and fair administration, resulted in a large measure of prosperity, which will not fail to be enhanced by the advent of railway communications and the consequent access to fresh markets.

The Lieutenant-Governor has examined with interest the statements regarding under-tenancies. It is unfortunate that no statistics were compiled in the last settlement of their number and the incidence of their rent; it cannot therefore be ascertained to what extent they are increasing in number, and still less does it appear what proportion of those now found to exist originate in the prosperity of the raiyats who pay direct to Government. It is reported that there are 2,518 agricultural under-tenants, paying on an average Rs. 2-3 per acre cash rents, whilst 2,076 pay half produce rents and 2,429 pay mixed produce and cash rents, the incidence for these latter being estimated at Rs. 6-1 per acre. As there are 176,000 tenancies paying rent direct to Government, it would appear that the practice of subletting does not at present widely prevail.

There remains the third class of landless labourers, who are estimated by the Settlement Officer to number 40,000, and are believed to be gradually increasing. Unlike the ploughmen of Bihar, they are not given a small portion of the farm of their employers as part payment for their services, and to this extent their condition is inferior. But the construction of the railway provided novel forms of employment, and the facilities it affords for migration should effectually ameliorate their lot.

6. The new assessment came into force in the kist of December 1897, and was sanctioned for 15 years.

7. The cost of the present settlement was about Rs. 1,90,000, of which the survey and khanapuri required Rs. 63,277. The incidence per acre on the total area of the khas mahal was 5 annas 4 pies. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that the survey and settlement operations were both speedy and economical, and that their results have been satisfactory.

8. The final report submitted by Mr. J. H. Taylor is very full, and in addition to the usual operations connected with settlement, deals with almost every subject of importance to the welfare of the raiyat and the administration of this extensive Government estate. It represents the experience not only of Mr. Taylor, but also of his father, who was intimately acquainted with the country and its people; and it bears numerous traces of the keen interest felt by the writer in his subject. Many of the suggestions regarding irrigation, crop experiments, communications, etc., should prove of great value in the management of the estate. The Board have in paragraph 5 of their letter summarised the various questions raised and suggestions made by Mr. J. H. Taylor, and as regards the items marginally noted* it is understood that each will be dealt with separately, and where necessary Government orders obtained. With reference to item (iii) the Conservator of Forests will be consulted, while as regards item (xvi) it is open to the Commissioner, if he so thinks fit, to address Government on the subject. His Honour agrees that it is premature to discuss the procedure that should be followed in the next settlement, and is not prepared to re-open the question of the Ekhrajat lands.

*i, ii, vi, x, xii, xiii, xiv, xv, xvii, xviii, xix, xx, xxi and xxiv.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board, the value of whose opinion is enhanced by the exceptional knowledge of Orissa possessed by the Hon'ble Mr. Toynbee, in the high estimate they have formed of the ability with which these operations were conducted by the Assistant Settlement Officer, who has been lately specially promoted in recognition of his services, and his subordinates, specially Babu Jagannath Datta. To Mr. Maddox, and to the Director of Land Records, under whose guidance the work was conducted, credit is due.

Mr. R. C. Ewing's conduct of the troublesome survey was excellent. The assistance rendered to the Settlement Officers by the Forest Officer, Mr. C. C. Hatt, without which many difficulties must have arisen, and the cordial co-operation of the Subdivisional Officer, Mr. J. N. Gupta, C.S., merit the acknowledgment of the Government.

"Assistant Secretary, Board of Trade."

PROSPECTUS.

THE Exhibition, which it has been decided to hold in Glasgow in the Summer of 1901, will, it is believed, be one of the most important International Exhibitions held in Great Britain in recent years.

Her Majesty the Queen has been graciously pleased to lend her patronage to the undertaking, and His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has kindly consented to become Vice-Patron.

The undertaking has already met with hearty and widespread support among all classes, and in the list of Office-bearers will be found many of the leading Noblemen and Gentlemen of Great Britain and Ireland, as well as the civic heads of the principal towns of the United Kingdom. The Guarantee Fund now exceeds £447,000, and is still being increased.

The Exhibition will be held on the same site as that of 1888, and will be under similar control. While not following lines identical with those of the Exhibition of 1888, its attractions and success may reasonably be expected to surpass those of the former Exhibition, which was visited by over six millions of people, and left a clear surplus of £54,000. That surplus, with accumulated interest, has been supplemented by the subscriptions of private citizens to the amount of £74,346, and is being expended in the erection of Fine Art Galleries, which will form a principal part of the Exhibition building of 1901. When completed, these Galleries will have cost about £172,000.

The site, which extends to 67 acres, has been granted by the Corporation of Glasgow, and is one of exceptional beauty and convenience. It comprises the western portion of the Kelvingrove Park and the Bunhouse Grounds. The River Kelvin intersects it at various points, and the slopes of Gilmorehill, crowned by the University Buildings, constitute a dignified and appropriate boundary on the north.

The City itself lies in the centre of the great manufacturing and ship building industries of Scotland, and has a population of over three-quarters of a million. It is surrounded by densely populated districts, while Edinburgh and other large cities are within about one hour's railway journey. The tourist routes to the Western Highlands radiate from Glasgow.

The scope of the Exhibition will be wide and general. It is intended that it should present a full illustration of the Produce and Manufactures of the British Empire, its Dependencies, Dominions, and Colonies, and that an adequate representation from other countries should also be arranged. For these purposes special courts will be provided.

The Exhibition will be divided into sections, among which the following will receive particular attention, viz. :—"Fine Art History and Archæology," "Locomotion and Transport," "Electricity," "Labour-Saving Machinery," "Marine Engineering," "The Women's Section," and "Sports." The Fine Art Section will be a very special feature of the Exhibition, and will include a large and extensive Collection of Sculpture and Paintings illustrative of Fine Art of the Nineteenth Century.

Musical Entertainments, both vocal and instrumental; Lectures, scientific and otherwise; Illuminations; Sports and recreations of every kind will be provided for the enjoyment of visitors. Restaurants, Tea Rooms, and other places of refreshment will be provided in the grounds; and Postal, Telegraphic, Banking, and other facilities will be available within the buildings for the convenience of the Exhibitors and of the public.

The buildings which it is proposed to construct will cover about 13 acres, in addition to the Permanent Art Galleries, and will be erected according to plans prepared by competent architects. The ornamental flower plots, pond, and fountains of the Kelvingrove Park will be included in the Exhibition Grounds; and the Terraces in front of the University are well adapted for the effective display of electric lighting and pyrotechnic illuminations, as well as for musical promenades and other entertainments, which it is intended to provide.

The River Kelvin will be available for the Exhibition of Naval Ship-building and Life-saving Apparatus, either in motion or stationary. The reach of the river which can be utilised for this purpose has a length of 1,500 feet, a width of 90 feet, and a depth of 6 feet.

The situation of the Exhibition Buildings is specially convenient of access for Exhibitors, as, by means of the lines of rails, which will be carried into the Exhibition Grounds at more than one point, heavy goods can be delivered at a minimum cost and with the least possible amount of risk. In addition to this, the port of Glasgow offers a cheap and ready means for the delivery and re-delivery of sea-borne goods.

It is requested that all communications in regard to the Exhibition may be addressed to Mr. H. A. HEDLEY, General Manager and Acting Secretary.

REGULATIONS FOR EXHIBITORS.

1. AN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION, under the patronage of Her Majesty the Queen, will be held in Glasgow in 1901. Date

2. The Exhibition will be opened early in May, and will continue open for a period of about six months. Opening.

3. The principal objects to be exhibited are comprised in the accompanying Classification, which must not be considered to be exhaustive. Objects

4. It is not intended to issue any awards. Non competitive.

5. Charge will be made for space, except in special cases to be determined by the Exhibits and Space Committee. The charge for space inside the building will be 3s. per square foot, with a minimum charge of £5. Whatever vacant space Exhibitors require around their exhibits, beyond the usual passages, will have to be paid for. Exhibitors requiring wall-space only must mention the fact when making application, when they will be informed on what conditions it will be granted. Space in the grounds will be let on special terms to be arranged by the Committee, but in such cases plans must accompany the application, and all surface damage must be made good by the Exhibitor on removal. Payment to the extent of 25 per cent. of the amount payable must accompany all applications, and the balance must be forwarded on receipt of the notice of allotment. In no case, however, can the deposit be less than the minimum charge of £5. Exhibits will not be admitted until payment for space has been made in full. Spaces not occupied seven days previous to the opening of the Exhibition will be otherwise allotted, and all payments made in respect thereof absolutely forfeited. Exhibitors will have to pay all expenses of conveying, delivering, arranging, fixing, and removing their exhibits, and also the cost of the erection of all fixtures, screens, and counters required; and they must personally, or by a representative, superintend the transmission, reception, unpacking, installation, and (at the close of the Exhibition) the removal of their goods. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary at the expense of the Exhibitor, unless this regulation is strictly complied with. The Executive Council will not be responsible for any loss of exhibits by theft, or for any loss or damage to exhibits, from any cause whatever. Expenses to be borne by Exhibitors

6. Steam, and power from the main shafting, will be supplied to Exhibitors in the Machinery Hall by the Executive Council free of charge, and subject to special regulations. Exhibitors requiring motive power must fill up the special Application Form which has been prepared for this Section, and which will be supplied by the General Manager upon application. Exhibitors requiring counter-shafting, pulleys, belting, cables, pipes and fittings must supply these at their own expense. Motive Power.

7. Schedules of Applications for Space and for Power may be had from the General Manager, Mr. H. A. HEDLEY, 36 St. Vincent Place, Glasgow. These must be filled up and returned on or before 1st June 1900. The decision of the Exhibits and Space Committee will be notified as soon as possible after that date. Applications for Exhibits

8. The nature of the articles which it is proposed to exhibit must be fully specified in the Form of Application for Space, and no article which is not clearly described in the Application Form will be allowed in the Exhibition without the special permission of the Exhibits and Space Committee. Nature of Exhibits.

9. The Executive Council reserve the right to refuse any exhibit, without stating any reason for so doing. Right to refuse Exhibits

10. The Foreign and Colonial Commissioners or Commercial Agents appointed by the respective Governments are invited to communicate with the General Manager. The Executive Council will place at their disposal all information and plans that may be useful to them. Foreign and Colonial exhibits

11. Applicants for space from countries in which no Commissioner or Agent has been appointed will correspond directly with the General Manager. Foreign Countries

12. The Executive Council will endeavour to obtain from the various Railways, Steamship Companies, and Carriers special terms for the conveyance of Exhibitors' goods to and from the Exhibition, and these arrangements will be communicated to intending Exhibitors Railway Rates

13. All packages containing goods for Exhibition must have painted on two sides the distinctive mark number of the space must also be given. Labels for this purpose will be supplied to each Exhibitor.

The name and address of the Exhibitor, and the allotment Marks on Packages.

Marks on Forcing Packages.

14. Packages from foreign Countries must likewise have painted on two sides the distinctive mark

They must also be marked in such a way as to show distinctly Glasgow. Foreign.

the name of the Exhibitor and the country from whence they come, as well as the allotment number of the space.

Dimensions of Cases, &c.

15. No case, counter, platform, screen, or partition must (without special permission) exceed the following dimensions:—

Show Cases and Partitions	...	...	8 feet above the floor.
Counters	...	...	2 feet 6 inches above the floor.
Platforms	...	...	1 foot above the floor.

Railings and Canopies.

16. Exhibitors may erect railings around their stands, and provide canopies, subject to the approval of the General Manager; these railings and canopies, must be within the area of the space allotted. In the case of machinery in motion, it is imperative that it be sufficiently railed. Such railings must be of a uniform design, details of which will be supplied on allotment of space.

Flooring.

17. The flooring must not be altered, removed, or strengthened, except by sanction of the General Manager, and at the expense of the Exhibitor.

Obstructions.

18. Nothing must be erected, placed, or displayed by Exhibitors in such a manner as to obstruct the light, project beyond the space allotted, impede the view along the open spaces, or occasion injury or inconvenience to other Exhibitors.

Decorations.

19. In order to insure uniformity of decoration, no Exhibitor will be allowed to put up flags, banners, or other kind of decoration without the permission of the General Manager. For covering counters, screens, or partitions, a material will be elected, which may be bought by Exhibitors at the building.

Sign-boards.

20. Sign or name-boards, which require to be new and clean, and of a reasonable size, must be approved by and be placed to the satisfaction of the General Manager, and must in no case interfere with the lighting. They must be black, with gold letters. Special instructions regarding signs in the Machinery Section will be issued with the allotment letters.

Hand-bills.

21. All hand-bills, printed matter, &c., connected with exhibits, placed in or upon stands or cases, or intended for gratuitous distribution, must first receive the approval and authority of the Exhibits and Space Committee, which permission may be withdrawn at any time.

Empty Cases.

22. Cases must be unpacked immediately on arrival, and the empty cases removed by the Exhibitors or their agents. The Executive Council cannot accept any responsibility with reference to empty cases, which must be at once removed from the buildings at the expense of the Exhibitors. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the right of doing whatever may be considered necessary, at the expense of the Exhibitors, unless this rule is strictly complied with. The Executive Council will endeavour to arrange with Contractors to undertake the storage of cases at a fixed tariff, particulars of which will be intimated to Exhibitors.

Attendance.

23. Exhibitors will require to provide all necessary attendance, and to keep their stands and exhibits properly cleaned and in good order during the whole period of the Exhibition. All stands must have the covers removed by 10 A.M., and remain open till 9 P.M. The Executive Council reserve the right to impose a penalty for a breach of this Regulation, and to order the removal of any attendant whose behaviour they consider unseemly.

Transfer of space.

24. No Exhibitor will be allowed to transfer any portion of the space allotted to him, or to allow any other than his own duly-admitted exhibits to be placed thereon, except by permission of the Executive Council.

Name.

25. All goods must be exhibited in the name of the individual or firm signing the Application Form.

Selling.

26. Exhibitors will be at liberty to make the selling price of the articles exhibited, for the information of visitors, to whom they may explain their exhibits; but they must not, unless special permission in writing has been obtained from the Exhibits and Space Committee, invite or allow visitor to purchase goods for removal at the time of purchase. Orders can be taken within the Exhibition, but the goods must be delivered from establishments outside. Special regulations will, however, be made with regard to articles manufactured in the Exhibition.

27. No exhibit, or part thereof, can be removed before the close of the Exhibition, without the special permission of the Executive Council. Exhibits not removed within fifteen days after the close of the Exhibition will be warehoused at the cost and risk of the owners, and whatever may remain after three months will be sold by auction, and the proceeds applied to defray expenses. Removal.

28. No goods will be received prior to November 1900, without special permission, nor after 15th April 1901; but prior arrangements may be made for motors, boilers, or any exhibits requiring under-building. Date of Reception.

29. Special care will be required by the Executive Council, who may make special regulations, in cases where fire or gas is used by Exhibitors, and a responsible officer will be appointed to carry out the injunctions of the Council in this respect. Exhibitors will require to effect their own insurance on their exhibits. Fire Risk

30. No explosives, or any substance which, in the judgment of the Executive, are dangerous, will be admitted, but they may be represented by models. Dangerous Substances.

31. Spirits, oils, corrosive substances, and generally all substances which might spoil other articles or inconvenience the public, can only be exhibited in solid and suitable vessels. Spirits, Oils, &c.

32. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the right of examining or testing any of the exhibits. If any damage or injury shall be occasioned during the Exhibition by any exhibited machine, implement, or article, to any visitor or other person, then the Exhibitor to whom such machinery, implement, or article may belong shall be responsible for such damage or injury; and in the event of any claim being made against the Council in respect of such damage or injury then the Exhibitor shall indemnify and hold harmless the said Council from or against all actions, suits, expenses, and claims on account or in respect of any such damage or injury which may be so caused. Testing Damage caused by Exhibits.

33. No article exhibited may be copied, photographed, drawn, or reproduced in any manner, without the special permission of the Exhibitor and of the Executive Council. Photography, &c.

34. Passes to the Exhibition will be granted to Exhibitors, and to a reasonable number of attendants. If these passes be used by any but those to whom they are issued, they will be immediately cancelled. Passes.

35. The Executive Council reserve to themselves the sole right of compiling and printing a Catalogue of Exhibits, under regulations which will be duly notified. Catalogue.

36. The right to alter, amend, add to, or cancel any of these Rules, and to grant relaxation from them in individual cases, is reserved by the Executive Council. Right to alter Rules.

37. All who become Exhibitors shall be held by so doing to signify their compliance with the whole of these Regulations, together with such other Regulations as the Executive Council may issue from time to time. Rules binding

38. The Executive Council reserve the right to remove the exhibits of any one who does not conform to the Regulations. Right of Removal.

39. The Executive Council will not be responsible for loss or damage occurring from any cause whatsoever to any exhibit or other property belonging to any Exhibitor or any other person. Non-Liability.

,, *To other Exhibitors		Free.

* Exhibitors of Pumps, &c., using large quantities of water, must have storage tank to avoid waste, and cannot draw direct from the water mains.

NOTE.—Exhibitors must supply, at their own cost, any pulleys, counter-shafting, belting, cables, pipes, and fittings they may require for connecting to the mains and shafting.

The whole Exhibition will be lighted by electricity, but if Exhibitors desire additional electric lights inside their space, these will be supplied at a charge, to include wiring, fixing, and maintenance, of 30/ per 16-candle-power incandescent lamp.

It is imperative that all machinery shall be properly railed, and, for this purpose, and to insure uniformity, the Machinery Committee have selected for use a hand railing, 3 feet high, having angle brackets fixed on top of the standards to carry a 12-inch sign or name-board, which must be black, with gold letters. The design and cost at which these railings can be supplied will be sent to Exhibitors with the allotment letters.

No overhead sign-boards, or offices or partitions, can be erected without the special permission of the Machinery Committee, and they can only be permitted where they will not obstruct the view over the whole Machinery Hall

All oily waste or other inflammable substances must be removed immediately, and cannot be allowed to be stored on any exhibiting space.

The machinery will be in motion from 10 A.M. till 8 or 9 P.M., with intervals for meal hours, but the Executive Council will not hold themselves responsible for any stoppages which may occur from any cause whatsoever.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL RETURNS ON THE WORKING OF THE CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1899.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 20th July 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 2353Med.

READ—

The Annual Returns on the working of the Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal for the year 1899.

Read again—

The Triennial Report on the working of the Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal for the three years 1896, 1897, and 1898, and the Resolution recorded on it.

The detailed report on the administration of the Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal, which is prepared by the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals once in three years, was submitted last year, and he has therefore on this occasion forwarded, with brief notes, the usual annual returns showing the working of those institutions during 1899.

2. Number of Dispensaries.—The number of dispensaries open on the 31st December 1898 was 488. Twenty-nine institutions were newly established, and four were closed during the year. There were thus 513 open on the 31st December 1899. Of the 29 opened during the year, 18 were established by District Boards. The district in which most was done during the year was that of Rangpur, where seven new dispensaries were opened, and sanction obtained to the establishment of two more. In addition to the dispensaries shown on the Government list there are many institutions maintained by private charity which have hitherto not appeared on it. Arrangements are now being made to secure, as far as possible, their inclusion in the statistical returns. Notwithstanding the steady increase in the number of dispensaries the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals remarks that there are many centres and places in Bengal which are still inadequately provided with medical relief. His suggestions on the subject have been communicated to the local authorities.

3. Patients.—The total number of in-door and out-door patients treated rose from 42,086 and 2,87,759 in 1898 to 47,897 and 3,243,346, respectively, in 1899. These figures do not include 74,391 patients who were treated during the year under review by the Missionary doctors of the Ranaghat Monro Medical Mission and by the peripatetic Hospital Assistants employed on railway lines and in dispensaries opened temporarily during epidemics and fairs. Including them, the percentage of population treated was 4·65 against 4·07 in the previous year. The average daily attendance of in-patients and out-patients increased from 1,868·4 and 19,467·6 in 1898 to 1,976·5 and 22,589·7, respectively, in 1899. The attendance of in-patients has not yet returned to the position it held previous to the plague scare; but the number of out-patients is by far the largest ever recorded.

4. In view of the fact that the general mortality figure of the year 1899, though higher than that recorded in 1898, was considerably lower than in any of the four preceding years, this increase can only be attributed to the growing popularity of dispensaries. Civil Surgeons are to be congratulated on this result, and on the general improvement in their dispensaries which it indicates. A curious exception to the general increase is the considerable decline in the attendance at two dispensaries in the Murshidabad district. Considering that malarial fever was extraordinarily prevalent in this district in 1899, and that the fact was specially noticed by the Civil Surgeon in his annual Sanitary Report, it is surprising to find the decline ascribed in one of these cases to the better health of the locality.

5. Diseases treated.—As usual malarial fevers contributed the largest number of cases treated at the dispensaries, forming 18·9 per cent. of the total number of cases treated, against a percentage of 18·3 in the previous year. The increase of fever cases from 527,695 in 1898 to 623,173 in 1899 was spread over 39 districts, and is attributed to the heavy rains of the year. Next to malarial fever, diseases of the skin, of which the exact nature is not specified, show the largest number of cases, viz., 501,830 against 402,890 in the previous year. 8,583 cases of dysentery, and 87,477 of diarrhœa were treated during the year, showing an increase under both heads together of 13,943. The fact that this increase is nearly four times that of the general mortality under these heads is a special testimony to the growing popularity of the dispensaries. The number of cases of cholera rose from 6,426 to 10,638. The highest figures under the head of cholera are returned by the district of Backergunge (1,099). Next in order come Cuttack (884) and Puri (751) where a heavy mortality from that cause occurred among pilgrims during the Car festival. The Rajshahi Division also shows a large increase over the figures of the preceding year; the Pabna, Bogra, and Rajshahi districts having suffered very much from the disease during the year. The number of lepers treated was 3,042 against 2,951 in 1898, the highest figures being reported from Gaya (97), Cuttack (66), Dacca (65), Darbhanga (61), and Patna and Puri (58 each). The number of small-pox cases treated was, as usual, insignificant.

6. Surgical operations.—During the year 143,614 principal and 1,765 secondary operations were performed in dispensaries against 134,547 and 2,576, respectively, in 1898. The number of persons operated on was 142,761. Of these 136,959 were cured, 4,437 relieved, 1,009 discharged, and 230 died. The head-quarters dispensaries named in the margin have the largest record of operations. Of the more important operations 2,682 were extractions of the lens. The number of cases of lithotomy rose from 127 to 160 and of litholapaxy from 72 to 102 in 1899. Cases of ovariotomy also increased from 8 to 9, of which 7, or 77·7 per cent., were successful—a result very creditable to the operators.

8. Class and sex of patients.—The total number of females treated during the year, both as in-door and out-door patients, was 517,858 against 462,412, showing an increase of 55,446. Although this represents but a small fraction of the female population of these provinces, the advance is satisfactory. The number of males treated rose from 1,762,033 to 2,020,734, and the number of children from 655,400 to 752,651. There was an increase of 184,997 in the number of Muhammadans and of 235,790 in the number of Hindus.

9. Income.—The opening balance of the year under report, Rs. 50,078 is more than the balance shown at the close of the previous year by Rs. 5,004. The difference is explained to be due to the correction of the accounts of certain dispensaries, the closure of one institution, from which no return had been received, and to one institution having submitted its accounts for the first time during the year. The total income of the dispensaries, inclusive of the opening balance, was Rs. 10,01,879-6-3, or Rs. 87,405-13-8 in excess of that of the previous year, which is accounted for chiefly by increased contributions from municipal and other local bodies, under which heads there is an advance from Rs. 1,86,124-7-1 and Rs. 2,47,107-9-2 to Rs. 2,24,758-10 and Rs. 2,75,252-14-10, respectively. On the other hand, subscriptions from Europeans and Natives fell to Rs. 2,56,278-15, or 25·5 per cent. of the total income, from Rs. 2,58,391-4-6, or 28·2 per cent. in 1898. Government contributed Rs. 9,834-11 more than in the preceding year. The amount received as interest on investments fell by Rs. 2,873-12-10, and receipts from paying patients by Rs. 196-6-7. The amount received by the sale of securities and withdrawal of deposits was Rs. 28,983 against Rs. 23,129.

10. The attention of Government was drawn during the year to the fact that while there has been of late years a large increase in the total amount of subscriptions to charitable dispensaries, the increase has not been extended to all classes of dispensaries alike, the decline being specially marked in cases where the dispensary has been up to a certain point maintained exclusively by private subscriptions and has then been transferred to the management of a local authority. With a view to remedy this state of things and to make as clear a distinction as possible between expenditure on charitable objects and expenditure on ordinary municipal administration, instructions were issued to the local authorities that the appointment of really representative managing committees should be made the rule, and that it should be made clear, by fixing for a short period the amount contributed by the local body, that the dispensary would receive the full benefit of all charitable contributions. It is hoped that this arrangement will result in an increase of subscriptions.

11. Expenditure.—The gross expenditure on dispensaries, exclusive of the amounts invested, was Rs. 9,02,690-8-2, showing a total increase of Rs. 64,259-2-9. This increase is shared by all items of expenditure except "salaries of nursing establishment" and "diet" which show a decrease. The largest increase was under the head "paid from local sources on buildings or repairs," viz., Rs. 30,898, which is ascribed chiefly to the construction of new buildings. Establishment charges increased by Rs. 15,452 owing chiefly to the addition of new dispensaries. The cost of diet was Rs. 77,673 against Rs. 80,605, and is attributed to the cheaper rates of food-grain. The increase in the number of patients treated during the year brought about a corresponding increase in the cost of bazar and European medicines. Owing to the improvements made in many dispensaries in clothing, bedding, and furniture, miscellaneous charges increased from Rs. 67,845 to Rs 83,479. It is satisfactory to observe that after meeting all these increased charges, a sum of Rs. 29,434 was invested during the year, and the year closed with a credit balance of Rs. 69,754 against Rs. 45,074 in 1899. In dealing with operations Colonel Hendley remarks that more patients will come from a distance to be operated on if their travelling expenses are paid by the dispensary authorities; and suggests that funds should be provided by the managing committees for this purpose. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that this will be done, if at all, only in the most exceptional cases. It is most undesirable that anything should be done which has the appearance of subsidising people to accept relief of this kind; and dispensaries are, as a rule, sufficiently accessible to obviate the necessity of any such grants being made.

12. Inspection.—One hundred and ninety-five dispensaries were inspected by the Civil Surgeons four times (the minimum fixed by the Dispensary Manual) or upwards during the year as against 177 in 1898. Although the figures show improvement, the results are still far from satisfactory. Out of 55 dispensaries which had, under the orders of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, to be inspected three times during the year, there was a failure on the part of the Civil Surgeons and Civil Medical Officers to pay the prescribed number of visits in the cases of 33 dispensaries. Similarly, in the case of 51 dispensaries, for which two visits are required, there was a default in the cases of 19 dispensaries. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the attention of the Civil Surgeons and Civil Medical Officers should again be drawn to the importance of the matter. Colonel Hendley personally inspected 43 dispensaries at district head quarters, two at subdivisions, seven out-lying dispensaries, and ten Lady Dufferin and separate female hospitals. Besides these, he visited the Eden Sanitarium at Darjeeling, Hazaribagh Mission Hospital, Cuttack Protestant Orphanage, the emigration depôts at Purulia, the cholera hospitals at Barisal, Chittagong, and Puri, the lodging-houses at the latter place, and the plague camps at Goalundo and Khurda Road. He also reported on 37 police hospitals and 37 jails, three of which were visited twice. The medical schools at Dacca, Bankipore and Cuttack were also inspected by him during the year. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Colonel Hendley for the energy, industry, and ability with which he has administered the Department during the year. There are few branches of the administration in which there has been such uniform and gratifying improvement.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Manbhum.—Rainfall at Sadar 0·38, Gobindpur 1·11. Weather hot and sultry. Bhadoi crops flourishing. Transplantation of winter rice is retarded in the south-east of the district for want of rain. Cattle-disease reported from thanas Gourangdi and Raghunathpur. Fodder and water sufficient. Average price of common rice at Sadar 11½ seers and at Gobindpur 11 seers per rupee. Supply sufficient.

Singhbhum.—Rainfall 2·14. Transplantation continues. More rain is needed. Average price of rice 11 seers 5 chitaks per rupee in the district, but in Chaibassa and near the railway it is 10 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—There was general but unevenly distributed rainfall during the week, the amount being scanty in Orissa, the Burdwan Division, and Chota Nagpur. Autumn crops and sugarcane are generally promising. In Tippera, Bhagalpur, Malda, and the Rajmahal subdivision of the Sonthal Parganas some damage from excessive rain is reported. The transplantation of winter rice is proceeding, but more rain is still required in the Burdwan Division, and in the 24-Parganas, the Jamtara subdivision of the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, Manbhum, and Singhbhum. Fodder is generally sufficient. Some cattle-disease is reported, but generally the cattle are in good condition. The price of rice has risen in 23 districts, has fallen in 8, and is stationary in the rest.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

FAMINE.

Simla, the 25th July 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE INDIAN PEOPLE'S FAMINE TRUST.

No. 1616F.—Whereas application has been made to the Governor-General in Council by His Highness Saramad-i-Rajaha-i-Hindustan Raj Rajindra Sri Maharaja-dhiraj Sawai Sir Madho Singh Bahadur, G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E., Maharaja of Jaipur, the donor of the proposed Endowment Fund, that promissory notes of the Government of India to the amount of Rs. 15,00,000 be vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments appointed under the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890 (VI of 1890), for the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal (hereinafter referred to as "the Treasurer"), and that the income arising from the same be applied for the purposes of charitable relief in seasons of general distress;

And whereas the terms of the scheme of administration of the income arising from the said property were published in the Gazette of India on the 2nd day of June 1900, together with notice that an order was proposed to be made by the Governor-General in Council vesting the said property in the said Treasurer and settling the scheme for the administration of the same, and further stating that any objection to the proposed order or suggestions thereon should be transmitted in writing to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department by the 2nd day of July 1900, on which date the proposed scheme will be taken into further consideration;

And whereas the said scheme has been taken into further consideration accordingly together with all the objections and suggestions transmitted and received in the manner aforesaid;

The Governor-General in Council hereby orders that the said promissory notes of the Government of India to the amount of Rs. 15,00,000 be and the same are vested in the Treasurer aforesaid, on the terms hereinafter stated as to the application of the income of the said property, such terms having been agreed upon by the Governor-General in Council and the said Maharaja of Jaipur.

Rules for the administration of the Trust.

1. The Trust shall be known as the Indian People's Famine Trust.

2. The purpose of the Trust shall be the alleviation by grants of money or otherwise of general distress caused by failure or destruction of the crops or by any calamity of like nature either in British India or in any Native States.

3. The income of the securities so as aforesaid vested in the Treasurer and of such other securities (if any) as may at any time hereafter be in like manner so vested for the purpose of the Trust, shall be administered by a Board of Management (hereinafter referred to as "the Board"), consisting of the following persons:—

(a) Five persons appointed by the Governor-General in Council, of whom three shall be in the executive service of the Government.

(b) Five persons appointed respectively, by the Local Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and the Punjab.

(c) Two persons appointed, respectively, by the Agents to the Governor-General in Rajputana and Central India.

(d) One person appointed by His Highness the Maharaja of Jaipur for the time being.

(e) Any person becoming life-members under clause 14.

The Governor-General in Council shall also appoint the Chairman of the Board from among the members.

4. Each appointed member of the Board shall hold office during the pleasure of the authority by whom he has been appointed.

Provided that a member who is absent from India for a period exceeding eight months shall cease to be a member of the Board, but may, notwithstanding, be re-appointed thereto on a vacancy hereafter occurring. Provided also that any member may resign his place at the Board, by notice in writing, addressed to the Chairman.

5. During any vacancy in the Board the continuing members may act as if no vacancy had occurred.

6. The Chairman may convene meetings of the Board at such times and places as he may consider necessary and convenient for the transaction of business, and at all meetings four members shall form a quorum.

7. The Board shall frame bye-laws for the regulation of its proceedings, the maintenance of accounts, and the like.

8. No grant for the relief of distress shall, at any time, be made by the Board unless and until the existence of general and severe privation over a considerable area has been notified to it by the Governor-General in Council.

9. When the existence of distress has been so notified to the Board, the Board, after considering all the information regarding it which may have been transmitted by the Governor-General in Council or by the Local Government or Native State in which the distress exists, may, if it think fit, make a grant for relief.

10. Before paying over the amount of any such grant, the Board shall satisfy itself that the money granted will be expended in one or more of the following ways, viz. :—

Firstly.—In supplementing the subsistence ration of the Famine Codes by the addition of small comforts, whether of food or of clothing, for the aged or infirm, for patients in hospitals, for children and the like.

Secondly.—In providing for the maintenance of orphans.

Thirdly.—In relieving pardah nashin women and persons in distressed circumstances who, by social or caste conditions, are debarred from applying for State relief and from submitting to the ordinary tests of distress prescribed in the Famine Codes.

Fourthly.—In helping to re-establish impoverished agriculturists and others who have lost substantially the whole of their capital in the period of distress, and thereby giving them a fresh start in life.

Fifthly.—In providing for any object specially recommended to the Board by the Governor-General in Council.

11. When a grant is made for relief by the Board, the Board shall, unless otherwise authorised by the Governor-General in Council, pay over the grant for expenditure as follows:—

(1) To a Central Relief Committee, if a Central Relief Committee shall have been established for the time being to administer Famine Charitable Relief funds in all parts of India.

(2) To a Relief Committee established in the province in which distress prevails, should no Central Relief Committee have been established.

(3) If neither a Central Relief Committee nor a Provincial Relief Committee shall have been established, then to such person or persons as the Board may appoint in the locality where the distress prevails, the Board having first satisfied itself that proper arrangements for the distribution of relief through trustworthy agents have been made.

12. (1) Subject to any general or special orders which the Governor-General in Council may issue in this behalf, the Board may at its discretion invest any moneys in its possession, and not being immediately required for expenditure on relief, in or upon the securities specified in section 4 (3) of the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, and may vary and realise such investments.

(2) Any moneys so invested shall be invested in the joint names of not less than two of the members of the Board.

(3) Provided that the Board may at any time apply to the Governor-General in Council that any securities for money so held may be vested in the Treasurer on the same trusts as the original Endowment Fund and as part of the endowment.

13. The Board may accept, for the purpose of addition to the original Endowment Fund, any securities for money of the kinds specified in section 4 (3) of the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, not being of smaller amount in each case than Rs. 10,000 in face value, that may be so offered to it for acceptance by any person or persons. The Board shall notify each such donation to the Governor-General in Council, and shall jointly with the donor apply that the said securities be vested in the Treasurer on the same trusts as the original Endowment Fund and as part of the endowment.

14. Any person who thus subscribes a sum of not less than Rs. 3,00,000 shall become a life-member of the Board.

15. (1) The Board may accept from a Central or Provincial Charitable Relief Committee the unexpended balances of any moneys at the Committee's disposal which the Committee, on terminating its operations, may wish to make over to the Board for expenditure hereafter on the relief of distress. Such moneys shall not be added to the original Endowment Fund, but shall be retained by the Board in current account or temporarily invested in the manner specified in sub-clauses (1) and (2) of clause 12.

(2) Subject to any general special orders which the Governor-General in Council may issue in this behalf, the Board may similarly accept and dispose of any sums of money of less amount than Rs. 10,000 that may be presented to it from any other source.

16. The Board shall at all times conform to, and abide by, any rules relating to the administration of endowments under the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, which the Governor-General in Council, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 13 of that Act, may from time to time see fit to make: and in particular the Board shall submit abstracts of its accounts and reports on the administration of the money entrusted to it to such public servant, in such form and at such times as the Governor-General in Council may by such rules prescribe; and shall, when called upon by any public servant appointed by the Governor-General in Council to be auditor of its accounts, produce my books, papers, vouchers and documents which may appear to him to be necessary for purposes of audit.

Revised Notice

Under Rule XX, Part I of the Revised Rules for the care and use of Government Cemeteries, as amended by Home Department Notification No. 275, dated 30th June 1899, published at page 616, Part I of the "Gazette of India" of the 1st July 1899.

IT is hereby notified that the monuments over the graves No. 7 and 12 in the Dinajpur Government Cemetery, containing stone tablets with the following inscriptions, are in ruinous condition, and will be treated at the next repairs in such manner as is necessary for the maintenance of the cemetery in decent order, unless any interested person will undertake to restore them:—

"Sacred to the memory of EMELIA, wife of EDWARD MAXWELL, Esqr., Judge and Magistrate of Dinajpur, who departed this life, aged 28 years and 2 months, after a painful illness of many months, on the 26th July 1822, on board the Earl Balcarras, Indiaman, at the New Anchorage, and was buried at Kedgeree. The sanguine hopes of a husband who adored her, that the dreaded calamity would be averted by the effects of the sea air, proved vain immediately on the return of the ship, owing to the loss of her rudder and after an escape from danger.

"Also to the memory of EMELIA, aged 16 months; born 22nd September 1820; died 8th January 1822. And FRANCES, aged 1 day, born 26th November 1821; died 27th November 1821;—Daughters of EDWARD and the above EMELIA MAXWELL."

"Sacred to the memory of J. P. REYNOLDS, Esqr, late Assistant Surgeon, H. C. S., O B 12th April 1827. Æ 31. Erected by JANE, his wife. Sempson & Co., Sets, Calcutta."

Notice.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that subscription to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions of the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

THE following Weather Reports of the Bengal Meteorological Department, issued by orders of the Government of Bengal, can be supplied to the public at the prices annexed :—

1st.—Bay of Bengal and Bengal Daily Weather Report, giving meteorological observations taken at 66 stations in Bengal and on or near the coast of the Bay, with a chart and summary. This is published in connection with the Bay of Bengal Storm Signal Service. The report giving 8 A.M. observations of the day is distributed by peon in Calcutta soon after midday. Price to subscribers in Calcutta Rs. 3 per mensem, payable in advance for six months.

This report will be issued every year from 1st May to 31st October. From 1st November again the Bay of Bengal Report containing observations taken at 28 stations will be issued up to 30th April.

2nd.—A Monthly Statement of Meteorological Observations taken at 51 observing stations, and of rainfall recorded at 355 subdivisional and other stations, together with summaries of the more important features of the meteorology of the past month of the province, and of the distribution of the rainfall and its variation from the normal. Price of the Monthly Summary Rs. 2 per annum, payable in advance.

Subscriptions payable to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal, 4 Camac Street, Calcutta, for the Bay of Bengal and Bengal Daily Weather Report, and to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, for the Monthly Report.

C. LITTLE,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt of Bengal.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the reports from 1876:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 20th July, 1900:

No. 6 of 1900.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1877.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1877; It is hereby enacted as follows: XV of 1877.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Limitation Amendment Act, 1900; and

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Addition to second schedule, Act XV, 1877.

2. After No. 146 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, the following shall be inserted, namely: XV of 1877.

146 A. By or on behalf of any local authority for possession of any public street or road or any part thereof from which it has been dispossessed or of which it has discontinued the possession.	Thirty years	The date of dispossession or discontinuance.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE necessity for the present Bill has arisen in consequence of the marginally noted decision of the Hon'ble High Court of Madras. It was there held that local authorities, to whom the Crown has ceded the custodianship of public highways cannot claim, under article 149 of the second schedule appended to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, the benefit of the sixty years' rule applicable to suits instituted by, or on behalf of, the Secretary of State for India in Council. Inquiry from the various Local Governments has elicited a substantial consensus of opinion that, more especially in connection with encroachment upon highways, the position of the Crown and of local authorities as defined in section 3 (28) of the General Clauses Act, 1897, towards the immoveable property entrusted to them is similar though not identical. While the difficulty of detecting gradual and insidious encroachments is in both cases greater than that experienced by a private individual, the highways supervised by a local authority ordinarily lie in a narrower compass, and are consequently more easily controlled, than the wide and often unoccupied areas forming portion of the Crown-lands. Under these circumstances, a preponderating opinion has been expressed in favour of extending the period of limitation, from twelve years as enjoyed by private individuals, to thirty in the case of a local authority.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 20th July, 1900:

NO. 7 OF 1900.

A Bill to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891; It is hereby enacted as follows:

XVIII of 1891.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1900; and

Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. For the definition of "company" contained in section 2, sub-section (1), of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely:

Amended definition of "company".

"(1) 'company' means a company registered under any of the enactments relating to companies for the time being in force in the United Kingdom or any of the Colonies or Dependencies thereof or in British India or incorporated by an Act of Parliament or of the Governor General in Council, or by Royal Charter or Letters Patent;."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE necessity for the present Bill was suggested by the marginally noted ruling of the Hon'ble High Court of Calcutta, to which the attention of the Government of India was directed by the Hon'ble the Advocate General of Bengal, and by a memorial of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. It was held by the Full Bench that, under the terms of the definition of "company" in section 2 (1) of the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891 (XVIII of 1891), the Calcutta branches of banking companies registered under enactments in force in the United Kingdom or in foreign countries were not entitled to statutory privileges in regard to proving the contents of bankers' books. The Bill proposes to extend those privileges to companies registered under enactments in force in the United Kingdom or in any of its colonies or dependencies; but, in the case of companies registered under foreign enactments only, the Government of India are of opinion that the discretionary power conferred by section 3 of the Act of 1891 upon Local Governments still provides the most convenient procedure.

The Empress v. Patrick McGuire, Full Bench reference decided on the 5th March, 1900.

The 13th July, 1900.

AUSTRALIA, SOUTH—Spencer Gulf, western approach.

A heavy break, S. S. W. from Liguanea island.

The President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 5 of 1900) that the Master of the ketch Sea Flower reports having observed a heavy break S. S. W. from Liguanea Island (approximate latitude 35° 13′ S., longitude 135° 30′ E).

There was a heavy ground swell at the time, and the break occurred every five or six minutes.

The danger above referred to is in the track of vessels trading between South Australia and Western Australia, and until a further examination of the locality can be made a careful lookout should be kept by masters of vessels in the vicinity.

This affects Admiralty Chart No. 1061.

PERSIAN GULF—NABIYU FARUR.

Shoal Sounding.

THE following Notice to Mariners issued by the Bombay Government is republished :—

Information has been received from Lieutenant Beauchamp, Commanding R. I. M. S. Lawrence, that a sounding of 8 fms. was obtained 1¼ miles S.S.W. of Nabiyu Farur, with the western extremes of the island bearing N. 7° E. and the eastern N. 43° E.

Approximate position lat. 26° 06′ N., long. 54° 26′ E.

As it does not appear from Lieutenant Beauchamp's report that any detailed examination was made of the locality where this sounding was obtained, it is possible shoaler water may exist.

All bearings are magnetic. Variation 0° 10′ E. in 1900.

AFRICA, SOUTH-EAST COAST—Delagoa Bay.

Elephant island—Alterations in Gibbon point and beacon, &c.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 350 of 1900) that information, dated 25th April 1900, has been received from Captain W. B. Fisher, H.M.S. Magicienne that the following changes have taken place in the configuration of Elephant island affecting the position of Gibbon point and beacon :—

a. Gibbon point has extended to the westward, and the small white beacon thereon is now situated about 100 yards eastward of the extremity of this extension, or S. 25° E., 2 cables from the observation spot.

Approximate position, lat. 25° 58′ 10″ S., long. 32° 54′ 20″ E.

b. A shoal, with depths of from 2¼ to 3 fathoms over it, extends to the northward from Gibbon point about three-quarters of a mile. Its northern extremity is situated with Gibbon point beacon (new position) bearing S 3° E., distant 8 cables; from discolouration of the water this shoal would now appear to form part of the Cockburn shoal.

Caution.—Considerable changes appear to have taken place in this vicinity; the Chart should therefore be used with caution, and the leading marks into port Melville given in Africa Pilot, part III, page 204, are no longer available. (Notice No. 350 of 1900.)

Rangoon river.—Leading lights.

WITH reference to this Office No. 142, dated 9th ultimo, the following Notice to Mariners (No. 56 of 1900) issued by the Bombay Government is republished.

Information dated 15th June 1900 has been received from the Deputy Conservator of the Port of Rangoon, that two leading lights of a similar character as notified in Bombay Government Notice to Mariners No. 49, dated 30th May 1900, have been exhibited below Syriam Point in Rangoon River.

The above lights are intended as a guide to vessels crossing the Hastings Shoal by night.

From Syriam Point the front light is S. 10° E., distant 6½ cables, and the line of bearing is S. 71° E. and is for all practical purposes the same as No. 2 track.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Rangoon River and Approaches No. 833: Also Bay of Bengal Pilot, 1892, 2nd edition, page 329, and List of Lights, Part VI, 1900, page 60.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA AND ITS SUBURBS FOR THE YEAR 1899.

RESOLUTION—No. 2869J.

POLICE.

Dated Calcutta, the 28th July 1900.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Police Administration of the town of Calcutta and its suburbs for the year 1899.

The Annual Report of the Chief Presidency Magistrate.

The Annual Report of the Presidency Magistrate of the Northern Division.

Read also—

The Reports for the two previous years and the orders of Government recorded thereon.

MR. JAMES held the office of Commissioner of Police during the year; he was on leave for three months from 14th July to 14th October, and Mr. Showers acted for him. The report has been submitted two months late, but no explanation has been given of the delay. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that in future it will be found possible to submit the report, with accurate figures, on the proper date.

2. The following table shows the total number of cognisable and non-cognisable offences reported in the town and suburbs during each of the last five years:—

	1895.	1896.	1897.	1898.	1899.
Town ...	45,291	51,855	52,866	65,058	61,235
Suburbs ...	13,589	15,064	13,761	13,428	14,837
Total ...	58,880	66,919	66,627	78,486	76,072

It was noticed in last year's Resolution that the abnormal rise in the figures for the town in 1898 was entirely due to an enormous increase in the number of applications for summonses under the Municipal Act. During the year under report the number of such applications shows a decrease from 33,105 to 28,946. A very large majority of these, as before, related to failure to take out licenses, and out of 28,374 applications made to the Honorary Presidency Magistrates, no less than 11,091 were struck off before hearing, while the accused were acquitted or discharged in 10,135 cases, and convictions were obtained only in 7,034 cases or 24·4 per cent., of the complaints. These figures show clearly that the improper use of criminal process for realising the dues of the Municipality and the waste of the Court's time which were animadverted on in the Resolution for 1898 continued during the year 1899. The new Calcutta Municipal Bill, however, provides a simpler method of recovering these taxes without the intervention of the courts, and the relief thus afforded will be very welcome.

3. The following table compares the crime reported during the last five years in the town and suburbs together, showing separately cognisable and non-cognisable crime, and distinguishing offences under the Penal Code from offences under miscellaneous laws:—

	1895.	1896.	1897.	1898	1899.
Cognisable—
Penal Code ...	6,836	8,116	9,109	8,786	9,264
Miscellaneous	24,392	26,714	28,019	26,708	25,018
Non-cognisable—
Penal Code ...	6,760	6,608	6,259	5,479	5,705
Miscellaneous	20,892	25,481	23,240	37,513	36,085
Total ...	58,880	66,919	66,627	78,486	76,072

There has been an increase during the year of offences under the Penal Code, though the number of convictions under that Code has decreased. The falling off in the number of offences under Miscellaneous Laws is amply accounted for by the decrease noted above in municipal cases.

4. The statement below shows the cognisable and non-cognisable cases which were sent up by the police or taken up direct by the Magistrates during the last two years, also the number tried and their results, with the division of work between the courts of the Presidency and Suburban Magistrates:—

* By Magistrate. † By High Court. ‡ By Sessions.

The total number of cases tried in the town and suburbs during the year was 43,563, a slight increase on last year, and the percentage of convictions rose from 89·67 to 90·17. The police sent up 28,056 cognisable cases, and obtained convictions in 96·73 per cent. of them. The Magistrates took up 2,391 cognisable cases direct, of which 1,242 came on for trial, and of these 702, or 56·5 per cent., ended in conviction. It would seem that sufficient care is not exercised before the issue of processes. In the Northern Division Court, out of 1,170 cognisable cases, 475 were dismissed before trial, but of the 695 remaining, 301 or nearly half were abandoned; again out of 1,574 non-cognisable cases in the Southern Court 92 were dismissed without trial, but of the remaining 1,482, no less than 901 were abandoned. Almost the whole of the non-cognisable cases before the Bench Court were under the Municipal Act. The number of whippings is small, and only 15 boys were sent to the reformatory schools. As a very large number of juvenile offenders must be brought before the courts in Calcutta every year, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, though no mention is made of it, the provisions of section 562, Criminal Procedure Code, are known and freely employed, and that boys convicted of first offences are not being committed to jail.

5. One hundred and thirty-one cases were declared false, and prosecutions were instituted in 44 instances. Convictions followed in 30 of these cases, but the sentences imposed were in no sense deterrent. Out of 17 persons convicted in the town, one was sentenced to a month's rigorous imprisonment, and the rest to fines averaging Rs. 12 each. Such a result is lamentable: the offence of bringing a false charge is a very serious one, and if it is brought home to the accused, a small fine is an utterly inadequate punishment. Very little use was made of the provisions of section 250, Criminal Procedure Code, which were applied in only four cases during the year.

6. Property stolen and recovered.—The value of property stolen in the town and suburbs was Rs. 2,50,104, of which property to the value of Rs. 1,21,546 or 48·5 per cent. was recovered. The percentage of recoveries was much lower than last year when 61·7 was recovered.

7. Cognisable offences in the town.—The number of cognisable offences in the town fell from 25,796 to 23,947, but the decrease was almost entirely in the offences under the head of special and local laws, while serious offences against person and property, and minor offences against property show an increase. There were 16 cases relating to coinage against 10 last year. Twelve persons were sent up for trial, of whom nine were convicted. There was one case of robbery with murder in which the accused was sentenced to death. There were two other cases of murder; in one the accused committed suicide, and in the other no clue could be obtained. The number of cases of hurt by dangerous weapons increased from 79 to 130, and the figures for grievous hurt and kidnapping also show an increase. Ninety-one true cases of burglary were reported against 85 last year, but detection followed in only 59 cases against 73 last year: most of the cases occurred in kutcha houses. Thefts increased from 1,062 to 1,327, of which 930 cases were detected and ended in the conviction of 857 persons against 855 last year. After a noticeable decrease for two years, the number of cases of criminal breach of trust rose from 153 to 193, of which 79 ended in conviction. There was also a large increase in the number of complaints before a Magistrate under this head, and it would seem that the practice of bringing cases of a civil nature before the Criminal Courts has not been stopped yet. Two hundred and five persons were sent up under Chapter VIII of the Criminal Procedure Code, and 161 were ordered to find security for good behaviour. The numbers are less than last year, but the figures show that the police realise the necessity of keeping a constant watch over the criminal population. Offences under the Police Act, and Miscellaneous Offences, show a total of 11,098 against 12,312 in 1898, while the number of prosecutions under the Shipping Act remained the same. The cases under the Port Act show a substantial increase from 784 to 1,173, while prosecutions for cruelty to animals decreased again from 6,636 to 5,668.

8. Non-cognisable crime in the town.—There were two important cases of forgery. In one the leaders of the gang mentioned in last year's report were again tried for cheating the Accountant-General, and were convicted. In the other case money was drawn from the Administrator-General, by means of forged documents; this case also ended in conviction and has led to the appointment of a commission to enquire into the working of the Administrator-General's Office. The number of bogus firms in existence at the end of the year was 37 against 42 last year: the steady disappearance of these firms is very satisfactory.

9. Cognisable crime in the Suburbs.—In the suburbs, also, there was a slight rise in the number of offences against person and property. There were six cases of coining and three of riot. In two murder cases the accused were both sentenced to death. Grievous hurt cases remained the same, but cases of hurt by a dangerous weapon numbered 36 against 21 in 1898. There were six dacoities, in one of which murder was committed: two cases were sent up for trial, but the accused were acquitted. In the course of the enquiry into these cases a gang of dacoits was arrested with stolen property, and they were convicted at the Alipore Sessions. Another gang of 13 persons was arrested for bad livelihood, and transferred to Hazaribagh, where they were wanted; they were there convicted for dacoity: after these arrests no further cases of dacoity were reported. Burglaries and thefts increased to 84 and 361, respectively. The preventive sections in Chapter VIII of the Criminal Procedure Code were used against 62 persons, of whom 33 were required to furnish security for good behaviour, and six cases were under trial at the close of the year.

10. Non-cognisable crime.—The total number of cases for disposal was 7,520, of which 4,522 were under the Calcutta Municipal Act. Two hundred and fifty-two cases were dismissed before trial, but no less than 3,365 cases were abandoned after process had been issued.

11. Suicides and accidental deaths.—The number of suicides and accidental deaths remain fairly constant, being 99 and 332 against 89 and 329 in 1898. In spite of the increase in the number of prosecutions for rash driving last year, and a further increase this year, the number of fatal carriage accidents rose from 23 to 32. It is complained that the effect of these prosecutions is nullified by the light sentences which are imposed on conviction and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that both Stipendiary and Honorary Magistrates will bear this consideration in mind.

12. Working of the Arms Act.—The number of firearms held in stock by dealers at the beginning of the year was 3,610. Three thousand two hundred and sixty-two weapons were imported during the year, and 1,266 were purchased in India. The total number sold was 3,791 against 5,309 in 1898. There was an increase in the number of rifles and guns imported, but a decrease in the number of revolvers and in the amount of gunpowder. There was only one prosecution under the Act during the year, and it was of no importance.

13. European Vagrancy Act.—Eighty-five vagrants were admitted to the workhouse during the year, of whom 45 were released on obtaining employment. Six persons were deported after entering into agreements under the Act.

14. Fire-Brigade Act.—The services of the Brigade were requisitioned at 27 fires during the year against 40 in 1898: the manual engines at outstations rendered assistance at two fires. Besides these there were 70 other petty fires, entailing an average loss of Rs. 9 each. There was no loss of life, and the estimated total loss of property was Rs. 3,28,820.

15. Strength and discipline of the police force.—The total strength of the force, including the police supplied to the Port Commissioners and other public bodies and private individuals, was 3,002 at the beginning of the year. Thirteen members of the force were punished judicially, and 48 men were dismissed against 16 and 59, respectively, in 1898. Two hundred and thirty-nine men were punished departmentally and 251 were fined: the fines were in most cases imposed for absence without leave.

It was mentioned in last year's Resolution that proposals had been submitted to the Government of India for sanction to a considerable increase to the strength of the force. This sanction was received before the end of the year, and at the close of the year the total actual strength of the force was 3,270. The total sanctioned increase is 282 officers and men, of whom 89 will form a new body of armed police, the necessity for which was explained in last year's Resolution.

16. Old offenders: Anthropometry.—Six hundred and ninety-six released convicts were under surveillance during the year. Previous convictions were proved against 270 offenders whose antecedents were unknown; 235 by finger impressions, and 35 by roll cards. In all 474 offenders were proved to have been previously convicted against 450 last year.

17. Judicial work.—Mr. Pearson was on leave from the 2nd October to the 10th November, and Mr. Bonnaud officiated for him as Chief Presidency Magistrate. The Hon'ble Nawab Bahadur Syud Ameer Hossein, C.I.E., was Magistrate of the Northern Division during the year.

18. Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate.—The total number of cases for disposal during the year was 10,643. In these cases 11,473 persons were concerned, of whom 10,317 were convicted. Five hundred and sixty-eight persons were sentenced to imprisonment, and the sentences exceeded six months in 74 cases. The order of the Court was appealed against in 21 cases; in 20 cases the appeal was dismissed, and in one case the sentence was modified.

19. Court of the Northern Division Magistrate.—Sixteen thousand one hundred and fifty-six cases were instituted during the year, in which 17,801 persons were concerned. Of these, 16,980 were convicted and 768 were discharged. Twenty-nine appeals were preferred to the High Court, of which two were successful. In 25 cases the High Court was moved to set aside the Magistrate's orders, and the rule was made absolute in 11 of these. The record of adjournments is satisfactory: in only one instance was a police case adjourned more than five times.

20. Work of Honorary Magistrates.—One thousand seven hundred and sixty cases were transferred to the Bench of Honorary Magistrates and 2,760 to Honorary Magistrates sitting singly. Altogether 4,542 cases were dealt with by the Honorary Magistrates against 4,677 last year. Of these, 3,191 resulted in conviction and 760 in discharge or acquittal. Nine appeals were preferred against the decisions of the Honorary Magistrates, but in only one was the conviction set aside. The High Court was moved in eight cases to exercise its powers of review, but none of the motions were successful. The number of municipal cases before the Honorary Magistrates was 28,374, of which 11,091 were struck off. The provisions of the new Calcutta Municipal Bill, relating to the recovery of license fees will greatly lighten the clerical work of the Honorary Magistrate's Court, and the extra staff at present sanctioned should be no longer required. The Lieutenant-Governor takes the opportunity of acknowledging the great assistance afforded by the Honorary Presidency Magistrates in disposing of this large amount of work, and his thanks are specially due to those gentlemen who, as Mr. Pearson reports, have frequently attended at very short notice out of their regular turn.

21. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. James for the efficient manner in which he has discharged his responsible duties. The favourable mention made of Mr. Paget, the Deputy Commissioner, and of the other officers named in paragraph 38 of the report has been noted by Government.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, for information and for communication to the Presidency Magistrates.

Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta and the Municipal Department of this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. A. BOURDILLON,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1899.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION.

Calcutta, the 27th July 1900.

RESOLUTION—No 2489S

READ—

Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1899.

Read again—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1898, and the Resolution of Government recorded thereon.

Vital statistics and rainfall.—The number of births registered in the Province during the year 1899 was 3,053,178 and the number of deaths 2,218,243 as compared with 2,543,701 births and 1,888,468 deaths in 1898. The ratio of births per mille, calculated on the census figures of 1891 was 42·96, and that of deaths, 31·21. In 1898 the ratios were 35·79 and 26·57, respectively, and the averages of the five years 1894—98 were 35·63 and 31·99. From the mortality figures, as thus shown, the year would appear to have been slightly more healthy than the average, especially when the unrecorded growth of population since the census is taken into account. The Sanitary Commissioner, it is true, on a comparison with the figures of the last decade, pronounces the year to have been an unhealthy one. But in view of the deficiencies in death registration previous to 1892, which were noted by Major Dyson in his report for 1897, as a reason for taking a quinquennial rather than a decennial average as a standard, the unhealthiness of the year, of which an explanation is sought in a badly-distributed rainfall, is not established on a closer inspection of the figures.

The rainfall for the year in Bengal was 73·88 inches, the normal mean being 63·95. During April, May, June, July, and August there was a considerable excess over the normal rainfall. In September it fell short of, and in October it exceeded, the average; in each case to a fractional degree only. The Sanitary Commissioner considers the rainfall as a whole to have been unseasonable, badly distributed, and prejudicial to health; and ascribes the particular unhealthiness of the last quarter of the year to the absence of floods in September and October. Both cause and effect are shown by the tables of averages to be the normal state of things. The difficulties which attend the discussion of this subject have been noticed by Government in commenting on the reports for the two preceding years; and a complete connection between variations in rainfall and mortality has yet to be demonstrated.

2. Birth rate.—Whatever opinion may be formed as to the general healthiness of the year 1899, there can be no doubt of the altogether satisfactory condition of the people as regards productiveness. The recorded number of births is by far the largest in the sanitary history of the province, being almost 350,000 above the highest number previously on record.

A large advance on the figures of 1898 was to be expected, considering the exceptional healthiness of that year and the check which was put upon its birth-rate by the influence of the preceding scarcity. But so great an excess over the figures for all preceding years is, after making all reasonable allowance for improvement in registration, striking evidence as to the general prosperity of the province and the good physical condition of its inhabitants.

High as is the birth-rate now recorded for Bengal, it is still below that of the Punjab, North-Western Provinces, and Central Provinces. The Sanitary Commissioner attributes this to the salubrious climate and more nutritious dietary of those provinces, assisted, in the case of the Punjab, by the greater proportion of the more productive Musalman population. Interesting data on this point will doubtless be afforded by the results of the forthcoming census.

Turning to the local divisions of the province, the remarkable feature is the advance of the birth rate in the Patna Division in which the highest figure previously recorded has been very largely exceeded. Hitherto it has been considered that the Divisions which may be expected to show the highest birth rate are those of Dacca, Chittagong, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur; the two former on account of their large proportion of Musalman inhabitants, and the two latter on account of the large number of aboriginal tribes which they contain. Both Dacca and Chittagong, however, although each of them shows a considerable increase on their average figures, have, in the year under review, been exceeded by Patna, where neither of these conditions exist. Apart from this, the very large net increase in the population of Chota Nagpur and its almost stationary condition in the Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions, are noteworthy. The following table gives the comparative figures:—

Every district except Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri, and Jessore shows an increase in the birth rate over last year's figures; and all, except Calcutta, are above the previous five yearly average. In Calcutta the sudden drop in 1898, which was noticed in last year's report as being probably due to an exodus of women from fear of plague, has now been almost counterbalanced by a rise from 13·98 to 16·14.

Three districts, Palamau (53·28), Gaya (50 53), and Hazaribagh (50·18) show a birth rate of over 50, and no less than 32 of over 40 per mille.

Among towns the highest birth rates are those of Jamalpur (55·33) and Hajipur (51·75), while the highest birth rate recorded in any rural area is that of Phulbaria in the district of Mymensingh (72·82). No less than 247 out of 560 rural areas returned a birth rate in excess of 45 per mille. This is a very great advance on the figures of the three preceding years, and shows how widely distributed was the increase in the general birth rate for the province.

3. Seasonal incidence of births and deaths.—The question of the seasonal incidence of births attracted the notice of Government last year in discussing the after effects of the famine; and the Sanitary Commissioner now gives, with his remarks, a table showing the average monthly birth and death rate since 1892.

From this it appears that the birth rate rises with remarkable regularity from October, and continues high till March; the six intervening months showing a consistently lower birth rate, and the lowest point being reached in June.

The death rate rises in August and continues high till January; thus confirming the conclusion of the Sanitary Commissioner that the birth rate is governed with considerable regularity and certainty by the annual health conditions of the province. The devitalising period appears to commence with the prevalence of the rainy season in July, one month before its effects are disclosed by an increased death rate, and to conclude with the end of the malarious season in January.

In this connection it may be noted that the birth rate during the last five months of 1898, the rise in which was discussed in last year's Report and Resolution with reference to the after effects of the famine, was very considerably higher than the average of ordinary years, thus indicating not merely a return to normal conditions after famine, but an abnormally healthy period dating from November 1897.

For 1899 the monthly variations are in exact accord with the average.

4. Death statistics.—The figures of mortality present no abnormal features. The death rate, while considerably higher than that recorded for 1898, was lower than that of any of the four years which preceded it. The comparatively very low mortality from cholera both in 1898 and 1899 is a satisfactory feature, and contrary to preconceived ideas as to what may be expected to occur in the period subsequent to a famine.

In towns the death rate was 33·10; that for the previous five years being 33·56. By far the highest mortality occurred in Puri (69·18) owing to a severe cholera epidemic in July.

5. Death rate by age sex and class.—The death rate among males in 1898 was 33·33 and among females 29·10, the total mortality being 1,180,720 and 1,037,523, respectively. The mortality among females is shown as having increased to a considerably greater extent than that among males. This is a clear indication of improvement in registration, the deficiencies of which in this connection were noted in the Resolution recorded by Government last year.

The figures of mortality according to age are noticeable for the very high proportion as shown in the table below of infant mortality. The fact is familiar.

The mortality among Mahomedans is again shown as considerably higher than that among Hindus, and is now explained by the generally inferior physique of the former and their insanitary habits of life. This is in accordance with the conclusion arrived at at the time of the last census, but has so far not been apparent in the average figures given in the Sanitary Report.

6. Principal diseases.—Cholera. The number of deaths recorded from cholera in 1899 was 107,678. This with the exception of the extremely low mortality in 1898 is the lowest on record for the past fourteen years. The disease occurred in epidemic form in Malda, Puri, Bogra, and Cuttack, the most noticeable outbreak being that which occurred at Puri during the Rath Jatra festival in July.

Anti-cholera inoculation was carried on as usual at Purulia, but the number of inoculations performed fell from 10,950 in 1897 and 4,296 in 1898 to 3,388.

7. Small-pox was fortunately considerably below the average, 13,116 deaths occurring from this cause, of which over two-thirds were in Orissa. The backwardness of vaccination in this part of the province, and the correspondingly high death rate from small-pox have been the subject of frequent notice.

8. Fever was responsible in the year under report for 1,607,279 deaths, or nearly 73 per cent. of the total mortality of the province. This figure, although higher than that recorded in the very healthy year of 1898, is lower than in any of the four years which preceded it. The highest death rate from this cause was recorded in the district of Malda (41·68), where fever assumed an epidemic form during October and November. It was also extremely prevalent in Dinajpur, Faridpur, Rajshahi, and in certain rural areas of Murshidabad. Apart from the constant causes of malaria, the mortality, where abnormal, is ascribed by the local medical officers and the Sanitary Commissioner to the absence of inundations late in the year. A proposal is made in one instance that, in order to combat malaria, the marshy rice land, which forms the greater part of the Malda district, should be drained and turned into a wheat-growing tract. Such a suggestion is hardly worthy of inclusion in a report submitted to Government.

The attention of Government was recently drawn to the high mortality from fever in the riparian municipalities on the eastern bank of the Hooghly, and the Sanitary Commissioner was asked to obtain and submit to Government a special report on the subject. The report, which is from the pen of Captain Rogers, I.M.S., is a particularly well-reasoned and valuable document. It is the result of a cautious and exhaustive examination of the extent to which malaria, as indicated by the prevalence of enlargement of the spleen, prevails in different parts of the area in question, and of the different operative causes which accompany the variations thus disclosed. As regards the effect of variations in rainfall on the fever rate, the results are negative. Captain Rogers says—

> The explanation of the seasonal variations in this tract has not yet been fully elucidated by the present enquiry, and is evidently different from that which I found to prevail on laterite soil in a previous one, in which a high and irregularly-distributed rainfall was always accompanied by a high fever rate and vice versâ.

A similar conclusion was arrived at by Government in reviewing the Sanitary Report for 1897.

Water-logging does not appear as a particularly prominent factor in producing malaria, though Captain Rogers is careful to add that the data at present available cannot be taken as in any away excluding it as such. Detailed enquiries to be made during and after the present rainy season may be expected to throw light on this point. But the remarkable feature of the report is the very great effect which the provision of a filtered water supply is shown to have in reducing the fever rate in areas which contain every other known factor, including the anopheles mosquito, productive of a high rate of malaria.

Captain Rogers is decisive in giving the provision of a filtered water-supply the preference over a drainage scheme in towns, though he fully admits the importance of the latter. For rural areas, the most malarious of all, he suggests the provision of tube wells, which are cheap, and when sunk near tanks, yield a good and pure supply of water. How far these conclusions are of general application remains to be seen. As regards the particular area to which they apply they may safely be said to have been demonstrated to a practical certainty. That area, however, does not present sufficient local variations to enable them to be laid down as of universal application under varying conditions of soil and climate, and the Lieutenant-Governor would suggest that similar enquiries, for which the present one should serve as a model may be held in two or three typical and varying localities to be selected by the Sanitary Commissioner. Comparison between the results thus obtained would doubtless afford a basis for very valuable conclusions. Meantime the Lieutenant-Governor would again call the particular attention of all local bodies to the importance, which has so constantly been insisted on by Government of the extension and improvement of their water supply to the fullest extent, of which the means at their disposal admit. The Sanitary Board has been directed to prepare a scheme for supplying the areas included in Captain Rogers' enquiry with filtered water.

9. Dysentery and diarrhœa.—As in the case of other diseases, deaths from these two causes, while larger in number than in 1898, were considerably fewer than in previous recent years. The total mortality was 41,334, and the incidence was most severe in Calcutta (5·06 per mille) and Howrah (4·40).

10. Expenditure on Urban Sanitation.—The following table shows the municipal expenditure on sanitation during the last two years.:—

This expenditure represents 44·75 of the total income of the Bengal Municipalities. It is satisfactory to observe that the large rise in expenditure on conservancy which was noticed last year has been more than maintained during 1899. The reduction under the head "water supply" is accounted for by the decrease in the capital outlay on water works in the larger towns. From the special table appended by the Sanitary Commissioner, it appears that municipal expenditure was devoted rather to maintaining and improving the existing sanitary arrangements than to the initiation of original works. The Sanitary Commissioner regrets this, and expresses an opinion that Municipalities should be bound by rule to spend not less than five per cent. of their income on original sanitary works. The Lieutenant Governor is not prepared to adopt the suggestion, and prefers to leave to local bodies the discretion which they at present possess in the matter. It will rest with the Sanitary Commissioner to bring to notice instances of neglect on the part of any particular bodies to make the best use of the means at its disposal. So far as can be judged from the statement appended to the report, the criticisms of the sanitary authorities have as a rule received due consideration, and have been given effect to in cases where financial considerations have permitted. The Sanitary Commissioner does not in the present report point to any specific instance of their being neglected. Serious delinquencies, however, in this respect, were reported in the course of the year, with regard to the Puri Municipality, and orders were passed by Government on the subject.

The most important sanitary improvement effected during the year was the completion of the new waterworks at Berhampore. They are reported to be entirely successful and much appreciated by the inhabitants.

The excellent sanitary work which has been done in Patna has already been noticed by Government in the Municipal Report for 1898-99. Details are given in a note by the Sanitary Engineer appended to the present report.

11. Precautions against Plague.—Of the four frontier plague camps at Chausa, Mairwa, Chakradharpur and Khurda Road, the last-named was closed in the beginning of May 1899. The occurrence of local outbreaks of small dimensions but of a virulent character in Faridpur, Dacca, Darbhanga, and Saran, in all of which cases it was proved that the infection was carried by fugitives from Calcutta, rendered it necessary to order the medical inspection of passengers leaving Howrah and Sealdah, and to establish observation camps at Pandua, Bogoola, Bongong, Khulna, Morrelganj, Goalundo, Siliguri, Diamond Harbour, Ulubaria, Kolaghat, Chandbali, and Balasore. These arrangements came into force from the beginning of April. Of the above camps, six, namely, Pandua, Bogoola, Bongong, Morrelganj, Diamond Harbour, and Balasore, were closed on the 15th July, owing to the decline of plague in Calcutta.

At the camps, which were in existence at the close of the year, a total of no less than 1,797,350 persons were examined, of whom 15,651 were detained as presenting suspicious symptoms. Twenty-nine deaths occurred among the detenus, of which eight were due to plague.

12. The Sanitary Board held three meetings during the year, and continued as usual to advise Government and local bodies on the important sanitary projects of the year. Of these, the largest was that for the extension of the Darjeeling water supply, a scheme for which, estimated to cost Rs. 1,84,000, has been adopted by the municipality. The preliminary estimates for the Patna water supply remained under consideration throughout the year. Important improvements in the waterworks of Dacca and Bhagalpur were considered, and advice was given on various local drainage projects which were referred to the Board either by Government or the local authorities concerned.

Experiments on the septic tank principle for the disposal of sewage have been carried out during the year, and the results are said to have so far justified every expectation. The report on this important subject is being held over for the present, pending the application of final tests.

13. Inspections.—Major Dyson was on tour for 160 days during the year. Practically the whole of this time was taken up with the organisation and inspection of plague camps. He was only able to inspect 18 municipalities, a very small proportion, which the Lieutenant-Governor hopes will be very largely exceeded in the present year. Arrangements have been made by which the tour programmes of the Sanitary Commissioner and his Deputies shall be prepared in advance and submitted for the approval of Government. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely approves the recommendation of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals that the Sanitary Commissioner, or one of his Deputies, shall always be present during the Rath Jatra festival at Puri, as is the rule in the North-Western Provinces in the case of the principal gathering at Hurdwar. Assistant Surgeon Gopal Chunder Mukerji was in charge of the Western Bengal Circle as Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, and spent 168 days on tour. The remaining two circles, owing to the shorthandedness of the Department and the pressure of plague work, had to be left practically without Deputy Sanitary Commissioners during the year.

14. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Major Dyson for his careful supervision of the sanitary administration of the Province in general, and of the precautionary measures against plague in particular.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE INLAND EMIGRATION REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1899.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

RESOLUTION—No. 2475.

Calcutta, the 31st July 1900.

READ—

The Report of the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, on Inland Emigration for the year 1899.

The total number of emigrants despatched to the labour districts in Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet during the year under review was 33,693, all of whom embarked at Goalundo, with the exception of three, who embarked at Dhubri. The notable reduction shown by the marginally-noted figures for Goalundo (omitting the famine year 1897), in the volume of emigration as compared with previous years, was no doubt due to the agricultural prosperity of the recruiting districts.

1894	...	...	42,519
1895	...	...	75,430
1896	...	...	77,566
1898	...	...	48,429

2. Of the 33,693 emigrants embarked, 26,175 were destined for Assam, 3,034 for Cachar, and 4,484 for Sylhet. There were 80 casualties during the journey as compared with 109 in the previous year, and 33,615 emigrants, including two infants born on the voyage, were disembarked at their places of destination. Only thirty-one of the casualties on the passage were caused by death, as against 53 in 1898. The decrease in mortality, particularly from cholera, which accounted for only 21 deaths, as against 41 in 1898, and so large a figure as 318 in 1897, is a feature of this year's report. Whilst the year was throughout Bengal singularly free from epidemics, yet the great reduction in the number of deaths testifies to the care taken by the Embarkation Agent at Goalundo to prevent over-crowding and defective sanitary arrangements on board the emigrant steamers. With the co-operation which that officer will receive from the Military Assistant Surgeon who has been appointed during 1899 by the Government of Assam to be the Travelling Inspector of Emigrants on the steamer routes to the labour districts, and the due observance of the new rules regarding the transit of emigrants en route to Goalundo, it is hoped that in future years the mortality on that part of the journey will be permanently and substantially lessened.

It is also satisfactory to observe that out of 3,339 batch way-bills, 3,134, or 93·86 per cent., were returned to the Superintendent of Emigration, as compared with 87·52 per cent. in 1898.

3. As in the previous year, coolies were recruited either by (i) Licensed Contractors, (ii) Special Local Agents, (iii) Certificated Garden Sardars, or (iv) as Free Emigrants. There were two contractors with seventeen licensed recruiters working under them during 1899, as compared with three contractors and fourteen recruiters in 1898, twelve special local agents working under section 62 of the Assam Labour and Emigration Act I of 1882, as compared with eleven in 1898, and 108 local agents licensed under section 59 of that Act to supervise the work of the garden sardars as against 144 in 1898. Notwithstanding this noticeable decrease in the latter class of local agents, the number of garden sardars placed under their supervision was 5,325, or 1,136 more than in the previous year, and the average number of sardars under each agent was 49 in 1899 as against 29 in 1898. In the number given for the sardars are included 24 sardarnis, or seven less than in the previous year. If there has been no error in the returns of the local officers, these garden sardars recruited in Bengal, on the average, each 1·15 registered emigrants a year, though apparently a few emigrants who had been registered by special local agents were transmuted by them into garden sardars' recruits before the port of embarkation was reached. Even if every emigrant who left Goalundo had been recruited by this army of 5,325 men, the average obtained by each sardar would have been six only. These figures demonstrate very clearly the great extravagance of the present system by which the tea-gardens obtain their supply of labour, whilst the District Magistrates of the Chota Nagpur Division complain with reason that their districts are overrun by swarms of licensed and unlicensed recruiters, control over whom it is difficult to retain. It is hoped that even if financial pressure does not compel reform, the impending legislation will effect it.

Of the 33,693 emigrants despatched to the labour districts, 14,698, or about 44 per cent., as in the previous year, were recruited under the free emigration system alone, while 18,995 emigrants were registered under Act I of 1882 by the three other systems of recruitment, viz., 2,057 emigrants by the licensed contractors, 4,091 by the special local agents, while the rest, i.e., 12,847, or 67 per cent., as against 20,180, or 70 per cent. in 1898, of the registered coolies were collected by the garden sardars, many of them from outside Bengal.

4. The original number of emigrants of all classes sent from the recruiting districts of this Province for Goalundo and Dhubri was 29,145, or 4,548 less than the number embarked from those places (the remainder consisting of emigrants recruited in other provinces). Of this original number of recruits, 2,258 were registered by the licensed contractors, 5,850 by the special local agents, 6,278 by the garden sardars, and the remainder, 14,759, were free emigrants. The special local agents' and the garden sardars' coolies, who were registered to proceed to Dhubri, were all, save three, taken first to Goalundo, where they were embarked. There is nothing to show that this decay of Dhubri as a port of original embarkation is to be regretted.

Of the 2,258 emigrants recruited by the contractors, 2,153, or 95 per cent., were registered in the 24-Parganas, and the rest in the districts of Burdwan and Balasore. According to the registers, 33 per cent of these emigrants were natives of the 24-Parganas, and most of the others came from Ganjam and Orissa. Of the 5,850 coolies registered by the special local agents, Manbhum contributed 3,966, or 67 per cent., Ranchi contributed 1,683, or 28 per cent., and the rest were recruited from the districts of Midnapore and the Sonthal Parganas. The garden sardars obtained the majority of their emigrants from the Chota Nagpur Division, Ranchi having yielded 47 per cent, Manbhum 24 per cent., and Hazaribagh 16 per cent. The rest of their coolies were registered in the districts of Midnapore, Singhbhum, Sonthal Parganas, Gaya, Monghyr, Shahabad, and Cuttack.

5. Between registration or recruitment and embarkation, out of 555 casualties, chiefly caused by discharges and desertions among all classes of emigrants, there were 16 deaths, 12 from cholera and 4 from other causes, as compared with 19 deaths, 14 from cholera and 5 from other causes, in 1898. These numbers are, like the corresponding ones on the river steamers, singularly low, and whilst due in part to the general healthiness of the year, may be explained to some extent by the improved arrangements for rest, feeding, medical treatment, prevention of overcrowding in depôts and railway trains, and segregation of batches infected with cholera and other communicable diseases, made for emigrants en route to the labour districts, under the orders and rules issued by Government during the years 1898 and 1899.

6. One of the most important questions connected with inland emigration which occupied the attention of Government during the year under review was the amendment of the Assâm Labour and Emigration Act, I of 1882, and the Inland Emigrants' Health Act, I (B.C.) of 1889, with the object of removing defects and abuses connected with emigration. The proposal originated with the Labour Enquiry Commission appointed by the Government of Sir Charles Elliott in 1896. Two Bills, which have since been framed by the Government of India, embodying the suggestions of that Commission and of the Local Governments, came under the consideration of this Government during the year under review. Only one question connected with one of the Bills, viz., the rates of real wages earned by tea-garden coolies, is still under enquiry, and a report on that point will very soon be submitted to the Government of India.

7. An improvement was effected during the year under review in the arrangements for the sleeping accommodation of coolies in depôts and rest-houses. A rule was issued under the Inland Emigration Act, I of 1882, by which the provision of separate sleeping accommodation in depôts and rest-houses for single women, married couples, and single men was made compulsory. Owners and managers of depôts were also made to provide separate latrines and bathing platforms for the sexes.

8. Other questions of sanitary importance relating to the comfort of the emigrants whilst travelling on the railways engaged the attention of Government during the year under review. Enquiries were made whether the arrangements for latrine accommodation for the sexes, the supply of drinking water, and the isolation of patients attacked with cholera could not be improved. It is hoped that the attention drawn to these details will prevent in future any cause for complaint.

9. The duties of Dr. C. Banks, the Superintendent of Emigration, have been arduous, requiring the constant exercise of much tact and patience; and he discharged them in such a way as to effect valuable improvements with singularly little friction. The Lieutenant-Governor cordially acknowledges the value of his services. There is little doubt that the rules for the regulation of emigration traffic are, owing to steady pressure, and the more sympathetic co-operation of the local Magistrates, becoming really effective, with excellent results. At the same time the willing assistance rendered by some of the large firms engaged in the forwarding of emigrants, and especially by Messrs. Logan and Leslie, has greatly contributed to the progress already made, and entitle them to the thanks of the Government.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE FINAL REPORT ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT OF THE TIKARI WARDS AND A FEW GOVERNMENT ESTATES IN THE DISTRICT OF GAYA.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 30th July 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 2730.

READ—

The final report on the survey and settlement of the Tikari Ward's Estate, the Government Estates, and the Belkhara Mahal in the district of Gaya.

Letter No. 1303S, dated 13th July 1899, from the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, and Board's letter No. 1145, dated 13th November 1899, to the Bengal Government, submitting the above report with their respective remarks.

Objections raised against the settlement operations.

THE question of undertaking a survey and record-of-rights of the Tikari Ward's Estate engaged the attention of Government from the time of Sir Rivers Thompson, the late Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal; but the proposal was always strongly opposed by the local officers and the members of the Board of Revenue, in their capacity as the Court of Wards, who held that it was not required for the good of the property, and that the proprietor, if not disqualified, would not have undertaken it. The operations were, however, rendered inevitable by the terms of Government Resolution No. 1470L.R., dated the 12th April 1892, which prohibited the issue of certificates for the realisation of rent and cesses in those wards' estates which had not been surveyed and settled under Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The operations were accordingly initiated by the issue of Government Notification No. 1782L.R., dated the 10th April 1893, under the Bengal Survey Act of 1875, which was subsequently modified by the issue of another notification, No. 1082L.R., dated the 25th February 1895, under section 101(2) (c) of the Bengal Tenancy Act restricting the operations to villages in which the Tikari Raj had a 16-anna interest, or an interest to the extent of 8 annas or more. The survey and settlement of the Government estates were undertaken with a view to remove certain gross irregularities discovered in the proceedings of the previous settlement which had been conducted by the khas-mahal Deputy Collector of Gaya; but, in this instance, the necessary notification was issued under section 101 (2) (d) of the Act. The Belkhara Mahal, in which Government is proprietor of a 6-anna share, and the Tikari Estate the permanent lease-holders of another 6-anna share, was brought under survey and settlement by Government Notification No. 2029L.R., dated the 15th April 1895, issued under section 101 (2) (a) of the Act. These three estates include properties in every part of the district of Gaya, and in their diverse stages of development and physical conditions are adequately representative of the district. Only in the fact that they do not embrace the properties of small proprietors do they fail to afford results of typical value.

System of artificial irrigation.

2. Whatever might be said of its paper and cloth industries and brass ware manufactures of the past, Gaya of the present time, may, for all practical purposes, be regarded as a purely agricultural district, the prosperity of which is dependent on artificial irrigation to an extent unequalled elsewhere in Bengal. The general slope of the country and the nature of the soil render the land very unretentive of moisture, so that the local rainfall plays a comparatively unimportant part in the agricultural industry of the district. The soil of the district is sometimes sand, sometimes clay, and the fertility of the land is dependent, after irrigation, on the preponderance of the latter constituent.

Of the different methods of artificial irrigation adopted in the district, the more important are—

(1) irrigation by canal water;
(2) genrabandi or irrigation of the catchment area by retention of the rain;
(3) irrigation by river water, often retained in tanks;
(4) well irrrigation.

The Sone Canal is the great source of canal irrigation, and its construction has fertilised the western portion of the district. The genrabandi system is better suited to the cultivation of autumn and spring crops than to winter-rice. Well irrigation is resorted to in all parts of the district, but is particularly adapted to the cultivation of poppy and cold-weather crops. The most important of all is the irrigation from river water stored in ahars and conveyed by pains, and the agricultural prosperity of the country depends almost entirely on it. It requires a good deal of outlay both for construction and maintenance, for which the raiyat is as a rule entirely dependent on his landlord. This is the origin of and justification for the well-known bhaoli system of land tenure which is so widely prevalent in Gaya. It is locally recognized that a landlord should spend annually a twelfth of his collections on the upkeep of this irrigation, and generally speaking the expenditure gives a very handsome return.

It is understood from the present report that the irrigation provided in the Government estates in pargana Bhelawar is capable of much improvement, and that the bed of the Morhar River needs clearing. If these matters have not already engaged the attention of the Board, it is desired that this may now be looked to.

3. It appears that about 70 per cent. of the cultivating lands in this district are held on bhaoli rents, which are collected in four different ways, but the two most important are known as kankut and batai. Under the former method the land on which the crop is standing is measured and the outturn estimated; under the latter the harvest is reaped and divided on the threshing floor. Most landlords take 22½ seers per maund of produce, while Government takes 21½ seers and the Tikari Estate 18 seers. Produce rents are not confined to Gaya, and their economic expediency is not a novel subject of discussion. The abstract merits and demerits of the system are well known, but, in the concrete case of this district, the Lieutenant-Governor endorses the following opinion of the Settlement Officer:—

> To sum up the case, then, I think it can be fairly said that any advantages the bhaoli system possesses are due to the agricultural conditions which necessity imposes on this part of the country, and that Dr. Grierson's undue admiration of the system has led him into under-estimating the extent to which the system as a system engenders slovenly cultivation and the vast amount of peculation that actually goes on under the complicated method of rent recovery that it necessitates. It is not necessary to discuss how far the bhaoli system is suited to Gaya. It is a question of necessity, not of suitability. It is my firm belief that without it at least one-fourth of Gaya would go out of cultivation within a few years.

Commutation of bhaoli rent.

4. Proposals for the commutation of the bhaoli into money rent have been made from time to time since the beginning of the operations. As early as July 1893, Sir Antony MacDonnell, who was then Officiating Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, ordered that the conversion of the bhaoli into nakdi rents should be effected on a large scale in the Tikari Ward's Estate for the benefit of its tenantry. The policy was, however, strongly deprecated by the Collector and Commissioner, whereupon Sir Charles Elliott ordered that no steps should be taken in that direction against the will of the tenants. The question was, therefore, finally set at rest, so far as the Tikari Estate was concerned, in which 72·8 per cent. of the net cropped area is still held on bhaoli rent. It was revived in 1896 by Mr. Savage, Collector of Gaya, in connection with the settlement of the Government Estates, on the general ground that the management of estates paying cash rents is more effective, and the opportunities for fraud on the part of the subordinate officials much fewer than in estates paying produce rents. For the purposes of the present settlement the proposals of Mr. Savage were adopted; and the rate for commutation was obtained by dividing the average yearly collection from the bhaoli lands for a period of five consecutive years preceding the settlement operations by the largest bhaoli area cultivated in any year during that period. Applying this rate, the bhaoli rent of 961 holdings in 40 villages was commuted and assessed at Rs. 10,651. The settlement officer has shown good grounds for his opinion that the substitution of cash rents has been steadily progressing since the beginning of the century, and that it is still going on as, for instance, in the Belkhara Mahal, where Mr. Solano, the Manager of the estate, has introduced the system of cash payment in all villages irrigated by the Sone Canal. He has also urged many reasons why the natural process should not be expressly accelerated by outside interference. The Lieutenant-Governor, therefore, thinks that the system should be left alone for the present; and he accepts the opinion expressed by the Board that no further steps should be taken towards commutation in the case of any lands dependent on irrigation works which are not of a permanent nature like the Sone Canal. In the event of a proposal, for which very strong reasons will be necessary, being made to sell or otherwise transfer any of those Government estates in which produce rents have been commuted, the warning given by the Settlement Officer of the dangers to which the raiyats will be exposed, from the absence of any incentive to a purchaser to keep up the irrigation works, must be carefully remembered.

In the Tikari Raj the Manager need not, in the absence of exceptional reasons to the contrary, make any change for the present except in those villages which, being irrigated from the Sone Canal, enjoy a reasonable certainty regarding the future of their water-supply.

Thikadari system.

5. The thikadari system is another important feature of the system of land tenure prevalent in Gaya, and owes its origin to the large number of bhaoli tenures and the constant and detailed supervision on the part of the landlord, which the tenure entails. This he is unable to give himself, and he prefers the certain income from the thikadar to the fluctuating one dependent on the peculations of unchecked servants. The system is not used in the Government Estates; is being gradually abolished in the Tikari Raj Estates; and the lessee of the Belkhara Mahal manages direct. It possesses, therefore, a somewhat academic interest in the Gaya settlement report, and its discussion will be with propriety reserved to the more general aspect it offers in the North Ganges districts.

Survey operations.

6. The operations were commenced first in the Tikari Estate in 1893, thence extended to the Government estates in 1894, and finally to the Belkhara Mahal in 1895. They were practically wound up in all the three areas in the course of 1897, some small amount of report-writing and completion of records remaining to be dealt with in 1898. The following table shows the total area and the number of villages and holdings dealt with in each of the three sets of properties referred to :—

	No. of villages.	Area in sq. miles.	No. of holdings.
Tikari Estate	551	388·74	48,174
Government Estates ...	118	101·99	6,699
Belkhara Mahal	89	91·15	10,945
Total ...	758	581 88	65,818

The survey proceedings were conducted under the supervision, first, of Captain Hodgson and then of Captain Crichton, Mr. Berkeley and Mr. G. T.

Hall being in subordinate charge of the traverse and cadastral sections respectively. The control of the settlement proceedings was, in April 1894, placed in the hands of Mr. P. C. Lyon, in addition to his duties as the Settlement Officer of Muzaffarpur. On his transfer in February 1896, it was entrusted to Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore who held it until the final close of the operations in 1898. Under Mr. Lyon the subordinate charge of the proceedings was in the hands of Mr. C. E. Warburton, formerly of the Bombay Survey Department, but he was replaced in November 1894 by Babu Annada Charan Gupta, who remained in charge until the conclusion of the settlement.

7. The traverse survey was made of the whole area brought under the operations, with the exception of only 24 villages in the Tikari Estate and the villages in the Belkhara Mahal, situated on the west of the river Punpun, which had been previously cadastrally surveyed in connection with the irrigation survey of 1876-77. The cost of the work has not been separately shown, but the distribution of the villages was not conducive to cheapness. The work was also done rapidly in order to provide material for the cadastral parties, which according to the arrangements, followed somewhat too quickly on the traverse parties. The result was that it was done more perfunctorily and less accurately than it otherwise would have been. The cadastral survey did not embrace that portion of the Tikari Raj (comprising 224 villages) which is let in permanent lease, in which the external village boundaries only were mapped; and the existing cadastral survey records of the area west of the Punpun, of which a survey had been made for irrigation purposes, were merely revised.

8. An attempt was made to utilise the local patwaris as survey and khanapuri amins, but, as in North Bihar, it was unsuccessful. Various other difficulties, inseparable from the experimental stage of such an undertaking as the preparation of a record-of-rights, though they delayed work, were successfully overcome. The raiyats were apathetic, and the Manager of the Tikari Raj out of sympathy with the objects of the proceedings; whilst considerable delay was caused by the agents of the lessee of the Belkhara Mahal. Under these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that the degree of success obtained was not unsatisfactory.

Settlement proceedings.

9. The attestation of the records extended over the cold weathers of 1894-95, 1895-96, and 1896-97, the total numbers of tenancies attested being 65,818 contained in 660,026 plots. It was at this stage of the settlement proceedings that entries of rent and the raiyats' status were made in the parcas and khatians. The present report contains very careful definitions of the nature of the various kinds of tenant-right existing in Gaya, which are not the least interesting or valuable portions of the work. The fixing of their exact meaning was naturally only completed at a late stage in the proceedings inasmuch as one of the main objects of the record-of-rights is the ascertainment of the nature of the rights to be recorded, and the previous uncertainty to some extent delayed the work. Of the many grave questions that arose in the course of the proceedings, one of great local importance was the recognition of abwabs, regarding which it was decided that such as were in reality a part of the rent, and admitted to be such by the tenants, should in spite of the name, be recorded as rent. It is perhaps unfortunate that a similar regard to the origin and history of these dues did not determine the decision by the Civil Court of the same question as it arose between the Tikari Raj and its thikadars. Another matter of great general importance is stated in the following extract from the Settlement Officer's report:—

> The main difficulty met with was one involving a legal principle. Occupancy right to the extent of 1,700 bighas had been purchased at auction sale by Mr. Solano. Under section 22, clause (2) of the Tenancy Act, when the occupancy right is land is transferred to a person jointly interested in the land as proprietor or permanent tenure-holder, it shall cease to exist. Accordingly Mr. Solano was not entitled to be entered as occupancy raiyat. But the High Court in the Full Bench Decision Jawadul Haq versus Ram Das Saha, published in page 143, Vol. XXIV of the Indian Law Reports, Calcutta, has held that there is no law that prevents one co-proprietor holding the status of a tenant under other co-proprietors, and that, on the purchase of an occupancy holding by a co-proprietor, the occupancy right but not the holding ceases to exist. Thus the transferee, although a proprietor or a permanent tenure-holder, is entitled to be entered as a tenant for the holding shorn of the right of occupancy, or in other words, he is a non-occupancy raiyat. It is apparently, therefore, within his power to acquire the right of occupancy after twelve years' continuous possession. The question was referred to the Advocate-General His opinion was communicated with Director's letter No. 183T.S., dated the 25th May 1897, and in accordance with it, Mr Solano was recorded as a non-occupancy raiyat, but the length of the period for which he has been holding as such was purposely omitted. In my opinion this, if an accepted principle of tenant law in Bengal, not only will operate very hardly on the actual cultivator of the soil and on the weaker co-proprietors, but is utterly inconsistent with that policy which Government, in legislating on the rights of landlord and tenant, has steadily pursued, at least since 1859, that policy of first seeking out actual facts as evolved by custom, and then of protecting and nuturing the good growth and weeding out the bad. The wholesale purchase of occupancy right by a landlord to the exclusion of cultivators may have the sanction of custom, but it is not the custom found to prevail on the estates of good zamindars, and nothing can be said in its favour. The actual cultivator becomes an under-raiyat, rack-rented and liable to be ejected summarily without notice. The other proprietors, if the purchaser refuses to pay them rent, are without legal remedy; because under section 188, Bengal Tenancy Act, unless all the proprietors join as plaintiffs, no legal action can be taken. The other proprietors, therefore, cannot get a rent fixed in the holding and would have difficulty in recovering any rent that had been fixed. Their only remedy is a partition, and that door has been closed against most proprietors by the new Partition Act.

The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board that this question is of great importance; and the case will be restated for the opinion of the present Advocate-General.

10. The applications for enhancement of rent in the Tikari and Belkhara Estates were few in number, and were based on the ground of cultivation in excess of the nominal area of the holding. In the Government estates the assessment was of more importance. The settlement of these villages was conducted under the provision of section 101 (2) (d), coupled with section 104(2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and the Settlement Officer was bound to fix a fair rent in the case of every tenant. The following general principles were laid down for the assessment of these estates:—

(1) An increase to be taken on excess area at the existing rate of rent of the holding; an allowance of 2 cottahs per bigha to be given to cover differences in the systems of measurement.

(2) A reduction to be given on decreased area, but without any allowance, and only where the existing rent is not so low as to justify the supposition that the area on the rent-roll is fictitious, and that the existing rent cannot have been regulated with reference to it.

(3) In certain estates all rents to be enhanced by two annas in the rupee owing to a rise in prices, unless the Collector agrees to compromise for less.

(4) In certain estates no increase of any kind to be taken.

(5) No alteration of less than two annas to be considered, but all rents to be altered so as to get rid of fractions of annas from the rent-roll.

The results of the proceedings are abstracted by the Settlement Officer as follows:—

The assessment affected 103 villages out of 118 and 3,280 holdings with a total existing rental of Rs. 52,040. Under section 52 the rents of 883 raiyats were enhanced by 2·4 per cent on account of increased area, and under section 52(b) the rents of 729 tenants were reduced by 1·4 per cent. for the reverse reason. As was anticipated by the Collector, therefore, not much benefit to the rent-roll accrued owing to the proceedings under this section; but on account of a rise in prices the rents of 2,382 tenants were enhanced by 7·9 per cent. The total result was that the rent-roll of Rs. 52,040 was raised to Rs. 56,763, or by 9·33 per cent. The rents of only 461 tenants were retained as fair; 3,254 tenants compromised; none contested; 26 only absented themselves and their rents were fixed ex parte.

11. Only in 15 villages were fair rents not settled, and these were situated in the two most unfertile parganas of Jarra and Sherghati. The simultaneous conversion of bhaoli into nakdi rents renders a comparison of the new with the old rents a work of some difficulty, though it is clear that the enhancements have been very low compared with the increased area under cultivation. In the nakdi villages the increase in the cultivated area has been 18 per cent; but it is impossible from the report to determine the increase for the whole of the Government Estates. Similarly, the statements appended to the report do not determine the increase in the rent now payable even for the nakdi villages as a whole, owing to the inclusion of sairats. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the uncertainty on this point is the only blemish in an otherwise admirable report; and until that uncertainty is removed he is not prepared to sanction the assessment proposed. The Board are requested to submit to Government such statements as will make explicit the effect of the proposed assessment on the present demands from the Estates compared with the collections of previous years. In the particular case of the eight villages included in the Nawada group [III (a) of statement D] further local enquiry appears to be needed.

12. The Settlement Officer has discussed the value of the present record-of-rights to the raiyat and to the zamindar. To the former it has given a practically unimpeachable proof of the existence and the incidents of his valuable cash rent land, and it has removed the popular impression that he could not acquire occupancy rights in his bhaoli lands. To the latter it has given that exact knowledge without which it is impossible for a great zamindar to control his servants. How necessary that exact knowledge was may be surmised in part from the fact that the survey proceedings were delayed because it was sometimes very difficult to find out the site of villages belonging to the Tikari Raj, and in other cases villages which were not the property of the Raj were surveyed under the mistaken belief that they formed part of the Estate. To the administration of the district of Gaya, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Director of Land Records, the reports will prove of the greatest value in all its branches.

13. The following table compares the relative agricultural conditions of the three estates:—

Name of estate.	Area in acres.	Percentage of the net cropped area to the total area.	Percentage of the twice cropped area to the net cropped area.	Percentage of area under bhadoi to the net cropped area.	Percentage of the area under aghani to the net cropped area.	Percentage of the area under rabi to the net cropped area.	Percentage of portion irrigated to net cropped area.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Tikari Ward's Estate	218,795	69·6	18·7	4·3	52·8	16·6	44·2
Government Estates	65,273	40·4	19·4	15·0	52·0	52·4	48·5
Belkhara Estate ...	58,388	80·6	32·6	8·2	61·4	63·0	69·2
Total ...	372,456	66·3	21·8	6·1	54·4	61·3	48

The above figures clearly indicate that the Belkhara Mahal is in the best stage of agricultural development, while in the Tikari and Government Estates, there appears to be considerable scope for further improvement.

The irrigation from ahars and channels is 55, 62, and 53 per cent., in the respective estates, that from wells being 12, 14, and 15 per cent. In the Tikari and Belkhara Estates each well has to irrigate over six acres; but in the Government Estates 4 acres only per well is the average. It further appears from the stock statement that there is one plough bullock to every 4·4 acres, and one plough to every 13·4 acres. With regard to the crops grown, the comparative insignificance of the autumn harvest is very noteworthy. The spring crops too consist mainly of khesari and gram, which are sown, the former always, the latter frequently, in the rice fields. The areas under poppy and sugar are much the same, being 2·3 and 2·2 per cent.

Statistics of tenancies and rent.

14. The following table compares the numbers and areas of tenancies of each kind and the rates of cash rent paid by each class of tenants in the three estates:—

Name of the estate.	Zirat (proprietor's private land).		In direct possession of proprietors, maliks, and tenure-holders.		Raiyats at fixed rates.		Settled raiyats.

Belkhara Estate ...	666	2.720 91	816	1,280 46	5 0	4 0	1·5	1 9 0	5 14 0	5 15 0

The rate payable by occupancy raiyats is Rs. 3-8 in Government estates, Rs. 4-6 in Tikari, and Rs. 5-14 in Belkhara. The variation is in proportion to the relative productiveness of the three estates. The rates are high, but (except in the Belkhara Mahal) they are paid on the most fertile lands only, to which the raiyat devotes special attention. The rates paid by non-occupancy raiyats are suggestive of the stage of agricultural development attained in the district. It is to be noted that the average size of the holdings is not the same thing as the average amount of land in the possession of a family.

Cost of the operations.

15. The following table gives the cost of the operations in a convenient form:—

Name of estate	Cost of survey.	Rate per acre	Cost of settlement.	Rate per acre.	Total cost.	Rate.	Deductions.	Net cost.	Net rate per acre.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

Total .	1,57,958	6 9	92,714	4 0	2,50,072	10 9	4,426	2,46,246	10 8

The cost of the operations has been borne by the Raj in the Tikari estates, except as regards the rent-free tenures, the holders of which are paying half. Government has borne the costs in the Government estates. The question as regards the Belkhara Mahals has not yet been decided. It cannot be said that these operations have paid here from a commercial point of view, but until they were carried out, no intelligent management of those estates was possible.

Maintenance of the records.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to be favoured by the Board with their opinion on the question of the maintenance of land records in the three estates, and with definite proposals where the Board considers that such are desirable.

Conclusion

17. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank Captain Crichton, Superintendent of Settlement-Surveys, Bengal, Mr. P. C. Lyon, who held charge as Settlement Officer at the earlier stage of the operations, and Messrs. D. J. Macpherson, C.I.E., and H. Savage, late Collectors of Gaya, who helped in bringing these operations to a successful conclusion. He also notices with pleasure the commendation by the Board of Mr. G. T. Hall, Assistant Superintendent of Survey, on Babu Annada Charan Gupta, the Assistant Settlement Officer, and on other officers who held subordinate charge of the operations. The settlement operations were concluded by Mr. Stevenson-Moore, who has submitted a final report of great interest, and, with the companion report on the condition of the small agriculturists and labourers, of high value. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the opinion of the Director of the Department of Land Records, that these two reports will be landmarks in the history of Gaya.

ORDER.—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette and a copy of it be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces.

WORKING OF THE FIRE BRIGADE IN THE TOWN AND SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA AND IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF HOWRAH FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2507M.—The 25th July 1900.—The following is published for general information.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 8234., dated Calcutta, the 16th July 1900.

From—A. H. JAMES, Esq., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit, in accordance with section 41, Act I of 1893, my Report on the working of the Fire Brigade in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah during the year 1899-1900.

A comparison with the strength of the last year's force will show the addition of one native driver to the Lal Bazar Contingent. Provision was made for this addition in the budget for 1899-1900, and the sanction of Government was obtained (vide Government Order No. 4753M., dated 23rd September 1899). A detailed statement showing the receipts and expenditure of the Fire Brigade will be found as an appendix to this report. The year opened with an actual balance of Rs. 889-13-1. The receipts amounted to Rs. 80,736, including Rs. 7,587-8 which were due in 1898-99, but were actually received during the year under report. The total expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 72,099-8-4, leaving a balance of Rs. 9,526-4-9 at the close of the year.

3. During the year under review, 26 fires occurred, in each of which the value of the property destroyed was Rs. 50 or more. At 23 of these the Brigades were in attendance. Two were extinguished by the residents of the locality with the help of the local police, and one was extinguished by the Port Fire Engine with the assistance of the Calcutta Fire Brigade. Three of these fires occurred outside the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Fire Brigade, but were, however, extinguished by them.

4. In addition to the fires noted in paragraph 3, there were 62 petty fires, 25 in the Town, 31 in the Suburbs and 6 in Howrah. The Brigade attended 7 of these; the rest were extinguished by the residents of the locality. The value of the property destroyed in these fires amounted to Rs. 438-7, making an average loss of Rs. 7-1-1 per fire.

5. The total estimated value of all properties destroyed by fire during the year under review was Rs. 3,97,738-7 (inclusive of Rs. 2,500 destroyed in the three fires which occurred outside the jurisdiction of the Calcutta Fire Brigade) against Rs. 4,49,579, the value of properties destroyed in 1898-99.

6. A girl died from the effects of injuries received at a fire on 3rd March. There was no other loss of life from fire during the year concerned.

7. There were three fires in buildings licensed under Act I of 1893 and Act I of 1894, in which property to the total of Rs 45,180 was destroyed.

8. Four fires during the year 1899-1900 demand special notice—

(a) On 15th January a fire broke out on board S.S. Falkland, which was lying off the Hastings Moorings with a cargo of jute and hides. The fire was a very obstinate one, and was not thoroughly extinguished for a week. Property to the value of Rs. 1,50,000 was destroyed.

(b) On 3rd March a fire broke out in Taltollah Lane. Eighteen tiled huts were demolished by it, and a pucka house was also damaged. A man and a girl received injuries from this fire, and both were taken to the hospital. The man recovered, but the injuries proved fatal to the girl. The fire lasted 4 hours and 15 minutes, during which time Rs. 12,000 worth of property was destroyed.

(c) On 15th May a large five-storied pucka building and a one-storied pucka godown in Canal East Road caught on fire. In the larger building there was some machinery and a large store of wheat and flour. The smaller building contained a store of flour only. The fire lasted 30 hours and 45 minutes, during which time Rs. 1,69,300 worth of damage was done.

(d) On 18th January a fire broke out at the Union Jute Press and demolished a tiled shed about 100 feet by 50 feet. The shed contained bales of jute. The fire was finally extinguished in 7 days 2 hours and 15 minutes. The damage done was valued at Rs. 40,000.

9. During the year under review five prosecutions were instituted under Act IV of 1884, Indian Explosives Act. All the cases resulted in the conviction of the accused, who were accordingly fined.

10. A memorandum of the fires that occurred is attached as a further appendix in addition to the statement showing receipts and expenditure on behalf of the Fire Brigade.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

FOREST DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

The 30th July 1900.—The following rules sanctioned by the Government of Bengal are published for general information.

A. E. WILD,
Conservator of Forests, Bengal.

Rules for the grant of stipends to students of the Imperial Forest School, Dehra Dun.

1. There will be one stipend granted annually.

2. The stipend will not be less than Rs. 35 and not more than Rs. 50 per mensem. The amount granted will depend on the position the candidate holds on passing the Forest School Entrance Examination and the practical training.

3. A selection will be made by the Conservator of Forests from the passed candidates and the stipend given to the candidate who obtained the highest number of marks in the Entrance Examination and who at the same time gave the greatest satisfaction during the three and-a-half months of practical work. Stress will be laid on the physical fitness of the candidate for a Forester's life.

4. Such selected student must, before joining the School, execute the agreement referred to in Rule 12 (ix) of the School Rules, binding himself to serve the Local Government (in the event of his obtaining the Ranger's certificate) for a period of not less than five years, if so required.

5. The stipend may, in case of misconduct or unsatisfactory progress at the School, be reduced or altogether withdrawn at the discretion of the Director of the School.

6. The grant of a stipend will give no claim to an appointment to the service of Government on passing out of the School: such appointment will depend on the existence of a vacancy.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

ESTABLISHMENT.

The 1st August 1900.

No. 158.—Rai Sahib Prosanno Coomar Pal, Honorary Assistant Engineer, is transferred, in the interests of the public service, from the Brahmini-Byturni to the Mahanadi Division.

The 3rd August 1900.

No. 159.—The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order the following re-arrangement of Public Works Circles, with effect from the 1st September 1900, or until further orders :—

Patna Commissionership.

I.—The Bihar Division, which comprises the Local Works in the Patna Commissionership, is abolished.

II.—The Local Works in the districts of Patna, Gaya, and Shahabad are transferred to the Sone Circle. The Superintending Engineer of that Circle will be Inspector of Works of those districts.

III.—A new Circle, to be called the Gandak Circle, is formed with head-quarters at Muzaffarpur. This Circle will, for the present, comprise only the Local Works in the districts of Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, and Darbhanga. Those works will, as a temporary measure, be supervised by an Inspector of Works. From a date, which will be subsequently fixed, the Gandak Public Works Division, which is now part of the Sone Circle, will be transferred to the new Gandak Circle, and a Superintending Engineer will take charge of that Circle. From that date the Sone Circle will, therefore, comprise works lying to the south of the Ganges, and the Gandak Circle those lying to the north of the river in the Patna Commissionership.

Bhagalpur Commissionership.

IV.—A new Circle, to be designated the Bhagalpur Circle, is formed under the charge of an Inspector of Works with head-quarters at Bhagalpur. This Circle will comprise the Local and Provincial Works in the districts of Monghyr, Malda, Sonthal Parganas, as well as the Local Works in the districts of Bhagalpur and Purnea. These works are at present in charge of the Superintending Engineer of the Northern Circle.

Rajshahi Commissionership.

V.—The head-quarters of the Northern Circle will be removed from Bhagalpur to Jalpaiguri or Darjeeling. The Circle will be relieved of the works mentioned in the previous paragraph, but in all other respects will be unaltered.

R. B. BUCKLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ESTABLISHMENT.

The 3rd August 1900.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2645M.—The 6th August 1900.—Whereas a Notification No. 312T.M., dated the 11th May 1900, was published at pages 94 to 96, Part IB of the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th idem, declaring the intention of the Lieutenant-Governor to make certain rules and impose certain conditions, subject to which the Commissioners of the Darjeeling Municipality may allow the owners and occupiers of holdings paying a water rate to lay down communication pipes from the service pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to their premises for domestic purposes, and whereas no objection has been raised to the proposal within one month from the date of the publication of the above notification within the Municipality, it is hereby notified for general information that, in the exercise of the power vested in the Local Government by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, III of 1884, as modified up to 1st November 1896, the Lieutenant-Governor sanctions the following rules and conditions, which will take effect within the said Municipality from the date of this notification:—

1. No connection of houses, holdings or lands with the Municipal water-supply mains or pipes or existing private pipes shall be made without the written permission of the Municipal Commissioners previously obtained.

2. The Municipal Commissioners may allow connections, so long as the supply permits, for domestic purposes only under the following conditions:—

(1) The application to be made on proper form.

(2) The communication pipes to be capable of withstanding a pressure of 400 feet of water, unless otherwise required by the Municipal Engineer.

(3) Every communication pipe to be connected to the Municipal pipe by a ferrule and screw-coupling to be supplied by the Municipal Commissioners at fixed prices, to be paid for by applicant.

(4) No communication pipe to open through a drain so as to interfere with the free action of the drainage.

(5) Every communication pipe shall have a brass stop-cock of the screw-down pattern and the same waterway as the pipe, capable of adjustment to regulate and control the supply. Such cock to be enclosed in a masonry covered box capable of being locked; the keys of both stop-cock and lock shall remain with the Municipal Commissioners.

(6) No connection to be made with the Municipal pipes or existing private pipes, except by the Municipal Engineer or such Inspector or sub-officer as he may authorise in writing.

3. A house connection shall comprise the following parts:—

(a) The brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply pipe.
(b) The galvanized iron communication pipe from the ferrule to the main or meter.
(c) The stop-cock and its surface box.
(e) The galvanized iron service pipes from the stop-cock to the taps.
(f) The taps.

4. All the fittings enumerated in the preceding paragraph shall be stamped duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners and approved by them in meeting. All fittings shall be tested and stamped by an officer of the Corporation before being fixed.

5. Adjustment of discharge of stop-cock.—As far as possible the stop-cock shall be adjusted by the Municipal Engineer, so that the discharge shall be in accordance with the quantity of water allowed for the water-rate paid.

Where meters are provided this will not be necessary.

6. The number of taps in a house or holding shall be fixed according to the annual valuation of the premises as follows:—

Annual valuation of holding.	Number of taps.
Under Rs. 300	1
From over „ 300 to Rs. 800	2
„ „ „ 800 to „ 1,200	3
Above „ 1,200 by special arrangement.

7. If a larger number of taps be required than is allowed under the preceding bye-law, a meter must be provided at the cost of the owner or occupier.

8. The Municipal Commissioners reserve to themselves the right to determine the size of the pipes, ferrules and taps and the number of taps to be allowed and used for houses, holdings and lands.

9. The size of the ferrules to be allowed shall be regulated by the annual value of premises in accordance with the following scale:—

For a house or premises of an annual value.	Diameter of ferrule.
Under Rs. 300	¾"
From over „ 300 to Rs. 800	1"
„ „ „ 800 to „ 1,000	1¼"
„ „ „ 1,000 to „ 1,500 and upwards ...	1½"

subject to any alteration the Commissioners may consider necessary with reference to the time during which water is delivered.

Ferrules, as above, may be attached to the pipes of premises where water has been already laid on at the discretion of the Municipality.

10. The Municipal Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of cutting off connections and closing up pipes where the number of taps is in excess of the allowance noted above. Provided that no connections should be cut off under this rule until three clear days after service of notice on the occupier or on the owner or his local agent, if the house be unoccupied.

11. On receipt of an application for work to be carried out by the Municipal Commissioners, an estimate of the cost of the connections, etc., shall be prepared by the Municipal Engineer and submitted to the applicant, who, if he approves of the estimate, will be required to deposit the cost and the Engineer's fees before the work is undertaken, and accept all the conditions of these rules.

12 It must be distinctly understood that, when the Municipal Commissioners lay the pipes on behalf of owners or of occupiers, such owners or occupiers will be responsible for any damage or repairs to, or stoppage of, the pipes, after the same have been handed over by the Municipal Engineer.

13 No ferrule shall be inserted in the main supply-pipe except in the presence of an officer appointed by the Municipal Commissioners for such purposes

14. The repair, alterations, removal, or extension of all communication pipes and fittings shall be undertaken with the permission of the Commissioners and under the inspection and direction of the officer authorised by them in that behalf, and not otherwise.

15. A special rate shall be fixed and charged by the Municipal Commissioners for water required for manufactories, gardens or other than domestic purposes.

NOTE.—By garden is not meant small patches or a few plants in the garden or in pots, but lawns and flower, vegetable or other gardens requiring considerable supplies.

16. The Municipal Commissioners reserve to themselves the right, in case of necessity, to restrict the hours during which water will be available.

17. When a holding has already a water connection and a stop-cock and the owner or occupier of such holding refuses to deliver up the key of the stop-cock to the Municipal Commissioners, and give free access to the stop-cock, when it is within the premises, to the officer of the Municipality, the Commissioners may cut off the water from the holding by a stop-cock of their own until such time as the owner or occupier pays all expenses incurred by the Municipality.

18. When an existing connection with a holding has no stop-cock attached to it, the owner or occupier of such holding shall provide a stop-cock and necessary fittings, and deliver over the key to the Municipal Commissioners. Should he decline to do this, the Municipal Commissioners may put on a stop-cock and cut off the water from the holding until the owner or occupier refunds the Municipal Commissioners all expenses incurred in affixing the stop-cock.

Advertisement of Sale.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate in the district of Cuttack will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 10th of September 1900, corresponding with 27th Bhadra 1808.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale. The purchaser of the estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to the existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Proceedings of the Bengal Legislative Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, assembled under the provisions of the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892.

THE Council met in the Council Chamber on Saturday, the 21st July, 1900.

Present:

The Hon'ble SIR JOHN WOODBURN, K.C.S.I., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding.
The Hon'ble MR. J. A. BOURDILLON, C.S.I.
The Hon'ble MR. R. B. BUCKLEY.
The Hon'ble MR. F. A. SLACKE.
The Hon'ble MR. E. N. BAKER, C.S.I.
The Hon'ble MR. B. L. GUPTA.
The Hon'ble RAI DURGA GATI BANERJEA, BAHADUR, C.I.E.
The Hon'ble MAULVI SYED MAHOMED.
The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA, BAHADUR, of Nashipur.
The Hon'ble SAHIBZADA MAHOMED BAKHTYAR SHAH, C.I.E.
The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA, M.A., D.L., F.R.A.S., F.R.S.E.
The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN.
The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE.
The Hon'ble MR. H. ELWORTHY.
The Hon'ble MR. G. H. SUTHERLAND.
The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS.

NEW MEMBERS.

The Hon'ble MR. R. B. BUCKLEY, the Hon'ble MR. B. L. GUPTA, the Hon'ble MAULVI SYED MAHOMED, the Hon'ble MR. G. H. SUTHERLAND and the Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS, took their seats in Council.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF JALPAIGURI.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE repeated his question of the 7th April, 1900:—

"Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the proceedings of the Deputy Commissioner of Jalpaiguri, which have been published in the newspapers in connection with the enquiry into certain cases of bad livelihood under section 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code?

"Is it the case that the Deputy Commissioner made over to Mr. Foster, Joint-Magistrate, several cases of bad livelihood, although the latter was not legally empowered by the Government to try these cases, and although there were two Deputy Magistrates at Jalpaiguri, who were empowered to try such cases?

"Is it the case that, having made over these cases to the Joint-Magistrate, the Deputy Commissioner applied to the Government to vest the Joint-Magistrate to try such cases, and although the Government refused to vest the officer with this power, the cases were kept on in the file of the Joint-Magistrate, who passed orders thereon, some of the prisoners being sent to jail on failing to find security; and that, subsequently, when appeals were preferred against the order of the Joint-Magistrate, the Deputy Commissioner rejected the appeals, although he must have known that the orders of the Joint-Magistrate were illegal and passed without jurisdiction?

"Is it the case that, as regards one of the prisoners who was too ill to appear in Court and was detained in hajat, the evidence was taken by the Joint-Magistrate, in his absence, and the order was passed against him in jail; that he appealed to the Deputy Commissioner against this order; that the appeal was rejected and the man died in jail?

"Is it the case that the Judge called for the records in these cases, and that, subsequent thereto, the Deputy Commissioner drew up proceedings under section 124, Criminal Procedure Code, regarding the prisoners as no longer dangerous to the community, and that he released them, although only a short time ago he had rejected the appeals preferred by these prisoners?

"If these proceedings have been brought to the notice of the Government, will the Government be pleased to state what orders, if any, the Government has passed to mark its disapproval of such proceedings?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON, in continuation of his previous answer, replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor has now received and considered the report called for in connection with the questions asked by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee on the 7th April last concerning certain cases at Jalpaiguri. The answer to the first three questions is as follows:—It is true that the Deputy Commissioner of Jalpaiguri made over to the Joint Magistrate certain cases under section 110, Criminal Procedure Code, in ignorance of the fact that he was not empowered to inquire into them. On learning that the Joint Magistrate did not possess these powers, the Deputy Commissioner requested Government to vest him with them, and in the belief that they would be granted, proceedings were continued, and the appeals eventually decided by the Deputy Commissioner, who up to that time was not aware that the necessary powers had been refused. The answer to the fourth question is—Yes. The answer to the fifth question is—No; the facts are not as stated. The Deputy Commissioner, with the object of repairing as soon as possible the irregularities which had been committed, released the prisoners under section 124, Criminal Procedure Code: this was done before the cases had come to the notice of the Sessions Judge. The whole proceedings have since been set aside by the High Court. The Lieutenant-Governor has already disposed of the case, and has passed appropriate orders."

CALCUTTA SMALL CAUSE COURT.

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA asked:—

"Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the amendment made in section 7 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882,* by section 3 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1895†?"

The Hon'ble MR BOURDILLON replied:—

"The Lieutenant Governor is aware of the provisions of section 7 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act as amended."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said:—

"Will the Government be pleased to state:—

(a) how many appointments, temporary or permanent, to a Judgeship in the Calcutta Small Cause Court have been made since the first day of April, 1895, when Act I of 1895 came into force; and

(b) how many of such vacancies have been filled up by the appointment of a Vakil or an Attorney of the Calcutta High Court, and, if no such appointment has been made, the reason therefor?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"(a) Since the 1st April, 1895, ten temporary and two permanent vacancies have occurred among the Judges of the Calcutta Small Cause Court.

"(b) None of these have been given to a Vakil or an Attorney of the High Court for the following reasons:—The temporary vacancies were all filled by promotion of the Judges of the Court, the Registrar acting as Fifth Judge on each occasion. The two permanent vacancies were given to Muhammadan Barristers who were already substantive pro tempore Judges of the Court."

The Hon'ble DR. ASUTOSH MUKHOPADHYAYA said —

"Will the Government be pleased to consider whether a Vakil or an Attorney of the Calcutta High Court may not be appointed to be a Judge of the Calcutta Small Cause Court when a suitable vacancy occurs?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The matter will be duly considered when the time comes."

UNIFORM FORM OF RECEIPTS.

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR, of Nashipur said:—

"In view of the possibility of the commission of fraud for want of a uniform form of receipts for money payable by zamindars on account of

---

*7 Subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, the Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint a person to be Chief Judge, and so many other persons as it thinks fit to be Judges of the Small Cause Court

Provided that not less than one-third of the persons so appointed, including the Chief Judge, shall be advocates of one of the said High Courts.

The Local Government may, by a like notification, suspend and, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, remove any Judge so appointed.

All Barristers who, when this Act comes into force, are, or are acting as Judges of the Small Cause Court shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be advocates of a High Court

†3. (1) For the proviso to the first paragraph of section 7 of the said Act the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"Provided that no person shall be appointed to be a Judge of such Court, or be authorised to exercise the powers of a Judge of such Court, unless he is—

(a) an Advocate of a High Court of Judicature established under the Indian High Courts Act 1861, or

(b) a Vakil or Attorney of any such High Court, or

(c) a Judge of a Court of Civil Judicature of not less than five years' standing and that not less than one-third of the persons so appointed, including the Chief Judge, shall be advocates of one of the said High Courts."

(2) The last paragraph of section 7 of the said Act is hereby repealed

chaukidari chackran lands to the collecting panchayats under Act VI (B C.) of 1870, and of the difficulty of ascertaining the payee by reason of constant changes in their office, will the Government be pleased to prescribe a uniform form for such receipts, and a special form of postal money-order for remitting such money?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor is not satisfied upon the information before him that a special form of receipt is required: still less that a special form of postal money-order is needed. If the Hon'ble Member can produce facts in support of his contention the Lieutenant-Governor will be prepared to consider the matter again."

COLLECTION OF CESSES.

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA, BAHADUR, of Nashipur said:—

"Having in view the inconveniences, hardship and loss entailed upon zamindars or tenure-holders on the collection of cesses from holders of rent-free lands included within their estates, the absence of any speedy means of recovering the same or of recouping payments made to the Collectors in cases where such cesses, notwithstanding such inclusion, are realised directly by them and of the fact that the means at their disposal for recovery are more prompt and easy, will the Government be pleased to issue instructions that such cesses shall in future be realised by the Collectors themselves, instead of through the zamindars or tenure-holders?"

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor. recently received from the British Indian Association a representation on the same lines as the Hon'ble Raja's question. It has been referred to the Board of Revenue for report, and at the instance of the Board, the Association has been asked to furnish Government with some specific instances in which delay and difficulty have been experienced by landholders in obtaining a refund of cesses paid twice over. On receipt of the Board's report the matter will be considered by Government."

RENT MONEY-ORDER FORM.

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA, BAHADUR, of Nashipur said:—

"Having regard to the fact that much inconvenience is often felt for want of a column 'remarks by the payee, if any,' in the tenant's portion of rent money-order form, will the Government be pleased to modify the same accordingly?"

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE replied:—

"The Hon'ble Member is desired to put down in writing, as fully as possible, the nature of the inconvenience suffered and the purposes, giving typical instances for which the proposed column would be used, so that the Post Office and Zamindars' Associations may be consulted."

MID-YEAR SALES OF TENURES.

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA, BAHADUR, of Nashipur said:—

"Having regard to the fact that the dates fixed by Collectors for mid-year sales of tenures under Regulation VIII of 1819 are not in accordance with the provisions of section 8, clause 3, of the said Regulation, and are not uniform in all the districts on account of the intervention of Durga and Lakhi Puja holidays, will the Government be pleased to issue general instructions enjoining on all the District Officers either to fix the 1st of Agrahayn, as provided in the Regulation, as the date of sale, or some other date to be fixed for all the districts upon some uniform calculation?"

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE replied:—

"The report called for from the Board on the question has not been yet received, and until it comes, the Lieutenant-Governor regrets that the question of the Hon'ble Member cannot be answered."

THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY.

The Hon'ble RAJA RANAJIT SINHA BAHADUR, of Nashipur asked:—

"Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the proceedings of a public meeting held at Bhagalpur on the 7th June last regarding the alterations in the timing of the loop line trains published in the Bengalee of 23rd idem? Will the Government be pleased to state what steps it proposes to take to remove the grievances of the public in that respect?"

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN asked:—

"(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the Resolutions adopted at an influential and representative meeting held at Bhagalpur on the 7th June last, in connection with the insufficiency of the present train service and the inconvenient timing of the trains on the loop line of the East Indian Railway?

"(b) Is the Government aware of a memorial being sent to the East Indian Railway authorities on the same subject, by the leading European and native official and non-official residents of the District of Murshidabad?

"(c) Will the Government be pleased to take some effective measures for the redress of the grievances of the people who have to travel by the loop line and save them from the very great inconvenience to which they are subject?"

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLEY replied:—

"This Government is aware that memorials have been sent to the Agent of the East Indian Railway regarding the timing of the trains on the loop line. The memorials were forwarded through the Commissioner, and will, no doubt, receive the careful attention of the Railway officials. The reply will be forwarded by the Commissioner to Government.

"The Government has not received information regarding any memorial sent to the Agent, East Indian Railway, on the same subject from Murshidabad."

JUDICIAL AND EXECUTIVE FUNCTIONS.

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN asked:—

"Has the Government received any despatches from the Government of India regarding the separation of Judicial and Executive functions? If so, will the Government be pleased to state what action, if any, the Government intends to take for bringing about the desired reform?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The Lieutenant-Governor has received a communication from the Government of India on the subject, and it is now under consideration."

THE PROVINCIAL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN asked:—

"Whether it is not the case that under the existing rules, a graduate who is eligible for an examination for an appointment in the Executive Branch of the Provincial Service has, before he can expect to get his name enrolled as an eligible candidate for the Judicial Branch, to wait for the minimum period of five years, viz., two years in taking up his degree of Bachelor of Law, and three years more in practising as a pleader in any District Court to the satisfaction of the District Judge? Is it not the case that on getting his name thus enrolled he has further to wait for at least two years before he can expect, provided he is not barred by age, to get any officiating appointments? Is it not the case that a candidate for the Subordinate Judicial Service has to officiate at times generally for about three years before he is confirmed in his post? Is it not the case that a graduate who enters the Executive Branch of the Provincial Service has eight to ten years' start in the race of official life?

"Whether it is not the case that to remove the block in the Executive Branch of the Provincial Service, the Government has been pleased to re-organise recently its different grades? Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the worse block existing from a longer period in the rank of Munsifs? Is it not the case that the Munsifs who joined the Subordinate Judicial Service in 1879 and 1884 are still in the grades of Rs. 400 and Rs. 300, respectively, while their juniors who entered the Executive Branch in 1880 and 1886 are in receipt of salaries of Rs. 600 and Rs. 500, respectively? Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the names of officers of the two Branches of the Provincial Service appointed between 1879 and 1889 with the salaries which they now draw?

"Whether or not the Government will recognise that the greater block in the ranks of the Munsifs is due (1) to the non-existence of Rs. 500 grade of Munsifs, (2) to the fact that there are larger number of Munsifs in the Rs 400 grade and in each of the lower grades than there are officers in the corresponding grades of Executive Branch, and (3) to the fact that the members of the Executive Branch get special appointments on higher emoluments, and are seconded while on deputation by the junior members in the general code of that Branch, while such special appointments and promotions are unknown in the ranks of Munsifs?

"Is it not a fact that the prospects of the Munsifs are being made darker and darker by repeated extensions of service which are granted to the superannuated members in the higher steps of the ladder? Is it not a fact that several extensions have been granted to the members of the Judicial Branch topping the list, who joined service in July, 1866, and have been in the first grade for nearly a decade and several others in the Subordinate Judge's grades?

"Whether the Government does not apprehend that the recognised efficiency of the Judicial Service is likely to be deteriorated, if the present state of things be allowed to continue any longer? Will the Government be pleased to adopt measures in consultation with the Hon'ble High Court to remedy the evils and remove the grievances and make the prospects of the Munsifs on a par with those of the members of the Executive Branch in the grade of Rs. 500 and downwards and thereby remove all grounds for the impression that the Executive Branch which is under the direct control of the Government is a more favoured service? Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Hon'ble High Court has or has not addressed the Government in connection with the fearful block in the Munsifs' grades, and, if so, with what result?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The Hon'ble Member has ostensibly asked five questions, but they are actually fourteen or fifteen in number. Most of the information asked for is already available in the Bengal Quarterly Civil List, an authoritative publication of Government: moreover in contravention of Rule 9 of the Rules as to the asking of questions in this Council, the questions of the Hon'ble Member are of an argumentative character. For both these reasons it appears to be sufficient to reply that the present position and future prospects of the Provincial Judicial Service are now the subject of correspondence."

TRAFFIC IN GIRLS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked:—

"Has the attention of the Government been called to a statement which has appeared in the newspapers to the effect that an extensive traffic in girls for immoral purposes is being carried on at Bankipore and other important towns in Behar, and that a regular organisation is maintained for the purpose? If so, will the Government be pleased to state what steps it has taken or proposes to take for the suppression of the traffic and the organisation which supports it?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"The attention of the Lieutenant-Governor has been drawn to the subject, but he has no information on the matter. The Commissioner of Patna has been asked to enquire, and to report the facts, so far as they can be ascertained."

POLICE IRREGULARITIES.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked:—

"I have the honour to ask if there is any truth in the statement which has appeared in the newspapers to the effect that some of the police were guilty of looting the property of the villagers, in the village of Baria, on the occasion of the riot there; that the Inspector-General of Police held an investigation in connection with this matter, and that 34 constables have been dismissed? Will the Government be pleased to state why the constables were not prosecuted?"

The Hon'ble MR. BOURDILLON replied:—

"A body of police was posted at the village of Chak Baria after the riot there: certain of them were charged with having misappropriated property left behind them by the villagers who had deserted the village: the Inspector-General of Police made an enquiry, and subsequently dismissed the offenders. This course was adopted, because there was not enough legal evidence against individuals to justify criminal prosecutions."

THE CALCUTTA TRAMWAYS (ELECTRIC TRACTION) BILL, 1900.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER moved for leave to introduce a Bill to give effect to an agreement made on the 9th December, 1899, between the Corporation of Calcutta and the Calcutta Tramways Company, Limited. He said:—

"The Bill is very short and simple. The existing agreement between the Corporation and the Company is embodied in Act I of 1880, as a Schedule, and has therefore the force of law as between the two parties to it. Government has been advised, by the late Advocate-General, on a former occasion, that legislation is necessary if any variation is to be made in the terms of the original agreement. In 1893 the Corporation and the Company desired to make a variation with reference to the payment of track rent, and on that occasion the necessary legislation was undertaken in the form of a Bill which became Bengal Act III of 1894. That measure was in charge of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee.

"On the present occasion, the Corporation and the Company desire to make further variations of their original agreement. The principal alterations which it is sought to introduce are the following:—

'First and foremost, it is proposed to provide for the introduction of electric traction throughout the tramway system in lieu of the present very inefficient system of horse traction. This is to be completely carried out within a period of 3 years.

'Secondly, the terms of purchase provided by the original agreement are to be entirely changed. The old agreement provided that the purchase price should be a sum equal to 140 per cent. on the invested capital of the Company, and was wholly irrespective of profits. Under the new agreement the price is fixed at 25 years' purchase of the average annual net profits.

'Thirdly, it is to be provided that the Company shall be bound to maintain a full and proper daily service of tram cars to the satisfaction of the Corporation. There is no provision to this effect in the original agreement. It was provided for in the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee's Act of 1894; but the term for which it was provided has now expired.'

"These changes represent the principal benefits which the Corporation will receive by the new agreement. In return for them two material concessions are to be made to the Company. The first of these is that the option of purchase, which under the old agreement accrued on the 1st January, 1901, and thenceforward at intervals of 7 years, is to be postponed for 30 years; i.e., it will first accrue on 1st January, 1931, and thenceforward at intervals of 7 years. The second is that, after electric traction has been completely introduced, say about 3 years hence, the track rent provided by the old agreement is to be reduced to Rs. 35,000 per annum. The present track rent is fixed according to an incremental scale. The amount at present payable is Rs. 40,702, and the maximum would be about Rs. 60,000, which would soon be due. The effect of this concession is, therefore, to reduce the track rent ultimately payable by about Rs. 25,000 a year.

"These are all the important variations which it is proposed by the contracting parties to make in the original agreement. There are several other minor changes, but I need not trouble the Council with these.

"The agreement is the outcome of prolonged negotiations, extending over several years. The terms eventually agreed upon were settled by a special Committee of the Corporation consisting of Babu Kally Nath Mitter, Mr. Simmons, Mr. Tremearne, and the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, whose report, dated 22nd July, 1899, was unanimous. Their recommendations were adopted by the Corporation on the 2nd August.

"The agreement itself was drawn up by Messrs. Sanderson and Company, and adopted by the Corporation at their General Meeting on the 6th December, 1899; and was formally executed by both parties three days later.

"In accordance with the precedent of 1893, we are asked to give legal effect to the agreement thus arrived at. The Bill has been prepared in consultation with the learned Advocate-General, who advises us that it is sufficient for its purpose, and I have little doubt that it will commend itself to the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN said:—"I beg to offer a few remarks in connection with this Bill, the object of which is to legalise the agreement of December last between the Calcutta Corporation and the Calcutta Tramways Company. The agreement is in the nature of an indissoluble contract, and no amendment can, I think, be proposed: any amendment, if carried, would perhaps go to negative the Bill, which must be taken in its entirety or rejected.

"It seems to me that there are two practical difficulties which are striking.

"On reading the first clause of the agreement I find that preparatory to the introduction of the system of electric traction 'the Company will in a good and substantial manner alter and reconstruct their several tramways.' Now this would be a new tramway altogether. According to the Calcutta Tramways Act I of 1880: 'A tramway' means 'a tramway constructed under this Act.'

"Then we see that under section 9 'the grantees shall have power from time to time to fix the rate of fares for carrying passengers and goods in the said cars and carriages and may demand and take the same for every passenger travelling upon any of their tramways.'

"It seems to me that if this agreement be legalised by passing this Bill, rules will have to be framed in the shape of legislative enactments authorising the Company to impose rates, because I venture to think that under the Act of 1880 the Company will not be under any obligation to impose the rates contemplated by this agreement.

"It seems to me that the track rent of Rs. 35,000 will have to be paid, but with regard to this there is no instalment, so that the Company will be entitled to pay it after the lapse of a year. According to the former arrangement, I find that the instalments were payable half yearly. I do not see why this departure should be made.

"These are the two practical questions which arise in my mind, and I place them before the Council for consideration."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I wish to make a few observations with regard to this Bill. I agree with the Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill in his observation that the Council will take a serious responsibility upon itself if we modify in any particular this Bill, which is the outcome of mature and deliberate consideration on the part of experts, who gave their time and attention to this important matter. My friend the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen has said that we must accept the Bill in its entirety or reject it. I do not think that any case has been made out to object to the introduction of this Bill, and it seems to me that the future of the Tramway Company to a considerable extent depends upon our acceptance or rejection of the Bill. I certainly think that the Bill should be accepted in its entirety with the exception of any modifications which, considering the legal arguments that have been advanced, the Council may adopt.

"I desire to call attention to one matter which does not in any way militate against the acceptance of this Bill by the Council. In clause 2, we find that the Company will execute and completely finish the work of alteration and reconstruction of such tramways as those specified in the Schedule by the 31st December, 1899 I should like to ask my hon'ble friend, if he is in a position, to give me the information, whether the works contemplated by this clause have been carried out. We are now nearing the end of July, 1900, and this clause contemplates the execution and completion of the work referred to in that clause by the 31st December, 1899. We have had some experience of the Tramway Company, and I am bound to say that the Company have not hitherto shewn any excessive zeal in the performance of the obligations which they have undertaken. It would be a matter of satisfaction to me, and I think it would also be a matter of satisfaction to the Council, to be informed whether the provisions of this clause have been complied with and the work carried out.

"I may be permitted here to make a complaint bearing upon this clause. In the works that have been done by the Tramway Company, it appears to me that they have followed one plan in the repairs of the roads in the Southern Division of the town, and quite another plan in the repairs of the roads in the Northern Division. If you notice the way in which the roads have been repaired, you will find that in the Southern Division stones have been laid down in the entire space between the tram lines, but this has not been done in the Northern Division, with the exception of Chitpore Road. I have made special enquiries, and this is the result of those enquiries. It cannot be said that the traffic in the Northern portion of the town is less than in the Southern Division. If anything, I think it is more voluminous, because the classes who avail themselves of the tramways mostly live in the Northern Division of the town, and I should like to know why the Tramway Company, in dealing with the roads in the Northern portion of the town, departed from the practice followed in the Southern portion. I should also be obliged to my hon'ble friend for the information, if he is in a position to give it, as to whether the provisions of clause 2 have been carried out within the 31st December, 1899.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER in reply said :—"It seems to me that some of the remarks that have been made to-day are rather premature on a motion for leave to introduce a Bill: they would have come more appropriately either on the final discussion or after the Bill had been introduced. However, as I myself set the example by describing the provisions of the Bill somewhat fully, I make no complaint, and will deal with the points which the several speakers have referred to. I will first answer the enquiry of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, who asked whether the works referred to in clause 2 were carried out by the date mentioned in it. If you refer to the schedule to the agreement you will find that there are 15 sections of the tramway, which, under the provisions of clause 2, are required to be reconstructed, and well and truly laid, by the 31st December last. The length of these sections of tramway is, as nearly as I can make out, ten miles, and my information is that all except one-third of a mile, or to be more exact, 1,920 feet, were actually completed by the 31st December last, and the remaining 1,920 feet have long since been finished to the satisfaction of the officers of the Corporation.

"The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen has said quite truly that the agreement itself is not open to discussion. The schedule of the Bill merely embodies the terms of the agreement which has actually been come to between the two contracting parties, and it is not open to the Council or the Government to interfere with this agreement. All that we can do, if we consider it objectionable, is to reject it altogether, and remand it for further negotiation between the two parties: and as the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee has pointed out, it would impose, if we took such a step, a most serious responsibility upon us, and one which we should not, under the circumstances of the case, be justified in taking upon ourselves. The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen has also raised a legal point which is certainly quite new to me. He suggested that the present Act of 1880 would not authorise the Tramway Company to impose rates, and he suggested that for this purpose fresh legislation is necessary. That comes upon me entirely by surprise, and I shall be glad to discuss it between now and next Saturday. I may mention that this Bill has been drawn up in consultation with the Advocate-General, and it was referred again to the Advocate-General in consequence of certain suggestions made by the Secretary of the Council a fortnight ago, and he repeated his opinion that the Bill as it stands is quite sufficient for its purposes. The probability is that the legal difficulty which my hon'ble friend anticipates has no real foundation.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee has referred to the difference between the manner in which the Company have been doing their work in the Northern and Southern portions of the town. This is really a question which it is impossible for the Council to enter into at all. All that our functions are confined to here is to see that the agreement between these two contracting parties is neither unconscionable nor improvident. We occupy the position of a Civil Court. When a contract has been entered into between two parties and one or other of them goes to the Civil Courts for enforcement of the contract, if the Court considers that the agreement is unconscionable or improvident, it has power to modify it or set it aside, but no Court in a case like that will scrutinise too closely the exact agreement that has been made. It assumes that both parties to the agreement knew their own interests, and unless there is something flagrantly unjust, it will not interfere with it. It is not for us to look too exactly or too closely into the terms which have been made between these two very competent contracting parties. They have been engaged for at least four years in these negotiations. One set of terms after another has been drawn up and proposed between the Corporation and the Company, and by a gradual process of elimination the present definite agreement has been arrived at: so that we may rest assured that both parties have done their best to secure their own interests, and it would not be expedient for us to interfere in any agreement they have arrived at."

The Motion was then put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER, also applied to the President to suspend the Rules of Business for the purpose of introducing the Bill. He said:—

"The reason for urgency is that this agreement was entered into between the Calcutta Corporation and the Tramways Company in December last, and the term of three years, which is provided in the agreement for the introduction of electric traction, runs from that date, and it is, therefore, very desirable that legislative sanction should be given to it with the least possible delay."

The Hon'ble The PRESIDENT having declared the Rules suspended—

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council. He said:—

"I beg to introduce the Bill and to move that it be read in Council. After the discussion that has taken place I do not wish to make any further remarks, especially as it is not proposed to proceed with the Bill at this moment. The course we propose to follow, after the motion has been put, is to adjourn the further consideration of the Bill until next Saturday. Then, as the Bill consists only of one single operative section, I shall ask the Council to take it into consideration and pass it without the formality of sending it to a Select Committee."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Bill was read accordingly.

The Council adjourned to Saturday, the 28th instant.

A heavy break, S. S. W. from Liguanea island.

THE President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given notice (No. 5 of 1900) that the Master of the ketch Sea Flower reports having observed a heavy break S.S.W. from Liguanea Island (approximate latitude 35° 13′ S., longitude 135° 30′ E).

There was a heavy ground swell at the time, and the break occurred every five or six minutes.

The danger above referred to is in the track of vessels trading between South Australia and Western Australia, and until a further examination of the locality can be made a careful lookout should be kept by masters of vessels in the vicinity.

Elephant island—Alterations in Gibbon point and beacon, &c.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 350 of 1900) that information, dated 25th April 1900, has been received from Captain W. B. Fisher, H.M.S. Magicienne that the following changes have taken place in the configuration of Elephant island affecting the position of Gibbon point and beacon :—

a. Gibbon point has extended to the westward, and the small white beacon thereon is now situated about 100 yards eastward of the extremity of this extension, or S. 25° E., 2 cables from the observation spot.

Approximate position, lat. 25° 58′ 10″ S., long. 32° 54′ 20″ E.

b. A shoal, with depths of from 2½ to 3 fathoms over it, extends to the northward from Gibbon point about three-quarters of a mile. Its northern extremity is situated with Gibbon point beacon (new position) bearing S 3° E, distant 8 cables; from discolouration of the water this shoal would now appear to form part of the Cockburn shoal.

Caution.—Considerable changes appear to have taken place in this vicinity; the Chart should therefore be used with caution, and the leading marks into port Melville given in Africa Pilot, part III, page 204, are no longer available. (Notice No. 350 of 1900.)

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE CALCUTTA SHIPPING OFFICE AND OF THE SHIPPING OFFICES AT OUTPORTS FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

No. 1500 Marine.

Government of Bengal.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, 7th August 1900.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Letter No. 574B., dated 14th July 1900, from the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, submitting the annual report on the working of the Calcutta Shipping Office and of the Shipping Offices at outports for the year 1899-1900.

THE number of seamen of all nationalities shipped and discharged through the Calcutta office was 30,154 and 26,972, against the figures of 27,024 and

	1899-1900.		1898-1899.
	Shipped.	Discharged.	Shipped.	Discharged.
British	1,596	1,392	1,510	1,301
Europeans—Continental ...	457	395	473	450
Americans, West Indians and Africans	204	143	214	167
Australians	13	16	10	10
Asiatics other than Indians ...	685	675	320	406
Indians, Proper	26,436	23,400	23,946	21,892
Eurasians and Goanese ...	762	951	521	456
South Sea Islanders... ...	1	... ..	. ...	.....
Total ...	30,154	24,972	27,024	24,672

2. The increase is again attributed to the more general employment of Indian seamen. The total number shipped exceeds the number discharged by 3,182, and this is ascribed to the fact of several native crews engaged at Calcutta to join their vessels in the United Kingdom and elsewhere not having as yet returned to India. The engine-room crews of the German steamers trading to Calcutta continue to be Indian seamen.

3. The number of British seamen shipped during the year shows an increase of 56, while compared with the number discharged the excess is 204. This excess, it is explained, was caused by arrivals from outports. Taking the other nationalities, the most noticeable difference is under Eurasians and Goanese. Of the Eurasians 187 were discharged, against 94 re-shipped, the men who did not re ship, 93 in number, having doubtless taken employment on shore. Among the Goanese, the number discharged exceeded that shipped, by 96, the excess returning, it is believed, to their homes.

4. The number of seamen of all nationalities shipped in and discharged from foreign vessels through their Consulates, and not included in the figures given above, are:—

Shipped	28
Discharged	40

5. There were 61 deserters, against 48 during the previous year. This number fluctuates considerably and no very good reason can be assigned. It is believed that the number during the current year consisted of men with small balance of wages due to them, who, being dissatisfied with their ships, and failing to obtain their discharge, elected to desert rather than proceed in their vessels. The rates of seamen's wages remained uniform throughout the year.

6. The receipts of the Calcutta Shipping Office amounted to Rs. 55,829, as compared with Rs. 49,281 during the previous year, or an increase of Rs. 6,548. This increase is, however, to a certain extent nominal, as the accounts for the year take into consideration for the first time the additional fees paid by shipmasters for the convenience of shipping and discharging seamen on board before and after office hours Hitherto these receipts did not pass through the public accounts, but were paid direct to the officer employed on the duty, but under the orders of the Government of India all such fees are credited to Government, and the payment to the officer employed on the work being included under "Expenditure." The receipts from this source amount to Rs. 3,200. Excluding this, the increase during the year is reduced to Rs. 3,318, towards which the shipping and discharging fees contributed Rs. 3,393. There were small increases and decreases under other heads

7. The expenditure during the year amounted to Rs. 25,746, or an increase of Rs. 2,818 in the preceding year. This includes a sum of Rs. 2,960 paid to the Assistant Shipping Master as overtime fees for shipping and discharging seamen on board before and after office hours. Excluding this, the ordinary expenditure of the office shows a reduction of Rs. 142. There is a reduction of Rs. 1,015 under "Establishment," due to the retirement of the Deputy Shipping Master on 16th January last. As his place has been taken by an officer of the Royal Indian Marine, with the title of Assistant Port Officer and Deputy Shipping Master, it does not appear that any part of his salary has been charged to the Shipping Office. This matter will be enquired into separately.

8. The following table shews the receipts of the funds held in trust by the Calcutta Shipping Office on account of both European and Native seamen for the last two years: —

	1899-1900.	1898-99.
	Rs.	Rs.
Ticket money	1,800	1,040
Deposit money of British seamen ...	24,535	26,559
Ditto Native ditto ...	16,340	17,325
Estates of deceased seamen	3,065	3,904

9. There was a small increase of Rs. 760, and this is attributed to an increase in the number of Indian seamen (chiefly curry cooks, stewards and sweepers) shipped on sailing ships, who had allotted part of their wages for the benefit of their families.

10. Under "Deposit money of British seamen" there was a decrease of Rs. 2,024. As steamers make short voyages, the seamen, when discharged or left abroad, have now smaller amounts due to them as wages than was the case with crews of old sailing vessels. Of the total sum received, Rs. 23,690 represents the voluntary deposits of 215 seamen, and the balance was deposited by masters of ships as the wages of seven seamen, who had either refused to sign their accounts or were too ill to receive their money.

11. The decrease of Rs. 985 under the head "Deposit money of native seamen" is the result of the wages of a smaller number of native seamen having been deposited in the Shipping Office. The amount deposited represents the wages of 155 seamen, against 223 seamen in the previous year.

12. Under "Estates of deceased native seamen" there is a decrease of Rs. 859 due to the effects of deceased seamen not having realised the same prices as formerly, owing to the plague scare reducing old clothing to a nominal value.

13. The value of seamen's money-orders fell off from Rs. 12,603 to Rs. 6,012, owing to the seamen now discharged or left behind at Calcutta generally having smaller sums due to them as wages.

14. The number of distressed seamen sent home during the year was 24, against 27 in the previous year. The causes of distress were sickness 19, injuries 3, and want of employment 2.

15. Prominent attention has been drawn to the relief afforded to seamen by the District Charitable Society and the Sailors' Home. The former, it is said, supported 31 seamen for a period aggregating 120 months at a total cost of Rs. 1,680, besides 12 aged seamen, who were unable to work, at a cost of Rs. 2,016 per annum. In the Sailors' Home, in addition to the distressed seamen, whose expenses were paid either by the Board of Trade or from Government Grants, there were 152 destitute seamen who were accommodated at a cost of Rs. 2,109. There were besides 1,154 seamen accommodated on payment, of whom 1,006 found employment. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with pleasure the usefulness of both these institutions, and it is chiefly on this account that he has given them large grants both from Provincial Funds and from the fees realised from vessels for permission to work cargoes on Sundays.

16. There does not appear to be any change in the condition of European seamen. The Society of the Shipmasters' Federation continues its work of inducing good men to join the Mercantile Navy, but the increase in the foreign element in the crews of British ships is noticeable. There appears to be some improvement in the condition of Indian seamen. The men are more careful of their continuous discharge certificates than heretofore, and the serang's power over the lascar is said to be visibly on the wane. The seamanlike qualities of the men have so improved that during the year masters of some sailing ships have taken lascars in place of European able-bodied seamen. No appreciable change is apparent in the condition of the Goanese Christians, who generally form the saloon crews of merchant steamers.

17. Two complaints by seamen were made during the year. In one case some of the lascars of the S.S. Jupiter complained that they had been discharged without their wages. The master on being called on for an explanation reported that the men had deserted: but this appears to have been a misapprehension. The master was accordingly directed to discharge the men and pay them their wages. In the other case the master of the S.S. Florida obtained sanction to discharge his European firemen, but was told that unless the men had sufficient wages due to them for their maintenance and cost of passage back to the United Kingdom, their discharge would not be given. The master apparently gave three of the men extra wages to make up the necessary sum, and then, after their discharge, took some money away from them. His conduct was improper and he was called upon to refund the money he had taken. No case of ill-treatment of seamen were brought to notice.

18. At the port of Chittagong the number of seamen shipped and discharged was 39 and 72, against 42 and 53 in the previous year. The number discharged shows a large increase, and no explanation of this is afforded beyond the statement that 11 were discharged on medical certificate, 23 by mutual consent, and 38 on termination of agreements. It is satisfactory to observe, however, that there were no cases of distressed seamen.

19. The receipt on account of Trust Funds amounted to Rs. 3,892 and consisted of deposits received on account of the balance of wages of 13 British and 36 Indian seamen discharged on account of mutual consent or on termination of agreement and of 6 British seamen discharged under medical certificate. The whole of this was disbursed.

20. None of the seamen discharged elected to remit any part of their wages to the United Kingdom.

21. The Shipping Master visited 52 ships in port to enquire into the health of crews and into accidents and casualties happening on board and for inspection of seamen's provisions, drinking water, medical stores and forecastle accommodation, and no complaints were received.

22. No seamen were either shipped or discharged at False Point. The Shipping Master paid five visits to vessels in port, and found that the provisions, water and medicines supplied to the crew, as well as the forecastle accommodation, were good and ample. No complaints were received.

23. At Balasore no seamen were shipped or discharged, and no irregularity was noticed in the course of enquiries as to health of crews and the provisions and water supplied to them.

24. No transactions under the Merchant Shipping Act are reported to have taken place at Puri.

Singhbhum.—Report not received.

General Summary.—There was general rain in every district during the week, but the amounts in most cases were small, and up to date the amount received in most districts is below the average. More rain is required for the transplantation of the winter rice seedlings in the Burdwan, Patna, and Chota Nagpur Divisions, and in Nadia, Khulna, Dinajpur, the Sonthal Purganas, Cuttack, and Angul. Bankura and South Manbhum are in urgent need of heavy rain The bhadoi crops, jute and sugarcane are generally very promising. Owing to excessive rain in Mymensingh some damage to the early rice has been done, and in Bogra the early rice is likely to suffer from floods. Cattle are generally in good condition except in the flooded tract of Bogra. The price of rice has risen in 17 districts, and fallen in 6.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

☁, dew; o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

FOREST DEPARTMENT, BENGAL

The 30th July 1900.—The following rules sanctioned by the Government of Bengal are published for general information.

A. E. WILD,
Conservator of Forests, Bengal.

Rules for the grant of stipends to students of the Imperial Forest School, Dehra Dun.

1. There will be one stipend granted annually.
2. The stipend will not be less than Rs. 35 and not more than Rs. 50 per mensem. The amount granted will depend on the position the candidate holds on passing the Forest School Entrance Examination and the practical training.
3. A selection will be made by the Conservator of Forests from the passed candidates and the stipend given to the candidate who obtained the highest number of marks in the Entrance Examination and who at the same time gave the greatest satisfaction during the three and-a-half months of practical work. Stress will be laid on the physical fitness of the candidate for a Forester's life.
4. Such selected student must, before joining the School, execute the agreement referred to in Rule 12 (ix) of the School Rules, binding himself to serve the Local Government (in the event of his obtaining the Ranger's certificate) for a period of not less than five years, if so required.
5. The stipend may, in case of misconduct or unsatisfactory progress at the School, be reduced or altogether withdrawn at the discretion of the Director of the School.
6. The grant of a stipend will give no claim to an appointment to the service of Government on passing out of the School: such appointment will depend on the existence of a vacancy.

F. A. SLACKE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Murshidabad will be put up to sale at the Murshidabad Collectorate on Friday, the 21st September 1900, corresponding to 5th Aswin 1307 B S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1st.—The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price, which will be fixed by the Collector at the time of sale The purchasers of these estates will be considered as the proprietors of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to them, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2nd.—The sale to be subject to the existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities

3rd.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4th—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale is to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the reports from 1876:—

Nagasaki harbour—Rocks in approaches.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 417 of 1900) of the existence of the undermentioned rocks in the approaches to Nagasaki harbour:—

1. Okinokarakasasone, a rock with a least depth over it of 4¾ fathoms, is situated with the south-east point of Takabokojima (in line with Io sima lighthouse) bearing No. 87° W., distant nine-tenths of a cable, and the islet off the south-west point of Nezumi sima N. 21° E.

   Approximate position, lat. 32° 43′ 5″ N., long. 129° 49′ 45″ E.
   This rock is 4 to 5 yards in extent and steep to.

2. Osone, a rock with a least depth of 4 fathoms over it, situated with Naginata saki lighthouse bearing S. 76° W., distant 7$\frac{6}{10}$ cables, and east extreme of Nezumi sima N. 18° W. This rock has depths of 4 to 7 fathoms over it, and lies in a S.S.W. and N.N.E. direction.

3. Kawarasone, a rock with a least depth of 6¼ fathoms over it, situated with Chosu se (eastern rock) bearing S. 42° E., distant 2$\frac{7}{10}$ cables, and Uomi yama N. 63° E. This is a pinnacle rock with two heads and is steep to.

4. Okinosone, a rock with a least depth of 8 fathoms over it, situated with Tsuwabara zaki bearing S. 87° W., distant 4¾ cables, and Imori yama S. 10° E.

5. A small pinnacle rock with a depth of half a fathom over it, from which Goroye sima (the correct name of which is Tonosama yama jima) bears N. 59° E., distant half a cable, and Imori yama S. 58° E. There is a depth of 4 fathoms immediately outside this rock.

   The name Goroye sima, shown on the present Chart, should be transferred to the islet situated 1¼ cables to the southward of it.

6. Tono dashi is a small rock with a least depth of 1¼ fathoms over it, situated with Imori yama bearing N. 45° E., distant 2$\frac{7}{10}$ cables, and Kajikake rock beacon N. 67° W. (Notice No. 417 of 1900.)

AUSTRALIA—SOUTH CHANNEL, PORT CURTIS.

New tower and alteration of Gatcombe head lighthouse, and establishment of leading lights.

THE Port Master, Brisbane, has given notice (No. 11 of 1900) that it is intended to erect a new tower at Gatcombe Head about 450 feet North by East of the present tower. The tower will be 38 feet high, circular in shape, and painted white with a red dome. The light will be at an elevation of 122 feet above high water, and will be visible for 13 miles from a ship's deck in clear weather.

The red sector seawards will be discontinued. The light will be white between the bearings S. 29° W. and N. 70° W., also between N. 45° W. and N. 21° E; red between N. 21° E. and N. 43° E.; to the northward of the latter bearing it will be white until obscured by the land, and between the bearings of N. 70° W. and N. 45° W. it will also be obscured.

LEADING LIGHTS, SOUTH CHANNEL.

Near the mouth of the Boyne River two leading lights will be shown, the front light from a skeleton tower 30 feet high, having a total elevation of 66 feet above high water, and the back light from a small square building situated on a hill at the back, at a total elevation of 121 feet above high water. Both structures are painted white, and the distance between them is 5,750 feet. The lights on these structures will be 4th order holophotes, and will be visible 12 and 14½ miles, respectively. These lights, forming the first lead, bear when in line S. 75° W.

The second line of leading lights is placed on the slope of the hill on the west side of Gatcombe Head. The front light is in a small house at an elevation of 32 feet above high water, and the back light on a skeleton tower 30 feet high, the total elevation of the light being 66 feet above high water.

It is anticipated that the lights for the South Channel will be ready for exhibition in August. Instructions for using the lights and further notice will be issued before they are exhibited.

Pipon islands—New lighthouse and removal of Channel Rock lightship.

THE Port Master, Brisbane, has given notice (No 12 of 1900) that it is intended to erect a skeleton iron tower on the South Islet of the Pipon Island Group carrying a lantern with 4th order dioptric light. The tower will be 60 feet high and the focal plain 55 feet above high water. The skeleton structure will be painted red, and the lantern white with a red dome. The light will be visible through an arc of 160 degrees, white between bearings of N. 72° W. (through South) to N. 58° E., red between N. 53° E. and N. 76° E., and white between N. 76° E. and N. 88° E., and will be intensified over an arc of 11 degrees through the Barrow Strait. The light will be visible 13 miles in clear weather.

It is expected that the light will be ready for exhibition about the 15th November 1900, when the lightship will be removed, further notice of which will be given.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE SUGARCANE CROP IN BENGAL, 1900.

THE following is published for general information.

Preliminary Forecast of the Sugarcane crop in Bengal, 1900.

Explanatory.—Previous to 1899 no separate forecasts or final reports on the sugarcane crop of this Province were published, a note on this crop being incorporated in the report on the rabi harvest. With Government order No. 144T.—R., dated the 22nd May 1899, instructions were received for the preparation and publication of separate forecasts and separate final reports regarding the crop. The following preliminary forecast of the area and outturn of the sugarcane crop in Bengal for the year 1900 is accordingly issued for general information.

As it has not yet been possible to obtain reliable estimates of the sugar produced in the different districts from other sources than cane, no statistics regarding the production of this sugar are furnished in this report. Such information as has been received from any district has been noted in the remarks column of the statement appended to this report.

The character of the season.—In January the rainfall was below the average in all Divisions except Bhagalpur, Patna, and Chota Nagpur, where the fall was above the normal, and in the case of the last two Divisions was somewhat excessive for the month. In February there were some scattered showers, and altogether the fall was below the normal for the month in most parts of the Province. In Nadia, Jessore, Khulna, and Dacca the fall was above the average. In March the rainfall was deficient in a much greater degree than in the previous month throughout the Province, excepting at Mymensingh and Balasore, where it considerably exceeded the normal. There were some good showers in April in the Burdwan, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur Divisions, and also in the district of Mymensingh, but in all other districts the fall was more or less below the average, and in some cases nil. In May again the rainfall was considerably in defect, but the fall was general, every district receiving some more or less good showers. There was rain in all parts of the Province in the first and third weeks of June, while during the other two weeks there were light showers in scattered districts. In the beginning of July the rainfall was general but slight all over the Province. Fair rain has fallen since in most districts. On the whole the season has been a comparatively dry one; and although the sugarcane crop has not yet suffered much anywhere for want of moisture, the outturn will greatly depend on the monsoon conditions during the next two months.

Area sown.—The District Officers of Tippera and Chittagong have revised their estimates of normal area since the date of the last final report, and in consequence the provincial total now stands at 894,200 acres as compared with 889,900 acres returned last year. The District Officers of Nadia, Chittagong, Manbhum, and Puri have submitted revised figures as regards the area under sugarcane last year in those districts. In consequence of this, the total area under sugarcane in the Province in 1899 is now reported to have been 872,600 acres instead of 860,200 acres, the figures entered in the final report of the crop last year. In the current year, the total area under this crop is reported to be 861,100 acres. There is thus a decrease of 11,500 acres. There is a decrease of some 14,700 acres in Palamau alone, but the cause of this considerable reduction is not explained by the Deputy Commissioner. It is probably due to the comparatively short rainfall of the past sowing season.

Outturn.—From the statement summarising the district returns which is appended to this forecast, it will be seen that an outturn above the average is expected in only five districts, while in 16 districts the outturn is estimated at the normal. In six districts the estimates vary between 90 and 100 per cent. of a normal crop, and in as many other districts they vary between 80 and 90, while in the remaining 12 districts they fall below 80 per cent. of the normal.

According to the district returns, the outturn of the sugarcane crop this year in Bengal should be estimated at 95 per cent. of a normal crop, against 84 per cent. estimated as the actual outturn in the final report of 1899.

In most of the more important sugarcane districts the outturn has been estimated at the normal or above the normal, and I anticipate that if the remaining monsoon season is not unfavourable, a normal outturn will be obtained in the Province as a whole.

Burdwan ...	Burdwan ...	1,726,080	1,293,800	27,400	27,400	27,400	72	100
	Birbhum ...	1,121,920	900,000	9,000	7,000	6,000	61	75	In Bolpur and Suri sugar is produced from the date-palm and the outturn is estimated at 36,000 and 200 lbs., respectively. The crop is at present promising.	The estimate of the outturn at 75 per cent. would appear to be too low.
	Bankura ...	1,677,440	642,900	15,000	17,500	15,500	88	100	No sugar is manufactured from the date-palm but about 2,000 maunds of gur are produced in the Vishnupur subdivision. The quantity of gur produced in the Sadar subdivision, if any, is insignificant.
	Midnapore ...	3,319,040	2,113,900	20,450	18,700	16,200	92	84	The contraction of the sugarcane area this year at the Sadar is due to want of rain at the time of planting and to high wages prevailing in some localities. In the Contai subdivision, this crop is being gradually given up in favour of date-palms &c.
	Hooghly ...	1,087,360	702,700	14,500	12,800	13,700	79	81	For seasonable rains the outturn is expected to be good.	The outturn of 81 per cent. would appear to be too low an estimate.
Presidency—contd.	24-Parganas ...	3,574,851	1,102,000	4,500	4,000	4,500	107	107	Owing to the favourable rainfall, the outturn is expected to be above the average. Gur is manufactured from palm juice in the Diamond Harbour subdivision. The average yield of gur per tree is estimated to be 30 seers or 60 lbs. a year.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Presidency—concld.	Nadia ...	1,788,160	1,303,680	14,000	14,000	16,600	90	85	The decrease in the area sown this year is due to the unfavourable state of the weather during the sowing season, but there has been seasonable rain subsequently and a better outturn is expected. The amount of sugar produced from other sources (date-palm) is roughly estimated at 2,712,000 lbs.
	Murshidabad	1,373,440	985,500	17,000	17,000	17,000	100	77	The decrease in the estimated outturn is due to deficiency of rain. No sugar is produced in this district either from the date-palm or from any other source.
	Jessore ...	1,872,000	1,142,160	15,000	14,800	15,000	68	85
	Khulna ...	2,103,942	870,000	3,100	3,300	3,100	88	95	The outturn this year is expected to be better than that of the preceding year owing to favourable weather at the planting time. The rough estimate of sugar produced from date-palms may be taken as below — Mds. Sugar .. 18,560 Gur .. 156,800 There are no other sources from which sugar is produced in this district.

Rajshahi ...	Rajshahi ...	1,663,040	1,222,100	18,000	14,500	15,800	100	96	Sugar is not produced from date-palms and other sources in the Sadar and Nacgaon subdivisions. In the Nator subdivision about 900 maunds of sugar are said to be produced from date-palms.
	Dinajpur .	2,536,960	1,491,200	24,000	30,000	30,000	100	112	The late heavy rains are reported to have done much good to the sugarcane, and it is expected that the outturn this year will be about 12 per cent. above the normal. No sugar is manufactured either from sugarcane or the date-palm or any other source.
	Jalpaiguri	1,894,400	1,075,000	3,100	3,300	2,900	80	60	The area sown this year as well as the outturn expected are small owing to want of rain in the sowing season.
	Darjeeling ..	744,960	148,000	400	200	200	100	67	No sugar is produced in this district from any other sources than cane.
	Rangpur ...	2,231,040	1,602,700	24,100	22,500	22,800	97	100	The increase in the area and outturn is due to favourable rainfall.
	Bogra ...	869,760	660,000	12,600	12,000	12,000	90	100	The weather appears to be favourable for the crop. Hence a better outturn is expected.
	Pabna ...	1,176,960	882,500	66,000	52,500	60,000	60	80	No sugar is produced from the date-palm or from any other sources in this district. The floods last year not having been high, some low-lying lands have been brought under sugarcane cultivation in addition to the high lands usually under this crop. This accounts for the increase in area over the last year's figure.
Dacca—concld.	Dacca .	1,760,480	1,213,500	20,000	21,800	20,000	79	100	The season has been favourable for the crop so far. Very little sugar is produced from the date-palm. It is not manufactured from any other source.
	Mymensingh	4,692,480	2,405,700	35,000	33,600	33,600	70	90	An average outturn may be expected, except in Netrokona, where the crop is reported to have suffered from want of rain.
	Faridpur ...	1,450,240	1,007,500	42,000	42,000	42,000	100	100	Sugar is not produced from the date-palm in this district. The quantity of sugar produced from other sources is too small to be reported. The rainfall of the year has been favourable to the crop, so an average outturn is expected.

Approximate area under sugarcane last year (1899), in acres.	Re-estimated area under sugarcane this year (1900), in acres.	Taking 100 to represent the normal outturn, how much will represent the outturn last year (1899)?	Taking 100 to represent the normal outturn, how much will represent this year's outturn (1900)?	Remarks by District Officers.	Remarks by the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
Dacca—concld.	Backergunge	2,336,000	1,466,000	20,000	20,000	20,000	100	100	The crop is thriving well. As previously remarked, the date palms are not grown here in regular orchards. Hence it is impossible to give any figure for the area covered by date-palms. It is also difficult to give any accurate estimate of the number of date-palms in the district. One date-palm tree produces 15 to 20 seers or 30lbs. of gur in a year and one maund of date gur produces 25 or 30 seers, or about 55lbs. of sugar.
Chittagong ...	Tippera	1,694,080	1,171,200	15,000	13,500	15,000	90	97	The area has been revised by special enquiry, so far as it relates to the Brahmanbaria subdivision. The state of the crop up to date is favourable. Sugar is not produced from the date-palm or any other sources.
	Noakhali ...	1,033,600	618,880	900	600	600	70	71	The soil of this district is not suited to the cultivation of sugarcane, and the outturn is therefore much below the average. Sugar is not manufactured in this district. Molasses are prepared to some extent from the date-juice.
	Chittagong ...	1,694,841	806,000	9,300	9,000	9,000	68	68
	Pabna ...	1,963,680	980,400	3,000	3,300	3,300	92	95	Sugar is prepared from sugarcane only. The season has been favourable for sugarcane. In Bihar subdivision, however, some of the plants have been eaten up by white-ants.

Patna ...	Gaya ..	3,015,680	2,207,500	29,000	29,000	29,000	100	100	Sugar is not produced from any other source except from sugarcane in this district.
	Shahabad ..	2,795,500	1,841,800	36,000	36,000	36,000	48	100	The prospects are so far good.
	Saran ...	1,606,027	1,311,160	40,000	42,000	47,000	100	108	The increase in area is due, in the first place, to the rise in the price of raw sugar or gur and, secondly, to the fact that in many places, the rabi was almost entirely ruined by hail in January last, and therefore the cultivation of sugarcane was extended over rabi crop areas.
	Champaran ...	2,259,840	1,364,000	13,000	17,000	13,000	75	100	The normal area is reported to have been sown with sugarcane. In this district sugar is not produced from the date-plam or any other sources than the sugarcane.
	Muzaffarpur ...	1,941,254	1,555,360	8,500	8,500	8,500	96	75	Low outturn due to want of rain in the hot weather. No sugar from any sources other than sugarcane is produced in this district.
	Darbhanga ...	2,134,400	1,520,700	73,900	73,200	73,700	81	100	The approximate average yield of gur per acre is 2,105 lbs.
Bhagalpur ...	Monghyr ...	2,509,440	1,582,880	6,800	6,700	6,400	75	100	Sugar is not produced from any other sources in this district.
	Bhagalpur ..	2,704,640	2,097,000	54,700	54,700	54,700	95	116	The weather has been favourable up to date. No sugar is produced in this district from sources other than cane.
	Purnea ..	3,195,520	1,811,500	9,500	9,500	6,900	81	77	The decrease in the area sown is due to the prevalence of cholera amongst the cultivators, and want of rain in April. Drought is the cause of decrease in outturn. No sugar is produced from date palm, etc., in this district.
	Malda ...	1,216,000	811,500	5,000	4,200	3,000	87	75	The decrease in area and outturn is due to want of sufficient rainfall at the time of planting sugarcane. Besides this, the soil of this district is not suitable for sugarcane. Sugar is not produced either from date-palm or from any other sources but about 2,800 lbs. of gur per acre are produced from sugarcane in this district.
	Santhal Parganas,	3,500,160	1,827,300	16,700	16,700	16,700	105	107	The outturn is expected to be a little better than that of the last year owing to timely rainfall. Sugar is not produced from the date-palm and from other sources in this district.

The Report for 1898-99 and the Resolution of Government recorded thereon.

The year under review was remarkable for the rainfall which is said to have been the heaviest on record since the plantation was started thirty-six years ago. It did considerable damage to the plantation, the loss being estimated at nearly Rs. 6,000, exclusive of the damage done to the roads leading from the plantation to Darjeeling and other places. The continuous wet weather was also unfavourable to the growth of cinchona. The number of trees up-rooted at the plantation for their bark was 195,860 against 169,440 in the previous year, while 223,981 young trees were planted out. The result of the year's operations was that the total number of living cinchona plants at the Government plantations (excluding the nursery stock which amounted to 146,080) at the close of the year was 2,207,366. A portion of the Dumsong Forest block has been converted into a cinchona reserve and a suitable spot has been selected to commence operations. This extension will be distinguished by the title of the Munsong Division of the plantation.

2. The crop of the year amounted to 208,652 lbs. of dry bark, all of which was obtained from the trees up-rooted at the Government plantations. The bulk of the bark was of the quinine-producing sort; and, with the exception of 806lbs. supplied to medical depôts and sold to Government officers and to the public, was as usual made over to the cinchona factory for manufacture into quinine and febrifuge. In addition to this quantity, 153,739lbs. of bark were purchased at a total cost of Rs. 50,000.

3. The outturn of the factory was 8,799lbs. of sulphate of quinine and 4,046lbs. of cinchona febrifuge against 10,335lbs. and 3,921lbs., respectively, in 1898-99. The following statement compares the issues of the year with those of the preceding year:—

The foregoing figures show a diminished demand for quinine on the part of the Medical Depôt at Mian Mir, and from Government Officers and dispensaries, the latter being explained by the absence of demands from Bombay, the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, Burma, and some Native States which now obtain their supplies from the Madras Factory. On the other hand there was a larger demand from the Calcutta Medical Depôt and from the Jail Department for the manufacture of pice-packets. The stock of sulphate of quinine in hand at the close of the year was greater by 1,074lbs. than at the close of the year 1898-99.

4 The following statement compares the receipts from the sale of sulphate of quinine, cinchona febrifuge, cinchona bark, and other products of the plantation during the last two years:—

5. The expenditure on the plantation amounted to Rs. 62,804 against Rs. 58,472 in the previous year, the increase being chiefly due to the sum of Rs. 3,046 spent on the new division at Munsong. The amount spent on account of the factory rose from Rs. 65,467 to Rs. 92,361, the increase being chiefly due to larger purchases of bark.

6. The surplus on the year's working, after providing for the expenditure of Rs. 3,046 on the newly opened extension of the plantation at Munsong, and in spite of the considerably decreased issues of sulphate of quinine during the year, amount to Rs. 4,106.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor again desires to thank Major Prain, and also Mr. R. Pantling, the Deputy Superintendent of the Cinchona Plantations, for their careful management of the plantation and factory during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

WORKING OF THE BENGAL JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT IN THE COSSIPORE-CHITPUR, MANIKTALA, AND GARDEN REACH MUNICIPALITIES.
